Dear God, as this session begins today, we pause in silence to seek your direction, wisdom, and blessings. Thank you for the men and women who are gathered here to serve as our representatives. Bless them for their dedication and sacrifice to the 28 million-plus citizens of this great state. They have been entrusted with the very essential task of making laws for the good of every person who lives, works, or visits Texas. Protect them and their families. Keep danger and harm at bay. Let them work together in harmony and peace, as they are the ones who have been selected to speak for those who cannot speak for themselves. May they set an example for the future representatives who will follow them. Bless them as they consider all the issues on their agenda. I pray that their decisions not be based solely on a person's or group's geography, economic status, education, gender, or race. Help them to work in harmony and respect for each other. Let the result of their service be for the good of all Texas and that our state be greater than it was when they began today. Give them a mind and heart for justice, kindness, and humility. Grant these things in your name and for your glory. Amen.

HB 1936 ON THIRD READING

(by Rose, Zerwas, S. Thompson, Coleman, Longoria, et al.)

HB 1936, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the applicability of the death penalty to a capital offense committed by a person with severe mental illness.

The chair recognized Representative Rose who addressed the house, speaking as follows:

Members, could I please have your attention? I know that we're all trying to talk to members about our legislation and all, but I really want to have a serious conversation with you all today. This bill was passed yesterday, but I did not do my layout. I'm kind of doing it backwards, so I ask you all to just be patient with me. This bill is not about the morality of the death penalty. It does not change the punishment for capital murder in any way. Under this bill, like today, all convicted capital murderers will be punished with the death penalty or life without parole.

There are two reasons why this bill is needed. First of all, members, some of you may not realize it, but mental illness is not a choice. People are born with mental illness. This bill only applies to defendants who have been diagnosed with a severe mental illness of schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, or bipolar disorder. When those defendants are under an active psychosis, that makes them unable to understand or be rational about the offense, so they should not be subjected to the death penalty. Because severely mentally ill people had no choice of becoming ill, their moral culpability is far less than that of a defendant who has no mental impairment and who was aware and intended to commit capital murder. This bill will allow a jury to consider these important facts. Second, members, this bill makes fiscal sense. Under current law, the federal Constitution prohibits execution of defendants who are mentally incompetent because of a severe mental illness, so it makes no sense to sentence a defendant to death who has a severe mental illness that will preclude his execution. Therefore, this bill makes sense because it can save millions of dollars in litigation expenses that are incurred to obtain a death sentence that can be overturned or not carried out. It also makes sense because it gives victims finality instead of false belief that the death penalty will ever be imposed.

I want to make three important points. Again, this bill saves time and money because the death penalty trial and the appeal can cost millions of dollars, and there is no point in that expenditure when a severely mentally ill person will almost certainly be ineligible for execution due to mental incompetence caused by severe mental illness. Second, this is a jury decision to be made during the guilt phase of a trial, and the jury hears all the facts of the offense. For whatever reason, a lot of people feel like these people go unpunished, but no one will be released from prison or escape liability. A defendant who is severely mentally ill will be punished, but they will receive life in prison without the possibility of parole in a mental facility.

One of the things a lot of you may not know is that prior to me running for office, I worked in the psychiatric department at the Dallas County jail. I worked daily with these individuals. It's one thing to see a person psychotic, and then once they come into the jail and you get them stable, you understand that this person is not evil. The person may be dangerous because of their inability to control their mental illness, but it does not make them evil. So all I'm saying in this bill is don't kill a person that's mentally ill. Give them life in prison without parole. And I don't understand that because this body is filled with people who are pro-life. If you're pro-life, be pro-life from the womb to the tomb. Don't just be pro-life when a baby is in the womb. I ask you to please be considerate of this situation. As I've stated, these are persons who are mentally ill and who have no choice in being mentally ill. They are some of my constituents and some of your constituents—these are Texans.

HB 2159 ON THIRD READING
(by Meyer, et al.)

HB 2159, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the correction of an ad valorem tax appraisal roll.

HB 2159 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE RAMOS: I was looking over your bill, and I wanted to understand a little more. Were you aware that in Dallas County, which is a county that you and I share in terms of a representation—your bill talks about disputing appraisal for property, and in Dallas County, while both commercial and residential property owners can appeal property evaluations or file property tax protests, commercial owners account for 83 percent of total revenue losses from the protests to the local municipalities although they only make up 45 percent of the total market value in Dallas County. Were you aware that that was the case?

REPRESENTATIVE MEYER: My bill does not make a distinction between commercial or residential. It'll benefit all property owners.

RAMOS: Were you aware that it disproportionately benefits the commercial property owners?

MEYER: I'm not advised on that, but this is a bill that doesn't make a distinction between commercial or residential.

RAMOS: Now, do you know how much the local municipalities have lost as a result—in lost tax revenues—as a result to appraisals?

MEYER: Well, in what you would coin "lost," I would say correcting an appraisal to make sure that our property owners are actually getting appraised at the correct value. I think all of us in this body would want to make sure that our property owners are not being overly taxed. That is the purpose of this bill.

RAMOS: So it's my understanding you want the correct valuation to be taxed?

MEYER: Yes, ma'am.

RAMOS: Would you be open to an amendment to ensure that we have adequate evaluation based on sales price disclosure?

MEYER: My bill is specifically related to the ability to protest, and I want to keep my bill as is because it's a good bill for our property owners in our districts.

RAMOS: So at this point, with the protest, one would take a protest to the local appraisal board, and with your bill it would allow for more protest. Is that correct?

MEYER: It would allow for protest post-deadline. However, this allows two new tools post-deadline, but it would only allow it if the property value is over-appraised by 35 percent or more, and the property owner would still have to pay a 10 percent penalty if they were to do a post-deadline and pre-default.

RAMOS: Now, with this being the case with the new protest appraisal—opening the door for more and for an individual to go back post-deadline and file that appraisal—is there anything in your bill that would include additional full-time employees there for the different appraisal review boards? Because some appraisal review boards are expressing that they're just understaffed and so there may be errors. Is there anything in your bill that would allow for there to be additional support for these appraisal review boards throughout the state to address these measures correctly?

MEYER: Representative, I have not heard that concern at all. And therefore, since I have not heard that concern from the appraisers, I am not concerned about it, quite frankly. My concern is for the property owners in the State of Texas, and I believe everyone here should have that same concern to make sure their appraisal is correct. As you've heard this session, ma'am, this is a big issue, and my bill addresses that issue.

RAMOS: And with this issue, unfortunately, were you aware that homeowners do not have the luxury or the funds or many times aren't able to hire an attorney to go dispute those appraisals, so they're often unable to make that dispute versus commercial properties being able to? Were you aware there is some disproportionate, I guess, allocation, of resources or ability to really ensure that those appraisals are balanced, as you're saying this bill is supposed to do.

MEYER: That is incorrect. In fact, a property owner may go protest their own appraisers, as I know many in this room have who are not attorneys. I, myself, do it on my own behalf, although I am an attorney, and I have many friends, neighbors, and people in the community who are not lawyers—because you're not required to be one to go protest your taxes. So that's not a concern. Homeowners in the State of Texas need this type of protection.

RAMOS: Representative, are you aware that there are individuals for whom taking a day off of work to go protest their property taxes—sometimes it's easier just to move forward as opposed to taking that economic loss financially in a family household to go protest that. Were you aware that when we do those protests, at the end of the day, it disproportionately falls on the homeowner property tax owner to really fill in the gap where the commercial property owners are now able to circumvent some of their responsibility, and the burden ends up falling on the residential homeowner?

MEYER: Representative, this allows for all property owners to have additional tools to be able to protest their taxes.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Gutierrez offered the following amendment to HB 2159:

Amend HB 2159 on third reading as follows:

(1) Add the following appropriately numbered SECTION to the bill and renumber the SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. (a) Section 1.12(d), Tax Code, is amended to read as follows:

(d) For purposes of this section, the appraisal ratio of a homestead to which Section 23.23 applies or of commercial real property to which Section 23.231 applies is the ratio of the property's market value as determined by the appraisal district or appraisal review board, as applicable, to the market value of the property according to law. The appraisal ratio is not calculated according to the appraised value of the property as limited by Section 23.23 or 23.231.

(b) Subchapter B, Chapter 23, Tax Code, is amended by adding Section 23.231 to read as follows:

Sec. 23.231. LIMITATION ON APPRAISED VALUE OF COMMERCIAL REAL PROPERTY. (a) In this section:

(1) "Commercial real property" means real property zoned or otherwise authorized for and actually used for a purpose other than single-family use, multifamily use, heavy industrial use, or use as a quarry.

(2) "New improvement" means an improvement to commercial real property made after the most recent appraisal of the property that increases the market value of the property and the value of which is not included in the appraised value of the property for the preceding tax year. The term does not include repairs to or ordinary maintenance of an existing structure or the grounds or another feature of the property.

(b) This section does not apply to property appraised under Subchapter C, D, E, F, G, or H.

(c) Notwithstanding the requirements of Section 25.18 and regardless of whether the appraisal office has appraised the property and determined the market value of the property for the tax year, an appraisal office may increase the appraised value of a parcel of commercial real property for a tax year to an amount not to exceed the lesser of:

(1) the market value of the property for the most recent tax year that the market value was determined by the appraisal office; or

(2) the sum of:

(A) 10 percent of the appraised value of the property for the preceding tax year;

(B) the appraised value of the property for the preceding tax year;

and

(C) the market value of all new improvements to the property.

(d) When appraising a parcel of commercial real property, the chief appraiser shall:

(1) appraise the property at its market value; and

(2) include in the appraisal records both the market value of the property and the amount computed under Subsection (c)(2).

(e) The limitation provided by Subsection (c) takes effect as to a parcel of commercial real property on January 1 of the tax year following the first tax year in which the owner owns the property on January 1 and in which the property meets the definition of commercial real property. The limitation expires on January 1 of the tax year following the first tax year in which the owner of the property ceases to own the property or the property no longer meets the definition of commercial real property.

(f) Notwithstanding Subsections (a)(2) and (c) and except as provided by Subdivision (2) of this subsection, an improvement to property that would otherwise constitute a new improvement is not treated as a new improvement if the improvement is a replacement structure for a structure that was rendered unusable by a casualty or by wind or water damage. For purposes of appraising the property under Subsection (c) in the tax year in which the structure would have constituted a new improvement:

(1) the appraised value the property would have had in the preceding tax year if the casualty or damage had not occurred is considered to be the appraised value of the property for that year, regardless of whether that appraised value exceeds the actual appraised value of the property for that year as limited by Subsection (c); and

(2) the replacement structure is considered to be a new improvement only if:

(A) the square footage of the replacement structure exceeds that of the replaced structure as that structure existed before the casualty or damage occurred; or

(B) the exterior of the replacement structure is of higher quality construction and composition than that of the replaced structure.

(g) In this subsection, "disaster recovery program" means a disaster recovery program funded with community development block grant disaster recovery money authorized by federal law. Notwithstanding Subsection (f)(2), and only to the extent necessary to satisfy the requirements of a disaster recovery program, a replacement structure described by that subdivision is not considered to be a new improvement if to satisfy the requirements of the disaster recovery program it was necessary that:

(1) the square footage of the replacement structure exceed that of the replaced structure as that structure existed before the casualty or damage occurred; or

(2) the exterior of the replacement structure be of higher quality construction and composition than that of the replaced structure.

(c) Sections 25.19(b) and (g), Tax Code, are amended to read as follows:

(b) The chief appraiser shall separate real from personal property and include in the notice for each:

(1) a list of the taxing units in which the property is taxable;

(2) the appraised value of the property in the preceding year;

(3) the taxable value of the property in the preceding year for each taxing unit taxing the property;

(4) the appraised value of the property for the current year, the kind and amount of each exemption and partial exemption, if any, approved for the property for the current year and for the preceding year, and, if an exemption or partial exemption that was approved for the preceding year was canceled or reduced for the current year, the amount of the exemption or partial exemption canceled or reduced;

(4-a) a statement of whether the property qualifies for the limitation on appraised value provided by Section 23.231;

(5) if the appraised value is greater than it was in the preceding year, the amount of tax that would be imposed on the property on the basis of the tax rate for the preceding year;

(6) in italic typeface, the following statement: "The Texas Legislature does not set the amount of your local taxes. Your property tax burden is decided by your locally elected officials, and all inquiries concerning your taxes should be directed to those officials";

(7) a detailed explanation of the time and procedure for protesting the value;

(8) the date and place the appraisal review board will begin hearing protests; and

(9) a brief explanation that the governing body of each taxing unit decides whether or not taxes on the property will increase and the appraisal district only determines the value of the property.

(8) the portion of the appraised value of residence homesteads of individuals who receive a tax limitation under Section 11.26, Tax Code, on which school district taxes are not imposed in the year that is the subject of the study, calculated as if the residence homesteads were appraised at the full value required by law;

(9) a portion of the market value of property not otherwise fully taxable by the district at market value because of:

(A) action required by statute or the constitution of this state, other than Section 11.311, Tax Code, that, if the tax rate adopted by the district is applied to it, produces an amount equal to the difference between the tax that the district would have imposed on the property if the property were fully taxable at market value and the tax that the district is actually authorized to impose on the property, if this subsection does not otherwise require that portion to be deducted; or

(B) action taken by the district under Subchapter B or C, Chapter 313, Tax Code, before the expiration of the subchapter;

(10) the market value of all tangible personal property, other than manufactured homes, owned by a family or individual and not held or used for the production of income;

(i) If the comptroller determines in the study that the market value of property in a school district as determined by the appraisal district that appraises property for the school district, less the total of the amounts and values listed in Subsection (d) as determined by that appraisal district, is valid, the comptroller, in determining the taxable value of property in the school district under Subsection (d), shall for purposes of Subsection (d)(13) subtract from the market value as determined by the appraisal district of properties [~~residence homesteads~~] to which Section 23.23 or 23.231, Tax Code, applies the amount by which that amount exceeds the appraised value of those properties as calculated by the appraisal district under Section 23.23 or 23.231, Tax Code, as applicable. If the comptroller determines in the study that the market value of property in a school district as determined by the appraisal district that appraises property for the school district, less the total of the amounts and values listed in Subsection (d) as determined by that appraisal district, is not valid, the comptroller, in determining the taxable value of property in the school district under Subsection (d), shall for purposes of Subsection (d)(13) subtract from the market value as estimated by the comptroller of properties [~~residence homesteads~~] to which Section 23.23 or 23.231, Tax Code, applies the amount by which that amount exceeds the appraised value of those properties as calculated by the appraisal district under Section 23.23 or 23.231, Tax Code, as applicable.

(g) This section applies only to the appraisal of commercial real property for ad valorem tax purposes for a tax year that begins on or after January 1, 2020.

If that amendment is not approved by the voters, this section has no effect.

(2) On page 2, line 6, strike "The change in law made by this Act applies" and substitute "Section 25.25(d), Tax Code, as amended by this Act, applies".

(3) On page 2, line 12, strike "This" and substitute "Except as otherwise provided by this Act, this".

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE GUTIERREZ: This is about tax relief. If you want tax relief for small business, vote on this amendment. It's a 10 percent cap on all commercial properties. This is what we need to do.

Amendment No. 1 - Point of Order

Representative Cain raised a point of order against further consideration of Amendment No. 1 under Rule 11, Section 2, and Rule 11, Section 3, of the House Rules. The point of order was sustained and the speaker submitted the following ruling:

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

on Amendment No. 1 to House Bill 2159

Announced in the House on May 9, 2019

(Goldman in the chair)

Representative Cain raises a point of order against further consideration of the Gutierrez Amendment to HB 2159 under Rule 11, Sections 2 and 3, of the House Rules on the grounds that the amendment is not germane and changes the original purpose of the bill.

The subject of the bill is the correction of an ad valorem tax appraisal roll. The bill is narrow in scope and relates only to the ability of a property owner or chief appraiser to file a motion to change the appraisal roll or correct an error in the appraised property value that has already been determined. The subject of the amendment, as acknowledged by Mr. Gutierrez, is the establishment of appraisal caps on commercial real property. In the opinion of the Chair, the amendment is not on the same subject as the bill.

Accordingly, the point of order is well-taken and sustained.

The ruling precluded further consideration of Amendment No. 1.

HB 3511 ON THIRD READING

(by VanDeaver, Anchia, S. Thompson, Murphy, Lozano, et al.)

HB 3511, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the creation of the Commission on Texas Workforce of the Future.

HB 3511 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE LEACH: Mr. VanDeaver, I want to just clarify some of the conversation we had last night for the purposes of legislative intent if you wouldn't mind.

REPRESENTATIVE VANDEAVER: Sure.

LEACH: Specifically, Mr. VanDeaver, I just want to clarify the purpose of the commission that's being established in your bill, which I intend to vote for. It's a good bill, but I just want to, for legislative intent, clarify the purpose. Specifically, Mr. VanDeaver, would you agree that in the commission that's established in your bill, the main focus of that commission—the stated goals of that commission as outlined in your bill—is that no state agency or commission should be, under this bill, conducting studies that could lead to the government directly or indirectly impeding in a private company's lawful right to utilize non-compete provisions in their private priority contracts subject to existing state law?

VANDEAVER: Absolutely. I would agree with that. This bill really just calls for a study of the needs and challenges of the workforce and really nothing more, nothing less. I also wanted to correct another statement that we made last night. We stated that non-compete provisions caused worker shortages in the oil field, and I've done some research since then and realize that is absolutely not correct. So I also want to correct that as well.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Leach moved to print remarks between Representative VanDeaver and Representative Leach on HB 3511.

The motion prevailed.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Gutierrez offered the following amendment to HB 3511:

Amend HB 3511 on third reading by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTION to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Chapter 122, Human Resources Code, is amended by adding Section 122.0096 to read as follows:

Sec. 122.0096. PROCUREMENT MONITORING. (a) The workforce commission may monitor the procurement practices of a state agency to determine compliance with this chapter. The workforce commission shall notify the state auditor's office if the workforce commission determines:

(1) a state agency procured a product or service from a vendor other than a community rehabilitation program;

(2) a suitable product or service that met the state agency's specifications was available, within the time specified by the agency, from a community rehabilitation program on the date the procurement was made; and

(3) the procurement of the product or service from a community rehabilitation program was not exempted:

(A) under Section 122.016; or

(B) because the product or service failed to meet a specification described by Section 2155.138(a)(3), Government Code.

(b) The workforce commission may request that the state auditor's office conduct an audit of a state agency described by Subsection (a) to determine the agency's compliance with this chapter.

Amendment No. 1 was withdrawn.

HB 297 ON THIRD READING

(by Murr, Burrows, Burns, Darby, et al.)

HB 297, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the elimination of school district maintenance and operations ad valorem taxes and the creation of a joint interim committee on the elimination of those taxes.

HB 297 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE MURR: We didn't have a detailed conversation about this last night, but I can understand that it is an important topic to all districts around the State of Texas. As you well know, each of you receives phone calls from your constituents about their property taxes. Every one of you has to answer those questions and go through the problems of frustration and anger that a constituent has because the State of Texas is not the entity responsible for assessing and collecting those property taxes. Whenever you break those down across the State of Texas, on average, according to the comptroller's office, 54 percent of all the taxes in the state are paid for public education. And if you also look at the Texas Constitution, you will find that the State of Texas is constitutionally obligated to provide a free public education to our young people. This bill invokes a paradigm shift in how we do things. We have relied a great deal upon property taxes at the local level to help fund our schools to the detriment of property owners and confounding a system of "how do we pay for it" and "what do we do." This bill brings forward a new look at things by eliminating school maintenance and operation property taxes in the State of Texas effective January 1, 2022, and in the meantime sets up a mechanism by which policymakers—that is us—look at other ways to raise those funds because our constituents asked that. And I believe there may be some questions.

REPRESENTATIVE C. TURNER: Thank you, Representative Murr, and I appreciate the detailed layout. You're right, we didn't have a chance to discuss this in detail last night, so I'm glad we have that opportunity this afternoon. First question is—and I understand the motivation of what you're trying to do here. Obviously, we're all concerned about property taxes, and I appreciate you mentioning that 54 percent of our property taxes are school district property taxes, right?

MURR: That is correct—on average. In some places, it's up to two-thirds.

C. TURNER: So when we talk a lot about cities and counties and other local taxing jurisdictions, they all together constitute less than half. Is that right?

MURR: Absolutely.

C. TURNER: All right. So this bill has a fiscal note, I believe.

MURR: It does have a fiscal note but not for the next biennium.

C. TURNER: Not for the next biennium, true, because the next biennium is just the commission doing the study, right?

MURR: It is a review of a different source—a way to pay for this. Correct.

C. TURNER: I want to come back to that in a second, but the fiscal note would kick in in the next biennium, right?

MURR: Correct.

C. TURNER: Because that is when, under the bill, the M&O property tax would be abolished?

MURR: That is correct. And then that's on the state to work out a different way in funding a public education.

C. TURNER: Okay, and what is that fiscal note?

MURR: That is part of that process. And so I set forth in it one of the discussion topics that we always have. And in laying out this similar legislation in 2017, I said I individually don't know the best way to pay for public education. But I can tell you that we owe it to our constituents—our property tax payers—to research, identify, and think outside the box on the best way to do that.

C. TURNER: You bet. But my question is what the fiscal note on the bill—what would it be in the next biennium?

MURR: Oh, amount.

C. TURNER: Yes, what's that amount?

MURR: So if I may—if you'll allow me a little leeway—currently on average we have to raise about $27 billion in property taxes in the State of Texas.

C. TURNER: For public schools?

MURR: For public schools.

MURR: And so we would need to come up with a mechanism—

C. TURNER: Is that annually or per biennium?

MURR: Annually. So annually, we need to come up with at least $27 billion. Okay?

C. TURNER: Right, okay.

MURR: So then you're looking at sources of income to replace that. And that's for M&O. We're not talking about I&S—bond indebtedness that's been approved by voters for schools—that's a separate animal and is not intended to be part of this. The other thing that I'll go ahead and emphasize before coming back to the next part of your question is that this bill identifies Tier 2 spending, which we often refer to as an enrichment rate. It remains because the other thing that I want to do in having us consider policy is that we still allow discretionary spending at the local level. Our school board trustees have the opportunity to raise gold pennies and copper pennies, which we've heard about before, and that's up to 17 cents. That remains, and as a discretionary spending, it could be zero or it could be up to 17 cents.

C. TURNER: I think that's an important point, and under HB 3, under Chairman Huberty's leadership, we've preserved the ability of the school districts—or the house has, anyway, in what we passed out of here—to keep that Tier 2 component intact. Is that correct? While buying down Tier 1 four cents, right?

MURR: That is my understanding, yes. And in that same vein—the big driver on this especially—I represent dozens of school districts and about half of them send money to the State of Texas under recapture. And if I may—if you'll indulge me on recapture—in 1993, the State of Texas started the policy of recapture. And at that point in time, we only had 35 school districts paying in about $131 million. You fast-forward and that system has metastasized. We're now expecting $2.7 billion through Robin Hood, and that's almost 20 percent of our school districts. If you look at this bill, this process would essentially abolish Robin Hood as we know it. All Tier 1 Robin Hood recapture funds would go away.

C. TURNER: I understand. So now we've established what the fiscal impact would be when the M&O tax is abolished and what happens when this bill is enacted. In the intervening two years, you're going to have this commission to look at ways to replace the revenue. Right?

MURR: That is correct. Yes.

C. TURNER: Because as you say, it is a state obligation under our Constitution to provide for a free public education for every child in this state.

MURR: Absolutely.

C. TURNER: Okay, we agree on that. So does your bill envision what those revenue sources would be to make up that $58 billion per biennium?

MURR: So I tried to keep the language broad. A lot of times a lot of the discussion is on a broad term of consumption taxes—like sales tax, for example—as one of the primary drivers for that.

C. TURNER: Does it say what the sales tax would have to be? If we were to use the sales tax to replace M&O property taxes, what that sales tax rate would be?

MURR: Mr. Turner, if we were to do that today and we keep all things the same and unchanged—so we don't change the exemptions, we don't expand what sales tax applies to—then it would probably go from an interest rate of six and a quarter to 12. And then if you add the local option election, it would be eight and a quarter, and that would take you to 14. And from the get-go, from the moment of drafting and filing this legislation, I said that is not reasonable. But we as policymakers have to put our collective minds together to figure out what may be a better direction.

C. TURNER: So given that we probably—I would think the body, the next legislature, whoever's here—wouldn't want to have a 14 percent sales tax. At least I hope not. I assume the commission is going to look at other revenue sources then, is that right? Is anything off the table? That's my question. Does anything in the bill say you can look at new revenue sources but you can't look at, say, the franchise tax, or you can't look at severance tax, or you can't look at other revenue sources? Is there anything in it?

MURR: No, there's nothing in the language that negatively says it can't be reviewed. And on topic of talking about the sales tax, I want to go back and point out one thing that often comes to mind. The State of Texas, according to the comptroller, in fiscal year 2018, assessed and collected $46 billion in sales tax, but at the same time, sales tax exemptions—just current exemptions—totaled $43 billion. And we're only talking about trying to find $27 billion. Now, I don't advocate eliminating exemptions for basic items that we all take for granted like bread and eggs and milk or some of the agriculture exemptions that we have in place. But I do think that we as policymakers owe it to our constituents to look at that. We follow the sunset process, and we ought to review that on a regular basis as well.

C. TURNER: I'm glad you said that. I actually filed a bill this session to implement a sunset-style review of the Tax Code to look at exemptions, to look at tax credits, to look at loopholes, frankly—special interest tax breaks for lack of a better term—some of which have been on the books for decades. And while we systematically review our state agencies to see if they're efficient and still needed, which is a great process, we don't have a similar process for the Tax Code and the literally hundreds of different carve-outs that have been created over the years. So your commission would enable us to be able to look at those things?

MURR: That is the intent and to make a report for which the 87th Legislature could then take action.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative C. Turner moved to print all remarks on HB 297.

The motion prevailed.

Amendment No. 1

Representatives Martinez Fischer, Huberty, and Bernal offered the following amendment to HB 297:

Amend HB 297 (second reading engrossment) on third reading on page 1 by striking lines 10 through 12 and substituting the following:

TAX. (a) Notwithstanding any other law and except as provided by Subsection (b), beginning January 1, 2022:

(1) a school district may not impose a tax for maintenance and operations purposes; and

(2) each school district is entitled to funding under Chapters 42 and 46, Education Code, for each school year as if the district had:

(A) a maintenance and operations tax rate equal to the state maximum compressed tax rate as defined by Section 42.101, Education Code; and

(B) no local share for purposes of Section 42.253, Education Code.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE MARTINEZ FISCHER: Members, as you can tell, this is an amendment that was jointly filed by Chairman Huberty and myself. Out of deference to Chairman Huberty's expertise on public education, I'd like to yield to him to do part of the layout, and then I'll come back and address you.

REPRESENTATIVE HUBERTY: Chairman Martinez Fischer and I talked about this today. There was a section at the bottom of the bill where some people were concerned about it tying the tax to the Education Code. As many of you know, one of the taxes we control specifically in the Education Code is maintenance and operation. As we're proceeding along here, we want to be very clear about what the intent of this amendment does to fix the bill. To us it's very clear, and that is that we do not want our school districts to walk out of here and to suggest for one second that we're saying, hey, whatever you're collecting, you're not going to get that money. What we're saying is, if you listen to Mr. Murr's conversation, what we're saying—and I have an amendment later that I'll talk about on the commission piece of this—is that creating this and these ideas and concepts is going to be very important. I know Mr. Martinez Fischer feels the same way because we've had these conversations about the tax swap and various other things. So this clarifies, specifically related to maintenance and operation in the tax, that we're talking about discussion of the code of taxation and making sure that we're staying away from the Education Code specifically. So I want to be clear on this. You might have heard some various groups this morning saying, "Oh, this is not what we're trying to do." That is not at all what Representative Murr is trying to do, and that's not what we're doing. That's why we did this bipartisanly—so it's okay the way that we've fixed this. And at this time I'll yield back to Mr. Martinez Fischer.

MARTINEZ FISCHER: Thank you, Chairman Huberty. I also want to thank Representative Murr and Chairman Burrows. I sort of read this like many of you did. Quite frankly, I'm on the Ways and Means Committee so I looked at this from a tax perspective. This bill went through our committee, and I think we were talking about an apple when it was in committee, and this has now become an orange. I think it's a worthy endeavor, but I wanted to be very careful. As long as I've been here, I've rarely voted on anything that had a $58 billion fiscal note. I think Chairman Zerwas would fall out of his chair if we did that routinely. I understand where we're going with this, but I also want to be very, very clear. I was here in the legislature when there was an effort to repeal Robin Hood. The words back then were that we were going to get rid of Robin Hood, and it would put a gun to our heads and force us to come up with a solution. We're still doing recapture, members, in 2019, and this next budget that we'll adopt will also have some semblance of recapture. So it doesn't just go away overnight. And as I see children here in the gallery, children here today as honorary pages, schoolchildren, I don't want any teacher, parent, school board member, superintendent—I don't want someone looking at this and saying we're going to write a budget and we're not going to assume any M&O.

I think what this amendment clearly says is we're going to look at the maximum M&O that you have or are going to get, and you should count on that for future planning. But make no mistake, we're going to study every available nickel out there to come up with a new revenue model potentially. And as I've always said in the tax committee—tax policy isn't right versus left; it's right versus wrong. There are currently $43 billion in exemptions, exclusions, and discounts. So when you look at $43 billion on the sidelines and a fiscal note of $58 billion, this is a discussion that we should have. I just want to make sure we're not doing it at the expense of our children, our students, our teachers, our educators, and our education community, and that's what I hope this amendment does.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Huberty offered the following amendment to HB 297:

Amend HB 297 (second reading engrossment) as follows:

- (1) On page 2, line 6, strike "five" and substitute "four".
- (2) On page 2, line 8, strike "five" and substitute "four".
- (3) On page 2, between lines 9 and 10, insert the following appropriately numbered subdivision and renumber subsequent subdivisions accordingly:
(____) three members appointed by the governor;
- (4) On page 3, between 1 and 2, insert the following subsection:
(b-1) The advisory members appointed under Subsection (b) are non-voting members of the committee.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 - REMARKS

HUBERTY: In going back and looking at the bill, one of the experiences that I had last legislative session, as I think many of you know—that Representatives Bernal, Ken King, and I all had—is that we worked on the School Finance Commission. Many of us have gone through interim studies and joint commissions that have never produced anything. But I think through the leadership that we had, certainly with the members and Chairman Taylor and with Mr. Brister, Mr. Williams, and other members, that commission came up with very good recommendations, and we're adopting that through our school finance plan this session. So what this amendment does is it actually reduces membership from the house from five to four and the senate from five to four. We have also, as Representative Murr had done—he took an amendment from Mr. Lucio—added two advisory members from each. For Mr. Rodriguez, those advisory members are not voting. But we added three members from the governor's office because I think it's important that we have to have the governor in this conversation. Obviously, he gets to call balls and strikes at the end of the day, and I think the governor needs to have appointees associated with this as we continue going along. And again, I think this is very important. The governor, the lieutenant governor, and the speaker worked very hard this session by stating that they were trying to provide meaningful tax relief and reform through our tax swap that we were trying to accomplish and spent a lot of time talking about that. We didn't get there, and so this is not too dissimilar to where we ended last legislative session, where we tried to work on a school finance plan and went to work on a commission. I think we need to open this up and leave it to the members and other public members to have this input in this process to talk about what we want our tax policy to be. So I think it's important to be able to do this.

REPRESENTATIVE BERNAL: Chairman Huberty, at the end of the last session we ended up with the School Finance Commission, is that correct?

HUBERTY: That's correct.

BERNAL: And being honest, speaking only for myself, I wasn't too happy about that.

HUBERTY: Nor were Representative Ken King nor I.

BERNAL: That's right. Yet could you talk about how we felt about that process at the end of the School Finance Commission?

HUBERTY: I think how we went to it originally is that we all got together and said, "geez, we're going to have to write a minority report," because we weren't sure where it was going to land. But at the end we had a unanimous, bipartisan report that came out that was very unique, changing the entirety of the system. But it was a working group. It met, you know, over 25 times, hundreds of hours. So the expectation is if we're going to do this, this is the same way that we need to do it.

BERNAL: Is it safe to say that HB 3 was the product of that commission?

HUBERTY: One hundred percent.

BERNAL: And is your expectation that we will produce a similar kind of product at the end of this process?

HUBERTY: Absolutely.

BERNAL: And can you explain to me how this amendment and Chairman Martinez Fischer's amendment work together?

HUBERTY: Sure, because what we're talking about is that our taxpayers are expecting us to reduce the maintenance and operations tax. And by the way, members, we did pass tax relief in HB 3. That was the mechanism by which we provided tax relief. And all taxpayers across the State of Texas, whether you have a home or business, owners are going to see meaningful property tax relief to that degree. So that's very important. And I think it's important to note that we again tried to work really hard this session, but we recognize that sometimes doing those hard things becomes difficult. So this is another mechanism that Representative Murr has offered up, a solution that says, "look, we need to start." And you know this, Mr. Bernal, that right now we're still at a dollar. We'll get to 94 cents, but we're at a dollar tax rate for Tier 1. So what we're saying is, let's start at zero and see where we land in between, based upon trying to figure out our flawed tax system here in the State of Texas. And the best way to do that is to work together and collaboratively to do that.

BERNAL: Safe to say that this requires the same time and effort as school finance did?

HUBERTY: That's right. And again, I think it's incumbent upon us to look at the leadership that has been provided by the governor, the speaker, and lieutenant governor through this session in taking those hard steps to lead us to a correct tax policy. This is the next step for us to be able to do that.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

MURR: Mr. Speaker, members, I want to extend my heartfelt gratitude to Chairman Martinez Fischer and Chairman Huberty for their assistance in making this a better bill. The cups in the lounge say "school tax reform, the time is now." I move passage.

HB 802 ON SECOND READING

(by Huberty)

HB 802, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to voting rights and eligibility for office of residents of certain districts subject to a strategic partnership agreement.

HB 802 was read second time on May 7, postponed until 7 a.m. May 8, postponed until 6 p.m. May 8, and was again postponed until 10 a.m. today.

The chair recognized Representative Huberty who addressed the house, speaking as follows:

I've postponed this bill several times. I'm going to tell you what the bill does, and I plan on postponing it again. What this bill does is many MUD districts in the Harris Country area created strategic partnership agreements in and around our areas. And when they did that, the City of Houston came in and worked with our MUDs and created an additional tax of one penny that was split between the MUDs and split between the City of Houston. It generates about $100 million a year right now for the City of Houston. We looked at it constitutionally and said, is this taxation without representation? We thought it was, and we thought it was a good way to continue moving forward. I've been talking to my MUDs about this, and I've been talking to City of Houston, in particular Andy Icken and certainly Mayor Turner about this. And they've agreed to work with me over the next several months to work with our MUDs as the strategic partnership ends, so that they're not going to come in and forcibly annex us at the end of our strategic partnership agreements, which is ultimately the goal.

When we passed annexation reform last legislative session, one of the things that didn't get caught were these agreements that were in place. And so they have given me their commitment and their word that they would agree to work with us and those of us that have MUDs. Mr. Bohac, perhaps you have some of these. I do. There's some in Fort Bend County. Mr. Paul has some of these as well. But this would have created the right for our citizens to be able to vote in these elections. However, we don't pay property taxes, so I understand that, and so there could have been some challenges associated with that. And so instead, over the last several days I've worked with Mr. Icken on this, and again, he's given me his word that we are going to get this done. I've worked with Andy for many years, and so I take him at his word about this.

Representative Huberty moved to postpone consideration of HB 802 until 10 a.m. Thursday, June 27.

The motion prevailed.

Representative J.E. Johnson raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 3172 under Rule 4, Section 40, and Rule 11, Section 2, of the House Rules. The point of order was overruled and the speaker submitted the following ruling:

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

on House Bill 3172

Announced in the House on May 9, 2019

Representative Julie Johnson of Dallas raises a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 3172 under Rule 4, Section 40, and Rule 11, Section 2, of the House Rules on the grounds that it is not germane.

The original bill prohibited governmental entities from taking an adverse action against any person based wholly or partly on that person's belief or action in accordance with the person's sincerely held religious belief or moral conviction, including beliefs or convictions regarding marriage. The substitute prohibits governmental entities from taking an adverse action against any person based wholly or partly on that person's membership in, affiliation with, or contribution, donation, or other support provided to a religious organization.

Ms. Johnson of Dallas argues that substitute language expands the class of persons covered by the original bill to include persons who may have no sincerely held belief or conviction and that, under a prior precedent, this expansion is outside the scope of the bill. See 77 H. Jour. 3767 (2001).

It is well-settled that a committee substitute may differ from the original bill in one or more major particulars and still be germane. See, e.g., 77 H. Jour. 1711 (2001). The substitute's definition of the covered class is different, but it is on the same subject as the bill. On these facts, the substitute is germane.

Accordingly, the point of order is respectfully overruled.

CSHB 3172 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative J.E. Johnson raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 3172 under Rule 4, Section 32(c)(5), of the House Rules. The point of order was sustained and the speaker submitted the following ruling:

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

on House Bill 3172

Announced in the House on May 9, 2019

Representative Julie Johnson of Dallas raises a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 3172 under Rule 4, Section 32(c)(5), of the House Rules on the grounds that the bill analysis's comparison of the original to the substitute is inaccurate.

Ms. Johnson of Dallas notes that the committee substitute omits original provisions that authorized compensatory damages and all other appropriate relief for plaintiffs who successfully sue to enforce the bill's provisions. The comparison of the original to the substitute simply states that the bill "revises the relief that a person may obtain under the bill."

The Chair finds that this statement is insufficient to explain the changes made by the substitute, especially in light of the additional, specific details provided in the comparison section for the remaining changes made by the substitute. The availability of legal relief to a litigant is a key element for the enforcement of civil rights. A change to the types of available relief, such as the substitute's elimination of compensatory damages authorized by the bill, is a substantial difference. The bill analysis is substantially and materially misleading because it omits this information. See 80 H.Jour. Reg. 5084 (2007).

Accordingly, the point of order is well-taken and sustained.

CSHB 3172 was returned to the Committee on State Affairs.

Sec. 25.1121. CLASS SIZE IN CERTAIN DISTRICTS. (a) This section applies only to a school district that has adopted a local innovation plan under Chapter 12A that:

(1) does not exempt the district from the limitation on class size under Section 25.112; and

(2) includes:

(C) for last day of instruction innovations:

(i) an exemption from the requirements regarding the last day of school under Section 25.0812; and

(d) In determining the number of students to enroll in any class, a school district to which this section applies shall consider the subject to be taught, the teaching methodology to be used, and any need for individual instruction.

(e) On application of a school district to which this section applies, the commissioner may except the district from the limit in Subsection (b) for the school year if the commissioner finds the limit works an undue hardship on the district. An exception expires at the end of the school year for which it is granted.

(f) A school district seeking an exception under Subsection (e) shall notify the commissioner and apply for the exception not later than the later of:

(1) October 1; or

(2) the 30th day after the first school day the district exceeds the limit in Subsection (b).

(g) If a school district to which this section applies repeatedly fails to comply with this section, the commissioner may take any appropriate action authorized to be taken by the commissioner under Section 39.131.

(h) This section expires September 1, 2023.

(2) for a class at the third or fourth grade level, a student enrolled in the class fails to perform satisfactorily on an assessment instrument administered under Section 39.023.

(b) This section expires September 1, 2023.

CSHB 4013 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Stickland raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 4013 under Rule 4, Section 18(a)(4), of the House Rules.

(Speaker pro tempore in the chair)

The point of order was sustained and the speaker submitted the following ruling:

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

on House Bill 4013

Announced in the House on May 9, 2019

(Speaker pro tempore in the chair)

Representative Stickland raises a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 4013 under Rule 4, Section 18(a)(4), of the House Rules on the grounds that the minutes do not correctly recite the notice posted for the public hearing.

Notice of the April 17th public hearing was properly posted on April 12th. On April 15th, the 5-day posting rule was suspended to permit the committee to hear a bill that was not included on the first posting. A revised posting notice was created that included that bill and deleted another. The revised notice is marked "REVISION" at the top of the first page.

The purpose of the cited section of the rule is to state the authority under which a committee is assembled to consider the posted business. In this case, the authority under which the committee assembled on April 17th was the April 12th notice, the April 15th posting rule suspension, and the subsequent revised notice. The minutes do not accurately reflect the complete authority for the public hearing.

Accordingly, the point of order is well-taken and sustained.

CSHB 4013 was returned to the Committee on Ways and Means.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GRANTED

The following member was granted leave of absence for the remainder of today because of important business in the district:

J.D. Johnson on motion of C. Bell.
