We thank you, Lord, for all the times our nation has recognized our very great need for you and for your direction. So, today, I pray for our nation and our state on behalf of this body that you've called to serve you. May all of us who serve on this mission field of government understand that our nation's greatness comes only because of your unmerited favor, mercy, and grace. I pray that we would trust you, Lord, with all our hearts and that we wouldn't use our own wisdom but lean on you for understanding—that in all our ways we would acknowledge you and that you would make our way very clear to do your will. In Jesus' name I pray. Amen.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

HR 598 - PREVIOUSLY ADOPTED

(by C. Morales)

The chair laid out the following previously adopted resolution:

HR 598, In memory of the Honorable James Earl Carter Jr., 39th president of the United States.

The chair recognized Representative C. Morales who addressed the house, speaking as follows:

I rise today to honor a life of service of the 39th president of the United States, Jimmy Carter, and his wife, Rosalynn Carter. Two lives defined by three simple words: humility, service, and humanitarianism. President Carter passed away late last year at the remarkable age of 100. In that century of life, nearly every moment was dedicated to service for his family, for his community, and for the world.

His journey began in the U.S. Navy, where he served with distinction as a nuclear engineer and submariner. After leaving the Navy, he returned to his roots in Plains, Georgia, where he took over the family peanut farm and became a respected voice in his community. For me, personally, as a child growing up in Texas, I remember watching Jimmy Carter on TV when I was just nine years old. Even then, I could sense that this man—this humble peanut farmer—was someone different. He talked about fairness, about doing what's right, and about lifting others up. That made a lasting impression on me. As a state senator and later as governor of Georgia, Carter challenged racial discrimination at a time when it was deeply unpopular to do so in much of the South. He famously declared, "The time for racial discrimination is over." And that clarity of purpose propelled him into national prominence.

On this day 49 years ago, Jimmy Carter won the democratic primary right here in Texas, eventually going on to become the 39th president of the United States. His presidency focused on humanitarian progress. He pardoned 10,000 Vietnam War draft evaders, established the Departments of Energy and

Education, and championed environmental conservation. He brokered peace between Egypt and Israel and helped secure the release of 52 American hostages during the Iran hostage crisis.

But it was in his post-presidency that he may have made his greatest mark. Through the Carter Center, Jimmy and Rosalynn promoted peace, monitored elections in more than 40 countries, and helped nearly eradicate Guinea-worm disease, which once affected over 3.5 million people. They also built homes—literally built homes—with Habitat for Humanity. Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter were married for 77 years. He often said marrying her was his greatest accomplishment. Their legacy lives on through their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Their lives continue to inspire those of us who believe in service, compassion, and justice. Please join me in honoring the extraordinary legacy of President Jimmy Carter and First Lady Rosalynn Carter.

The chair recognized Representative Bryant who addressed the house, speaking as follows:

I'll be brief, members, but I can't pass up the opportunity to speak briefly about my own experience with President Carter. I was a second-term member in the house, and his idealism, his mainstream political views, and the great career of service he had already had as governor of Georgia, state senator, school board member, Navy veteran, and farmer were well-known to all of us. It was a time after a period of great uncertainty. A president had resigned. We had our first unelected president serve for a period of time there. And he came in and caught the imagination of the whole country. He ran against—in the democratic primary—our own United States senator based on a primary law that had been passed by the legislature and tailored for our hometown candidate. But a group of us saw Jimmy Carter was the future and joined in putting together his slate at a key time. He came into Texas and swept the democratic primary. And all of a sudden, all of these greenhorns, like me, were delegates to a national democratic convention, which we had never been to before.

He went on to carry the state and the general election. And he had, in my view, a very successful presidency, notwithstanding the criticism that's often leveled at him. But most importantly, I think, is the example he set for the remainder of his life. I don't know of any president who could match the type of service that he gave to this country—not only in the work that he did and the people he drew to it but also in just setting an example for all of us in how to live. I have said many times there were two or three things that were the biggest things that I think I contributed in my public career. One of those three things was having been here at a moment in which he needed help. We joined in, got his delegation together, and got him the democratic nomination that year. He's a great man. He's an example for all of us. I thank the good Lord that we had him here among us.

HB 353 ON THIRD READING (by Patterson)

HB 353, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to creating the criminal offense of trespass on or near school or day-care center property.

HB 353 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE WU: Mr. Patterson, may I just ask you some legislative intent questions?

REPRESENTATIVE PATTERSON: Absolutely.

WU: Your bill would create a new criminal offense, correct?

PATTERSON: Yes.

WU: That criminal offense would be for people who remain within 250 feet of property that is adjacent to a public school or private day care, correct?

PATTERSON: That's correct.

WU: This 250 feet could include private property and public property, correct?

PATTERSON: That's correct.

WU: For private property, the person would need permission to be there?

PATTERSON: I'm sorry. Could you repeat that? Did you say public or private? That's the only part I missed.

WU: For private property.

PATTERSON: Private property. Well, they can be there without permission. But if they're asked to leave and given notice—if they're loitering and asked to leave, they need to leave the premises.

WU: Who gets to ask them to leave?

PATTERSON: They have to leave unless they have a reasonable relationship for entering or remaining on the property that involves custody or the responsibility of a student enrolled in the school or day care, or if they have written permission from an authorized representative of the school or day-care center. "Receives a reasonable request to depart by the administrator, educator, or security personnel officer employed by the school or day-care center."

WU: Just to be clear, we're talking about private property that is not a part of school property or the day-care property, correct?

PATTERSON: Let me tell you where this bill came about. I have a mom in my district that brought this idea forward because there's this creepy dude that hangs out right next to the day-care playground. He sits there and watches the kids all day, to the point where the kids don't even feel safe to be on the playground. The teachers actually don't take the kids on the playground when this gentleman is present. So what this bill aims to do is to make it where if someone's being a creep around a day care or a school, they can have a reasonable request to leave. And if they don't leave, then the police can get involved. Currently, the police are unable to ask anyone to leave because it's not their property. In these high-density growth areas, you've got day cares that are part of a larger development where it may not necessarily be their property one foot outside the gate of the playground.

WU: So I want to be clear. Let's say there's a day care on one side of the street and a different private property on the other side of the street within 250 feet. If there is somebody that is on that second private property, and people at the school don't want them there, but the owner of that second private property says they're perfectly fine there, that would be an offense?

PATTERSON: Yes.

WU: Can I do a second scenario with you?

PATTERSON: Yes.

WU: Let's talk about public property. Let's say around a public school—across the street there are other businesses within 250 feet. And there are people who use those businesses, but they're on the public sidewalk. And some of them like to hang out on the public sidewalk and hang around because that's their constitutional right—to be in public spaces and meet. If the school or the private day care did not want them on public property and they called the police, the police could now arrest them for being on public property?

PATTERSON: I don't think that that's a reasonable example.

WU: Let me ask again. I have personally seen Second Amendment advocates who wear their open-carry firearms and walk around public spaces—including in front of schools—to make a point that the state has open carry and the right to be in public spaces. If somebody was uncomfortable at the day care and they say the guy who keeps walking around our building—around this block—with a pistol on his hip—that guy's creeping me out. The police can now come remove him and arrest him if he refuses to leave?

PATTERSON: No.

WU: Why not?

PATTERSON: Because in your scenario they didn't give him notice.

WU: Okay. They gave him notice. He says it is my constitutional right to be in a public space with my firearm for the purpose of drawing attention. I refuse to leave. Can the police arrest him now?

PATTERSON: Potentially.

WU: Under your bill, can the police arrest them if they choose?

PATTERSON: Potentially.

WU: Is that what you intend for your bill?

PATTERSON: What I intend for my bill is that we don't have creeps hanging out outside school playgrounds and day-care playgrounds—

WU: Absolutely.

PATTERSON: —making teachers and students uncomfortable. And so that's why this is a very reasonable setback of 250 feet. I believe the senate bill has 500 feet. I hope to get that into alignment. But this is a very reasonable setback, in my view as the bill's author, to protect these kids from folks that may wish to do them harm.

WU: I don't disagree with you. I don't disagree that it's a reasonable thing to do. I do disagree that it's a constitutional thing to do.

PATTERSON: Yes, sir.

WU: So I think we have a—we'll agree to disagree on that point.

PATTERSON: Yes, sir.

CSSB 29 was considered in lieu of CSHB 15.

CSSB 29 was read second time.

CSSB 29 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE MEYER: CSSB 29 builds on Texas' business-friendly climate, efficient legal system, and specialized business courts by reforming our corporate laws to ensure Texas continues as the best state to headquarter. First, CSSB 29 codifies the business judgment rule. It also establishes a threshold for derivative claims of three percent and allows for the predetermination of director independence, establishing a clear process for corporations to form independent committees. And finally, CSSB 29 provides companies flexibility to resolve internal entity claims. Members, CSSB 29 protects shareholders and businesses while ensuring accountability for corporate misconduct. It will encourage public companies to incorporate under Texas law. It passed out of the Judiciary and Civil Jurisprudence Committee 11 to 0—bipartisan support.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - REMARKS

MEYER: This is a cleanup amendment dealing with LLC and LP provisions.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Zwiener offered the following amendment to CSSB 29:

Amend CSSB 29 (house committee report) as follows:

- (1) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 21.419, Business Organizations Code, add the following appropriately lettered subsection to Section 21.419, Business Organizations Code, and reletter subsequent subsections and cross-references to those subsections accordingly:

() This section sets out certain presumptions concerning compliance by directors and officers with their duties to a domestic corporation, including the duty of care and duty of loyalty as those duties pertain to transactions with interested persons.

(2) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 101.256, Business Organizations Code, add the following appropriately lettered subsection to Section 101.256, Business Organizations Code, and reletter subsequent subsections and cross-references to those subsections accordingly:

() This section sets out certain presumptions concerning compliance by managerial officials with their duties, if any, to a domestic limited liability company, including any duties that pertain to transactions with interested persons.

(3) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 153.163, Business Organizations Code, add the following appropriately lettered subsection to Section 153.163, Business Organizations Code, and reletter subsequent subsections and cross-references to those subsections accordingly:

() This section sets out certain presumptions concerning compliance by managerial officials with their duties, if any, to a domestic limited partnership, including any duties that pertain to transactions with interested persons.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE ZWIENER: I'm very grateful to Chairman Meyer for working with me on this amendment. Those of y'all who've done anything with business law know that directors, officers, and managers have a couple of duties—both duty of care and duty of loyalty. This amendment helps make it clear in this codification that the provisions also apply to the duty of loyalty.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

CSSB 29 - REMARKS

MEYER: We just want to continue with the Texas Stock Exchange with business courts. All we're doing in Texas to make us continue to be the most business-friendly—

ZWIENER: Thank you so much for working with me and about some of my concerns on this legislation.

MEYER: Absolutely.

ZWIENER: I really admire a lot of what you're trying to do in this bill. But I did want to ask you just a couple of questions to make sure we're all clear on how this is going to function. The bill codifies presumptions that must be overcome for a shareholder claim against an officer or director. Does it protect a director who willfully violates through duty of loyalty?

MEYER: No, it does not. A willful violation of the duty of loyalty would be intentional misconduct under the statute. A director who takes an action designed to benefit himself or herself to the detriment of the corporation is violating his or her fiduciary duty of loyalty and committing intentional misconduct. And those bad acts are not protected by CSHB 15 or CSSB 29.

ZWIENER: Would a shareholder have a claim under this bill against a director who hid the fact that their spouse had an interest in a transaction in order to mislead the board into supporting it?

MEYER: Yes. What you're describing sounds like a fraud by omission or at least an intentional act that appears to violate the director's fiduciary duties. Those sorts of acts would overcome the protections established by this bill and would support a shareholder claim.

ZWIENER: Similarly, would a shareholder have a claim against a director or officer who engages in self-dealing to the detriment of the corporation?

MEYER: Yes, absolutely. That would be an intentional act that, if it put the director's interest above the interest of the corporation, would violate the director's duty of loyalty.

SECTION _____. Subchapter F, Chapter 540, Government Code, is amended by adding Section 540.0281 to read as follows:

Sec. 540.0281. REIMBURSEMENT OF EYE HEALTH CARE SERVICES PROVIDERS. A contract to which this subchapter applies must require that the contracting Medicaid managed care organization require any insurer, health maintenance organization, third-party administrator, managed care plan, vision plan, or other plan or entity the organization contracts with, offers, owns, or otherwise engages to provide or arrange for the provision of eye health care or vision care services under the managed care plan the Medicaid managed care organization offers to reimburse an eye health care services provider who provides services to a recipient under the plan at a rate that is at least equal to 95 percent of the Medicaid fee-for-service rate for the provision of the same or similar services.

SECTION _____. (a) The Health and Human Services Commission shall, in a contract between the commission and a managed care organization under Chapter 540, Government Code, that is entered into or renewed on or after the effective date of this Act, require that the managed care organization comply with Section 540.0281, Government Code, as added by this Act.

SECTION _____. Section 15.102, Water Code, is amended by amending Subsection (b) and adding Subsection (e) to read as follows:

(b) The loan fund may also be used by the board to provide:

(1) grants or loans for projects that include supplying water and wastewater services in economically distressed areas or nonborder colonias as provided by legislative appropriations, this chapter, and board rules, including projects involving retail distribution of those services; ~~and~~

(2) grants for:

(A) projects for which federal grant funds are placed in the loan fund;

(B) projects, on specific legislative appropriation for those projects; or

(C) water conservation, desalination, brush control, weather modification, regionalization, and projects providing regional water quality enhancement services as defined by board rule, including regional conveyance systems; and

(3) grants to drainage districts established under Section 52, Article III, or Section 59, Article XVI, Texas Constitution, for water supply projects, including projects that contain a flood control component.

(e) The board may not disqualify a drainage district from receiving a grant under Subsection (b)(3) because the district does not:

(1) notwithstanding Section 16.012(m), have historical data about water use;

(2) provide retail water service to consumers; or

(3) have a certificate of convenience and necessity under which it provides retail water or wastewater service.

SECTION ____ . Section 15.437(d), Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

(d) In addition to the criteria provided by Subsection (c), the board must also consider at least the following criteria in prioritizing projects:

(1) the local contribution to be made to finance the project, including the up-front capital to be provided by the applicant;

(2) the financial capacity of the applicant to repay the financial assistance provided;

(3) the ability of the board and the applicant to timely leverage state financing with local and federal funding;

(4) whether there is an emergency need for the project, taking into consideration whether:

(A) the applicant is included at the time of the application on the list maintained by the commission of local public water systems that have a water supply that will last less than 180 days without additional rainfall; and

(B) federal funding for which the project is eligible has been used or sought;

(5) if the applicant is applying for financial assistance for the project under Subchapter Q, whether the applicant is ready to proceed with the project at the time of the application, including whether:

(A) all preliminary planning and design work associated with the project has been completed;

- (B) the applicant has acquired the water rights associated with the project;
- (C) the applicant has secured funding for the project from other sources; and
- (D) the applicant is able to begin implementing or constructing the project; ~~and~~

(6) whether the project is a water supply project that contains a flood control component, regardless of whether the applicant holds a certificate of convenience and necessity under which it provides retail water or wastewater service; and

(7) ~~(6)~~ the demonstrated or projected effect of the project on water conservation, including preventing the loss of water, taking into consideration, if applicable, whether the applicant has filed a water audit with the board under Section 16.0121 that demonstrates that the applicant is accountable with regard to reducing water loss and increasing efficiency in the distribution of water.
