I pray for this gathering. I ask you to guide this body as it seeks to serve the public and promote the common good. Bless all the activities undertaken by this group today.

O God, I pray for each member of the Texas House of Representatives. I pray that you will give them the courage to search for truth, both individually and collectively. Give to each member the wisdom to recognize truth. Give to each member the resolve to act according to the truth. Give to each the humility to change his or her mind when truth comes in conflict with personal opinion.

Finally, O God, I pray for the citizens of Texas. May the actions taken here today be of benefit to all people in our great state. May the least and the greatest benefit from today's deliberations. Respecting all faiths, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

CSHB 1006 ON SECOND READING
(by Isett, Bohac, Eissler, Gattis, Crabb, et al.)

CSHB 1006, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to certain limitations on the ad valorem tax rates of certain taxing units.

CSHB 1006 was read second time on April 21, amended, and was postponed until 10 a.m. today.

CSHB 1006 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Hill raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 1006 under Rule 7, Section 14 of the House Rules on the grounds that the motion to postpone the bill was indefinite and incomplete.

The speaker overruled the point of order.

CSHB 1006 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Dunnam raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 1006 under Rule 6 Section 1(a)(10), Rule 7, Sections 15(a) and 16 of the House Rules on the grounds that the bill is being taken up out of order.

The speaker overruled the point of order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

REPRESENTATIVE DUNNAM: Just so that we're clear, when someone says from the front microphone, that something is set—

MR. SPEAKER: Mr. Dunnam, first let me say that it's a debatable motion. If you want to object or question it, you should have done it at that time. Mr. Isett made a debatable motion that you could have objected to or spoken for or against and no one did that, not just you, but no one did.

DUNNAM: And I have no objection, I don't know why anyone would object to taking it up at 10:06. My question is if someone says from the front mic that a bill is set until a time certain 10:15, and then the calendar and the bill and everything is printed at a different time—11 o'clock, 12 o'clock, or 10 o'clock—what governs? What the gentleman said from the front mic or what is printed in the journal?

MR. SPEAKER: We rely, Mr. Dunnam, for years, or as far back as I remember, on the calendars printed, and that's what we're going to continue to do.

DUNNAM: So whatever the gentleman said from the front is irrelevant, it's what is printed?

MR. SPEAKER: No, you can debate it at that time, is what I am saying, Mr. Dunnam.

DUNNAM: How could we debate it at that time because at the time that he made the motion for 10:06, we didn't know that the journal was going to be erroneously printed, so I don't know what there would be to debate.

MR. SPEAKER: We've been consistent, Mr. Dunnam, as I explained to you up here. The house has always used those times.

DUNNAM: So the members should look to what's printed in the journal as opposed to what's said at the front mic?

MR. SPEAKER: The clerk makes a good faith estimate to print out the nearest time on the calendar. It's been done that way throughout.

DUNNAM: One other question, Mr. Speaker. So 10:06 means 10 o'clock, I assume 10:15 means 10 o'clock, 10:29 means 10 o'clock. What does 10:31 mean—does that mean 10 or 11 o'clock?

MR. SPEAKER: Mr. Dunnam, I am not going to get into any hypothetical questions with you.

DUNNAM: You said we always round, I am just curious whether we round—

MR. SPEAKER: Mr. Dunnam, as I explained to you up here earlier, that sometimes they'll do 9:30 and I think that's specific. An odd time has been rounded out ever since I've been here.

DUNNAM: And there's precedent that this point of order has been called?

MR. SPEAKER: I don't know if there's precedent on a point of order, but we've just looked back to see what's been done in common practice—in house practice, and that's what's been done.

DUNNAM: But if no one had objected in the past, how was that precedent, there's no ruling?

MR. SPEAKER: It's been a house practice, I didn't say precedent.

(Nixon now present)

Amendment No. 19

Representative Isett offered the following amendment to CSHB 1006:

Amend CSHB 1006, in Section 26.046, Tax Code, as added by the Carter Casteel amendment to the bill, by striking Subsection (d) of that added section, and substituting the following:

(d) The effective tax rate and the rollback tax rate for a taxing unit calculated under any other provision of this chapter are increased by the rate that, if applied to current total value, would impose an amount of taxes equal to the amount the taxing unit is required to spend to comply with or implement an unfunded state mandate in the budget year for which the taxes will be imposed. If the taxing unit is a county or a municipality, in the formula for calculating the rollback tax rate under any other provision of this chapter, the governing body of the taxing unit may, at its option, substitute the sum of 1 plus the consumer price index percentage change, if any, not to exceed eight percent, for 1.05. For a county or municipality that elects to make the substitution in the calculation of its rollback tax rate as authorized by this subsection, notwithstanding Section 26.07(b) (2), Tax Code, a petition authorized by Section 26.07(a) of that code is valid only if it is signed by a number of registered voters of the county or municipality equal to at least 10 percent of the number of registered voters of the taxing unit according to the most recent official list of registered voters. Not later than July 1 of each year the state auditor shall determine the consumer price index percentage change and publish that change in the Texas Register. In this subsection:

(1) "consumer price index" means the consumer price index, as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor, that measures the average changes in prices of goods and services purchased by urban wage earners and clerical workers' families and single workers living alone (CPI-W: Seasonally Adjusted U.S. City Average — All Items).

(2) "Consumer price index percentage change" means the percentage increase or decrease in the consumer price index for the most recent state fiscal year for which the information is available, from the consumer price index for the state fiscal year preceding that state fiscal year, as calculated by the state auditor.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

REPRESENTATIVE VILLARREAL: It's my understanding that an amendment that cuts off a previously adopted amendment isn't in the practice of this body of being adopted.

MR. SPEAKER: Could you ask that again, Mr. Villarreal?

VILLARREAL: It's my understanding that Mr. Isett's amendment reverses an amendment that we adopted during the last discussion of HB 1006. And my question is that—if we move forward and if Mr. Isett's amendment is adopted, can we return, as Mr. Isett has, and amend his amendment?

MR. SPEAKER: Mr. Villarreal, come down front, would you please? Members, Mr. Villarreal had a parliamentary inquiry asking about the amendment—an amendment that the author feels is trying to correct a problem in the bill. We're going to allow that and we're going to allow the amendment. Chair recognizes Mr. Hill to speak against the bill.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GRANTED

The following member was granted leave of absence for the remainder of today to attend a funeral:

Dukes on motion of McClendon.

Representative Casteel moved to table Amendment No. 19.

A record vote was requested.

Amendment No. 19 - Point of Order

Representative Dunnam raised a point of order against further consideration of Amendment No. 19 under Rule 11, Section 8(b) of the House Rules on the grounds that the amendment strikes a paragraph from the amendment and inserts one.

The speaker overruled the point of order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

REPRESENTATIVE DUNNAM: Mr. Isett said that his intent was to amend Ms. Casteel's amendment, and it is my understanding that under practice—

MR. SPEAKER: He said he never said that. His bill was to correct it, Mr. Dunnam.

DUNNAM: To correct the Casteel amendment then? But the Casteel amendment has gone on, and is it the proper procedure to reconsider the Casteel amendment, pull it off and then correct it, and then vote again on the Casteel amendment?

MR. SPEAKER: Mr. Dunnam, it is my understanding that he is trying to correct some problems that are in the bill that aren't related specifically or only to the Casteel amendment. That is what the author told me. Mr. Dunnam, there is a mistake in the caption of the amendment according to Ms. Casteel. Mr. Dunnam, okay, there seems to be a mistake in the citing of the Carter Casteel amendment, and Mr. Isett is trying to clear that up as well as some other problems he sees within the bill.

DUNNAM: My question is simply procedural, Mr. Speaker. If he is going in to correct something that was in Ms. Casteel's amendment, is the proper practice to reconsider the vote on that amendment, if that prevails then amend the Casteel amendment, then vote on it anew as opposed to trying to lay another amendment on top of what Ms. Casteel has already done? My understanding is—

MR. SPEAKER: No, members this is a new amendment, and you are going to have a chance to vote it up or down.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Dunnam moved to print the parliamentary inquiry between Speaker Craddick and Representative Dunnam on the point of order rulings on CSHB 1006; the parliamentary inquiry between Speaker Craddick and Representative Villarreal on Amendment No. 19; and the parliamentary inquiry between Speaker Craddick and Representative Dunnam on Amendment No. 19.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

HB 2840 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE RODRIGUEZ: Mr. Chisum, I have a question on the first page where it says "unprovoked attack." How would you define that? That couldn't be defined, and this is kind of a serious question. I know you don't mean it this way, but I want to know for the record that you don't; if I am walking my dog on a leash and they just instinctively jump after someone, could that be considered an attack? An unprovoked attack? If there was no skin broken?

REPRESENTATIVE CHISUM: If you have your dog on your leash, and it just jumped out at someone, that is not the dog we are after here. We are after the dog that is attacking someone, unprovoked, but we aren't talking about dogs that are on leashes.

RODRIGUEZ: So if a dog was on a leash, and did do that, and actually maybe broke the skin a little bit, this wouldn't really apply to that?

CHISUM: No, it wouldn't.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Rodriguez moved to print remarks between Representative Chisum and Representative Rodriguez.

The motion prevailed.

HB 2840 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE FARRAR: Warren, we had worked this out in committee, that I had some concerns about whether someone came into your yard which was secured, and your dog was in, would this affect that situation? Because I've noticed that you have struck several paragraphs, and we had accepted it all.

REPRESENTATIVE CHISUM: Yeah, and those are the paragraphs you and I talked about, and we came up with this bill that if your dog is in your yard and he attacks you—if the dog was in his own habitat—than you are not liable for the attack.

FARRAR: Right, I am having trouble hearing you, but making sure that I understand. If your dog is in your yard, secured in a fence—behind a fence, and someone comes in for whatever reasons and your dog reacts by attacking, does that—are they protected under that bill?

CHISUM: Yes, that dog is in its own place, and it's as secured as they should be. And if someone comes in, then you are not liable, and they cannot use any offense against the dog.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Farrar moved to print remarks between Representative Chisum and Representative Farrar.

The motion prevailed.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - DEBATE

REPRESENTATIVE SOLOMONS: Buddy, you know I have an amendment on this. I just want to clarify what this amendment really does, in essence. It's my understanding that your amendment clarifies that the railroad commission does not have general jurisdiction over telecom companies, cable companies regarding right-of-way issues. Is that correct?

REPRESENTATIVE WEST: Yes, sir, it is.

SOLOMONS: But the telecom and cable companies—all the companies that are defined in your amendment are still required with all the safety standards, including current provisions of the Health and Safety Code. Is that correct?

WEST: Yes, sir. They're all required for the same safety.

SOLOMONS: Okay, because of the issue about the safety standards, is it your intent that the telecom and cable companies follow the railroad commission safety standards, and the railroad commission can actually enforce the safety standards they are going to adopt?

WEST: That is correct.
