HB 2511 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative P. King raised a point of order against further consideration of HB 2511 under Rule 8, Section 3 of the House Rules on the grounds that the bill violates the one subject rule.

The speaker overruled the point of order and submitted the following statement:

Representative P. King raises a point of order against further consideration of HB 2511 under Rule 8, Section 3 of the House Rules and Article III, Section 35 of the Texas Constitution in that the bill contains more than one subject.

While these provisions clearly require the legislature to be mindful, the standard for finding a violation of the one-subject rule is very high; courts typically find violations of the one-subject rule only when there is no conceivable single subject that describes all of the elements of the bill. (House Journal, 76th Regular Session (1997), page 2912; House Journal, 77th Regular Session (1999))

The chair has reviewed house rulings on this issue over the last 30 years and has found very few instances in which such a point of order was sustained, a likely result of the very high standard for finding a violation of the rule.

In this instance, the chair believes that HB 2511 is capable of a constitutional construction because each element relates to political contributions and expenditures and would so be construed by a court. In short, HB 2511 is a very broad, omnibus bill that embraces a variety of issues relating to such. Thus, the amendments that were offered on second reading and passed to engrossment were consistent with the subject matter of the bill and not an expansion of the bill.

Accordingly, the point of order is respectfully overruled.

(Geren in the chair)

Representative T. Smith moved to postpone consideration of HB 2511 until 4:15 p.m. today.

The motion prevailed.

POSTPONED BUSINESS

The following bills were laid before the house as postponed business:

HB 2511 ON THIRD READING

(by T. Smith, Anchia, Merritt, McCall, and Strama)

HB 2511, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to political contributions and expenditures; providing criminal penalties.

HB 2511 was read third time earlier today, an amendment was offered and disposed of, and HB 2511 was postponed until this time.

Amendment No. 2

Representative P. King offered the following amendment to HB 2511:

Amend HB 2511 by striking SECTION 8 from the bill and insert the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS and renumber the remaining SECTIONS accordingly.

SECTION _____. Section 253.100, Election Code, is amended by amending Subsections (a) and (c) and adding Subsections (d) and (e) to read as follows:

(a) A corporation, acting alone or with one or more other corporations, may make one or more political expenditures to finance the establishment or administration of a general-purpose committee. In addition to any other expenditure that is considered permissible under this section, a corporation may make an expenditure for the maintenance and operation of a general-purpose committee, including an expenditure for:

(1) office space maintenance and repairs;

(2) telephone and Internet services;

(3) office equipment;

(4) utilities;

(5) general office and meeting supplies;

(6) salaries for routine clerical, data entry, and administrative assistance necessary for the proper administrative operation of the committee;

(7) legal and accounting fees for the committee's compliance with this title;

(8) routine administrative expenses incurred in establishing and administering a general-purpose political committee;

(9) management and supervision of the committee, including expenses incurred in holding meetings of the committee's governing body to interview candidates and make endorsements relating to the committee's support;

(10) the recording of committee decisions;

(11) expenses incurred in hosting candidate forums in which all candidates for a particular office in an election are invited to participate on the same terms; or

(12) expenses incurred in preparing and delivering committee contributions.

(c) A labor organization may engage in activity authorized for a corporation by this section [~~Subsections (a) and (b)~~]. For purposes of this section, the members of a labor organization are considered to be corporate stockholders.

(d) A corporation or labor organization may not make expenditures under this section for:

(1) political consulting to support or oppose a candidate;

(2) telephoning or telephone banks to communicate with the public;

(3) brochures and direct mail supporting or opposing a candidate;

(4) partisan voter registration and get-out-the-vote drives;

(5) political fund-raising;

(6) voter identification efforts, voter lists, or voter databases that include persons other than its stockholders or members, as applicable, or the families of its stockholders or members;

(7) polling designed to support or oppose a candidate other than of its stockholders or members, as applicable, or the families of its stockholders or members; or

(8) recruiting candidates.

(e) Subsection (d) does not apply to a corporation or labor organization making an expenditure to communicate with its stockholders or members, as applicable, or with the families of its stockholders or members as provided by Section 253.098.

SECTION _____. The change in law made by this Act applies only to a political expenditure made under Section 253.100, Election Code, as amended by this Act, on or after the effective date of this Act. A political expenditure made under Section 253.100, Election Code, before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect at the time the expenditure is made, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose.

SECTION _____. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect September 1, 2009.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

Amendment No. 3

Representative Hartnett offered the following amendment to HB 2511:

Amend HB 2511 on third reading, in SECTION 1 of the bill, by striking added Section 251.001(23), Election Code, and substituting the following:

(23) "Electioneering communication" means a communication that if taken as a whole and with limited reference to external events, such as the proximity to the election, could only be interpreted by a reasonable person as an appeal to vote for or against one or more clearly identified candidates or ballot measures. Any reasonable doubt must be resolved in favor of permitting the communication. The term does not include a communication that:

(A) exclusively discusses a legislative, judicial, or executive matter or issue;

(B) urges an officeholder to take a particular position or action regarding a matter or issue or urges the public to adopt a particular position and to contact an officeholder regarding the matter or issue;

(C) does not mention an election, candidacy, political party, opposing candidate, or voting by the general public; and

(D) does not take a position on any candidate's or officeholder's character, qualifications, or fitness for office.

Amendment No. 3 was adopted. (The vote was reconsidered later today, and Amendment No. 3 was withdrawn.)

SECTION _____. Section 302.0171, Government Code, as redesignated by this Act, is amended

(2) On page 6 of the Dunnam amendment, strike lines 8-10 and substitute the following:

SECTION _____. Section 302.019, Government Code, is redesignated as Section 302.0191, Government Code.

SECTION _____. Section 302.0191, Government Code, as redesignated by this Act, is amended by amending Subsections (a), (b), and (c), and adding Subsections (a-1), (d), and (e) to read as follows:

(3) On page 7 of the Dunnam amendment, between lines 6 and 7, insert the following:

~~[e) Except as provided by Subsections (a) and (b), all campaign expenditures must be made by the speaker candidate from campaign funds.]~~

(4) On page 12, of the Dunnam amendment, line 24, strike "Sections 302.019(c) and" and substitute "Section".

(5) On page 2 of the Hilderbran amendment, strike the text beginning on page 1, line 23, through and including page 2, line 13.

Amendment No. 4 was adopted.

Amendment No. 5

Representative Woolley offered the following amendment to HB 2511:

Amend HB 2511 by striking all below the enacting clause and substituting the following:

SECTION 1. (a) The presiding officer of each legislative standing committee with primary jurisdiction over ethics issues shall conduct an interim study on the regulation of:

- (1) expenditures on electioneering communications;
- (2) administrative expenditures in connection with political activity by corporations, labor organizations, and membership organizations; and
- (3) direct campaign expenditures by individuals.

(b) This section expires January 1, 2011.

SECTION 2. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect September 1, 2009.

HB 2511 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE PAXTON: Todd, would you explain to me who's covered? I think it was labor unions, corporations, and you've got this term, "membership organization." What exactly is "membership organization?"

REPRESENTATIVE T. SMITH: You can read the language in the bill as well as I can. We're not changing current law in terms of—

PAXTON: Membership organization is a new term defined in here, which I think would cover a lot of organizations now not covered including, maybe, the Farm Bureau?

T. SMITH: You know, there are a million different—

PAXTON: Texas Rifle Association?

T. SMITH: I don't know.

PAXTON: I think they would all be covered.

T. SMITH: Any trade association, cooperative, or corporation without capital stock that is composed of members—some or all of whom are vested with the authority to operate—it's in the bill?

PAXTON: Yeah, I think we're talking about thousands of new organizations restricted by this bill. Let me ask you this—

T. SMITH: They're not restricted.

PAXTON: Are limited liability companies covered by this?

T. SMITH: I don't believe so because they haven't been for a hundred years.

PAXTON: Alright, they're not covered. What about limited partnerships?

T. SMITH: I don't believe any partnership is covered in this bill because they haven't been for a hundred years.

PAXTON: Are limited liability partnerships covered?

T. SMITH: Same answer.

PAXTON: Okay, you realize that most law firms are limited liability partnerships. They would not be covered by this bill?

T. SMITH: As are engineering firms, architects, insurance agents, doctors, professionals across the board.

PAXTON: You're exactly right, but it seems odd to me that the Farm Bureau is covered by this, but we don't have law firms and other entities that you're talking about. There's a lot of loopholes in this bill.

T. SMITH: My understanding of the corporate entities that are included, and not included, is that it is precisely pursuant to current law.

PAXTON: Well, I understand that, but you're changing current law and you've pulled in thousands of new non—

T. SMITH: My understanding is whatever changes are in this legislation are simply reflecting current law in that regard.

PAXTON: But that's not true, you've got a new definition that says "membership organization"—it includes Farm Bureau, Texas Rifle Association, National Organization for Women. It includes thousands of new organizations and yet, the law firms, the architectural firms—they're not included in this. I don't understand that.

T. SMITH: Let me tell you why.

PAXTON: It seems like there's a lot of loopholes in this.

T. SMITH: That is an attempt to divert from what is really intended. The presumption in partnerships is that these people are involved in the decision to determine where to contribute political money. When you have a corporation, your typically smaller operations involving professionals across the state—again we're not changing anything, this is current law, we prohibit—

PAXTON: You are changing something. Membership organizations can include the Farm Bureau, thousands of new organizations that were not covered by this are now being covered, and yet you're not covering law firms, you're not covering a lot of these other entities, and, let me ask you this, how are you set up? Are you a PC? Are you an LOC?

T. SMITH: I am a sole proprietor.

PAXTON: Okay, well most law firms are not. And you wouldn't be covered by this either, but you're including a lot of organizations—

T. SMITH: As wouldn't any other sole proprietor in this state.

PAXTON: Todd, it just seems like there's a lot of loopholes in this that concern me. You're covering entities that probably shouldn't be covered, and you're leaving out other entities.

T. SMITH: In the extent that there are loopholes, there are loopholes that have been existing in the law for a hundred years, and let me answer your question. The reason that we prohibit corporate contributions in campaigns, and union contributions, is to protect the first amendment rights of the shareholders and the employees of those companies, so that their money is not used for political purposes that they disagree with. But what we do allow them to do is create a pact with the corporation by which their shareholders and their employees can make individual contributions they choose to make, and that money can be used for any political purpose. With regard to the partnerships, I think the policy decision over a hundred years has been that's just not likely to be a problem with that sort of association. That's different from a corporation.

PAXTON: You're saying that we should cover the Farm Bureau, but not law partnerships?

T. SMITH: I don't know what all operations are included within current law and which ones are not, but my understanding is we're not changing that.

PAXTON: Have you looked?

T. SMITH: My understanding is we're not changing it.

PAXTON: You are changing it. I'm reading it—membership organizations. If you look at how this is defined, you are now covering the Farm Bureau, but you are not covering law firms.

T. SMITH: This bill has been through the process of a committee hearing. It's been through the entire process and nobody until this minute has ever expressed a concern about that particular provision. There were people in my office, a dozen of them yesterday, expressing concerns, and that was not one of them. I don't believe this law changes that particular issue.

PAXTON: I would ask that this be reduced to writing.

T. SMITH: The Farm Bureau has not testified on the bill.

PAXTON: But they are covered.

HB 1976 ON THIRD READING
(by Solomons, Martinez Fischer, et al.)

HB 1976, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the operation of property owners' associations.

HB 1976 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative S. Miller raised a point of order against further consideration of HB 1976 under Article III, Section 35 of the Texas Constitution on the grounds that the bill violates the one subject rule.

The chair overruled the point of order and submitted the following statement:

Representative S. Miller raises a point of order against further consideration of HB 1976 under Rule 8, Section 3 of the House Rules and Article III, Section 35 of the Texas Constitution in that the bill contains more than one subject.

While these provisions clearly require the legislature to be mindful, the standard for finding a violation of the one-subject rule is very high; courts typically find violations of the one-subject rule only when there is no conceivable single subject that describes all of the elements of the bill. (House Journal, 76th Regular Session (1997), page 2912; House Journal, 77th Regular Session (1999))

The chair has reviewed House rulings on this issue over the last 30 years and has found very few instances in which such a point of order was sustained, a likely result of the very high standard for finding a violation of the rule.

In this instance, the chair believes that HB 1976 is capable of a constitutional construction because each element relates to the management of property owners' associations. The bill is broad in its scope of coverage and as such is a sort of omnibus bill covering property owners' associations. Condominiums are a form of property and thus amendments to the equivalent management associations constitute the same subject as contained in the rest of the bill. In fact, several sections of the bill already apply to condominiums. The changes made in HB 1976 to Chapter 202, Property Code (SECTIONS 3, 4, 5, and 6 of the floor substitute offered by Representative Solomons), apply to condominiums and their management associations, through the definitions contained in Sections 202.001(1) and (2), Property Code. Though Chapter 209, Property Code, and the changes proposed to it in the bill do not apply to condominiums regulated under Chapter 82, Property Code, this does not affect the analysis of whether the bill constitutes a single subject in this case.

Accordingly, the point of order is respectfully overruled.

added by this Act, and shall report its findings and recommendations to the 82nd Legislature not later than January 15, 2011. The study must include assessments of:

(1) the development of the market in ERCOT for the sale of surplus electricity, including the prices that retail electric providers and electric utilities, municipal electric utilities, and electric cooperatives in areas in which customer choice has not been introduced pay for surplus electricity, and the amount of surplus electricity such entities have purchased;

(2) the rate of adoption by customers in this state of distributed renewable generation, including generation by solar and other on-site renewable technologies, including a comparison of adoption rates in this state compared to the adoption rates in other states, the extent to which adoption rates vary by retail market structure, the amount of direct installation incentives, the pricing for purchasing of surplus electricity, and the extent to which adoption rates are affected by the cost of other electric supplies;

(3) a comparison of the default fair market value price for surplus electricity to:

(A) the local market clearing prices of energy at the time of day surplus electricity has been made available to the grid; and

(B) the avoided costs of electric utilities as determined in accordance with commission rules; and

(4) the extent to which electric service customers with distributed renewable generation help avoid transmission and distribution upgrades and reduce pollution, including an estimation of the value of those benefits regionally.

(c) The study report must include any recommendations for improvements in policies necessary to appropriately encourage the development of distributed renewable generation technologies on customer premises.

Amend HB 1243 on third reading (second reading engrossment) on page 13 by striking lines 11 and 12 and substituting:
added by this Act, and shall report its findings and recommendations to the 82nd Legislature not later than January 15, 2011. The study must include assessments of:

(1) the development of the market in ERCOT for the sale of surplus electricity, including the prices that retail electric providers and electric utilities, municipal electric utilities, and electric cooperatives in areas in which customer choice has not been introduced pay for surplus electricity, and the amount of surplus electricity these entities have purchased;

(2) the rate of adoption by customers in this state of distributed renewable generation, including generation by solar and other on-site renewable technologies, including a comparison of adoption rates in this state compared to the adoption rates in other states, the extent to which adoption rates vary by retail market structure, the amount of direct installation incentives, the pricing for purchasing of surplus electricity, and the extent to which adoption rates are affected by the cost of other electric supplies;

(3) a comparison of the default fair market value price for surplus electricity to:

(A) the local market clearing prices of energy at the time of day surplus electricity has been made available to the grid; and

(B) the avoided costs of electric utilities as determined in accordance with commission rules; and

(4) the extent to which electric service customers with distributed renewable generation help avoid transmission and distribution upgrades and reduce pollution, including an estimation of the value of those benefits regionally.

(c) The study report must include any recommendations for improvements in policies necessary to appropriately encourage the development of distributed renewable generation technologies on customer premises.
