The speaker recognized Representatives Laubenberg and Sanford who introduced Reverend Trey E. Graham, senior pastor, First Baptist Church, Melissa, who offered the invocation as follows:

Dear great God and king, we bow our hearts before you today in praise and worship. We humbly acknowledge that you are our Creator and our Redeemer. You are holy, and we are not. You are wise, and we are not. You are perfect, and we are not. You are God, and we are not, so we must depend on you.

I ask that your word would be the source for courage and insight. I pray that the members of this house would seek your face daily as they make important decisions which have consequences for millions of Texans. I pray that mercy and grace may abound in this chamber. I pray that our representatives will do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with their God. I pray that their deliberations and legislations would protect innocents, serve citizens, correct injustices, and value life.

Thank you for each member of this house and of the senate, citizens of Texas who have answered the call to serve our state and do the will of the people. Thank you for their commitments to us as Texans. Please bless them today, and please bless their families today. Please remind them that you love them and that we support them.

I ask you to provide wisdom when answers are missing, courage when the right choice must be made, and hope when darkness seems victorious. I pray for these members a constant willingness to follow the greatest commandment of Jesus: to love God and love one another. I ask you to bless our great state, to protect our nation, to provide for our needs, and lead us to be your people. I pray all of this in the name of my Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.
