Dear Gracious God, our Father, just for the privilege to be able to call you our God, we are so very thankful. We come recognizing that you and only you are God, and beside you there is no other. We now open up before you our very souls, but before we ask you for anything, we want to thank you for everything. Thank you for peace and prosperity; thank you for love and unity. Thank you for grace and mercy. Lord, you have been mighty good to us, so we thank you.

Now God, we lift before you our state and our nation—so splendid in possibility, but also stricken with so much uncertainty, especially in light of the situation and circumstances in Baltimore and other cities throughout our land. Give us the words and wisdom to teach our young people the difference between social revolution and moral transgression. And we ask that you teach the educated and sophisticated and those of us who are mature in years never to become well adjusted to injustice and never to become well adapted to indifference. Give us again, O Lord, if it is your perfect will for our lives, the vision of a nation and a state under God. Grant us wisdom and guidance to do whatever it is you would have us to do and to be what you would have us to be.

We pray for this august body to operate and deliberate and even cooperate on the moral imperative, which enjoins us always to act on a maxim of compassion, tolerance, and mutual respect. Help our elected officials and us, O God, to create laws and policies in good faith and common decency for a greater Texas and for all of your creation. Now, if you are not too busy to look in our direction, let the words we utter here with our mouths and the thoughts we think with our hearts be acceptable in thy sight. O Lord, our strength and our redeemer. Amen and thank God.

MAJOR STATE CALENDARHOUSE BILLS*SECOND READING

The following bills were laid before the house and read second time:

CSHB 1786 ON SECOND READING
(by Dutton)

CSHB 1786, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the transfer of driver and traffic safety education from the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Public Safety to the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation; changing the amounts of certain fees; amending a provision subject to a criminal penalty.

CSHB 1786 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE DUTTON: The Texas Education Agency has regulated the private driver training industry since 1989. With cuts to its staff, TEA has outsourced driver training regulation and struggles to effectively oversee this function. TEA has contracted with Austin Education Service Center to perform this function, and they've done that since 2011. TEA spends about $1.8 million on this program to license more than 1,000 private schools and nearly 3,000 instructors. The costs of the regulation are fully covered by license fees and the sale of 1.2 million certificates of course completion. The Sunset Commission evaluated the TEA's driver training program as part of the full sunset review of the agency, which was conducted in 2012. The commission found that the regulation of these private businesses did not fit well within TEA's core mission and recommended transferring it to the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation—TDLR. That's essentially what this bill does, members. I do have an amendment that clarifies a couple of things in the bill.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Dutton offered the following amendment to CSHB 1786:

Amend CSHB 1786 (house committee printing) as follows:

(1) On page 10, lines 22-24, strike "for a parent-taught course provider imposed under this chapter [Section 521.205, Transportation Code]" and substitute "for a driver education course conducted by a parent or other individual under Section 1001.112 [imposed under Section 521.205, Transportation Code]".

(2) On page 10, line 27 through page 11, line 1, strike "for a parent-taught course provider imposed under this chapter [Section 521.205, Transportation Code]" and substitute "for a driver education course conducted by a parent or other individual under Section 1001.112 [imposed under Section 521.205, Transportation Code]".

(3) On page 46, line 20, strike "Chapter 1001" and substitute "Section 1001.112".

(4) On page 46, line 22, strike "Chapter 1001" and substitute "Section 1001.112".

(5) On page 47, line 3, strike "Chapter 1001" and substitute "Section 1001.112".

DUTTON: On page 10 of the bill, this amendment clarifies that a parent, or other individual who meets the requirements of the parent-taught driver education program, is responsible for supervising a student's in-car instruction. That was somehow or another not clarified. Then on pages 46 and 47, it clarifies that the Department of Public Safety must collect and analyze collision data for students who complete the parent-taught driver education program. I move adoption of the amendment.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

REPRESENTATIVE TINDERHOLT: Does this bill make it more efficient and a more effective program?

DUTTON: Yes, I believe so. I believe just transferring it—and the problem with it was this, Mr. Tinderholt, that TEA, I think, would have continued to provide this function more effectively, but as you recall, we took out a lot of the financing for TEA during the session before last. As a consequence, what happened was TEA decided to outsource its function to the Austin Education Service function—which meant no longer did they want to be bothered with it, they didn't give it the kind of attention it deserved. That was the reason the Sunset staff recommended that it be transferred to TDLR.

TINDERHOLT: Okay. My final question, pretty simple—does this save money?

DUTTON: I believe it not only saves money, it will save lives because you'll have a better driver training program.

TINDERHOLT: Okay. I just wanted to clarify those couple of things. I appreciate it, and I think this is a good bill.

REPRESENTATIVE M. WHITE: Can you explain a little bit more about your amendment—because I parent-taught both of my kids how to drive, so I need a little bit more explanation in what this amendment intends.

DUTTON: Well, the amendment simply clarified, and this was a question that was raised when you read the language of the bill, as to whether or not—who met the requirements of the parent-taught driver education program. That's all that did on that one part. On the other part, it also clarified that the Department of Public Safety would continue to collect all the safety data related to parent driver training programs. That's the only two things it did.

REPRESENTATIVE STICKLAND: I'm curious about this amendment, too. I think there is a little bit of concern about what we're trying to accomplish. Can you explain any expansion or—can you explain the amendment just a little bit better for us?

DUTTON: It doesn't expand anything. What it did is it simply clarifies that a parent, or other individual who meets the requirements of the parent-taught driver education, is responsible for supervising the in-car instruction of the student. That was a question as to whether or not a parent could actually teach the student, their child, the class, and then have someone else conduct the in-car instruction part of it. This just says that the parent will not only provide the instruction, the out-of-car instruction, but also the in-car instruction.

STICKLAND: But you said something about collecting data?

DUTTON: That's in the other part of the bill where the Department of Public Safety collects and analyzes collision data based on students who complete the parent-taught driver education program.

STICKLAND: Is that a new collection of data? Are they doing that right now?

DUTTON: Yes, this just clarifies it in this bill.

STICKLAND: So a parent that's teaching their kid how to drive is not going to be required to tell them—

DUTTON: Do anything more than they're doing right now, no, sir, absolutely not.

REPRESENTATIVE PHILLIPS: Mr. Dutton, TEA has done the drivers license coursework for a long time—

DUTTON: Driver training.

PHILLIPS: Yes, driver training. So what happened is we gutted TEA, and they outsourced it to an education agency. I've got to say they've done a good job for what they were given. I've worked with them in my role—they've done a good job. What this does is this takes it to TDLR so it'll get the attention it needs on a statewide basis. It doesn't change parent-taught; it doesn't change commercial; it doesn't change the school.

DUTTON: Doesn't make any substantive changes. It simply provides the transfer of the function from TEA to TDLR.

PHILLIPS: We, at the request of those—or the reason why you maintain crash statistics is so that if people want to use those schools, they know which one to use. Do you know, Mr. Dutton, what we found from this testing, or not testing, what we found from the research, is that kids have accidents about the same percent, whether it's parent-taught; whether it's school-taught; or whether it's a commercial provider?

DUTTON: Exactly. We wouldn't have known that but for the fact that we mandated that they collect the stats.

PHILLIPS: And those stats are out there. Also, it's something that—but also if you've got a commercial place that has a lot of accidents—their kids have a lot of accidents coming out of that one—you may choose to do the one next door. It's good the public has an understanding of which ones are more successful.

DUTTON: That's using the data, but this doesn't change any of that. None of that's changed. We're just changing where the function lies within state government.

PHILLIPS: And your amendment doesn't change anything—it looks like it's the same wording except instead of saying parent-taught 100, it's saying any of those under 100.003 of—it looks like it's a clarification more than any kind of law change.

DUTTON: That's essentially all it is, yes.

REPRESENTATIVE SIMPSON: Is DPS involved now in this educational process and training?

DUTTON: No, only in collecting the data.

SIMPSON: Will they be involved in—

DUTTON: Only in collecting the data.

SIMPSON: Okay.

DUTTON: This doesn't change anything that's going on now, David. All we're doing is saying that rather than being under the umbrella of TEA, everything's going to now be transferred over to TDLR. So everything that's going on under that umbrella at TEA, which is being done by the Austin Education Service Center, is now simply going to be all handled under TDLR.

CSHB 1282 ON SECOND READING

(by Zerwas, Howard, S. Davis, Sheffield, Farrar, et al.)

CSHB 1282, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to a human papillomavirus-associated cancer strategic plan developed by the Department of State Health Services.

CSHB 1282 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE ZERWAS: CSHB 1282 directs the Department of State Health Services to develop a strategic plan to significantly reduce morbidity and mortality from cancers associated with HPV, or the human papillomavirus. The strategic plan does not mandate vaccines; it only requires DSHS to do a number of things. They include things like identify barriers to prevention, screening, and treatment of HPV; review current technologies and best practices for screening, diagnosis, and prevention; identify methods to increase vaccinations and screenings; develop methods for establishing partnerships to increase awareness of the disease and the importance of education and screening—a whole number of other things. But the bill is modeled after the Texas Cervical Cancer Strategic Plan passed by the legislature in 2005.

CSHB 1282 requires DSHS to work with CPRIT and authorizes them to convene workgroups to assist them in development of the strategic plan. These workgroups are intended to provide broad perspectives and expertise. To emphasize, this is a directive for a strategic plan. It is no more and no less.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Stickland offered the following amendment to CSHB 1282:

Amend CSHB 1282 (house committee printing) on page 2, between lines 4-5, by inserting the following appropriately numbered subdivision and renumbering subsequent subdivisions accordingly:

() public advocates concerned with issues related to vaccine-preventable diseases;

REPRESENTATIVE STICKLAND: This just allows public advocates to be involved in this process, and I believe it's acceptable to the author.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Stickland offered the following amendment to CSHB 1282:

Amend CSHB 1282 (house committee printing) on page 2, line 17, between "methods" and "to", by inserting ", other than a mandate,".

STICKLAND: This is just some clarifying language to accomplish what Dr. Zerwas has been working for, and I believe it is acceptable to the author, as well.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Stickland moved to print all remarks on CSHB 1282.

The motion prevailed.

ZERWAS: I think the amendments offered by Representative Stickland are appropriate amendments. They certainly will add some certainty to the bill, and it will actually help us kind of move forward on developing this strategic plan.

REPRESENTATIVE SPITZER: Thank you, Dr. Zerwas, for bringing up this very interesting bill. It seems to be very focused on cervical cancer and the fact that there's quite a bit of HPV, which is also oral cancer. There just doesn't seem to be earlier in the list an ear, nose and throat surgeon, oncologist, radiation oncologist. It just seems to be really focused more on, frankly, on the vaccine issue than it does to anything else. I mean, it actually says we have to identify methods to increase the number of vaccinated people to review vaccine-related—let me see exactly where this is—importance of vaccine education, identify actions necessary to increase vaccines. I'm afraid this is just some sort of a Gardasil that next year we're going to come back with a mandate to say that we have to vaccinate people.

ZERWAS: Well, I appreciate that, and that's why we specifically state in there that this is simply to develop a strategic plan to increase awareness and identify ways to enhance the uptake because at the end of the day, if you look at cost-effective ways to treat cancers, there is no more cost-effective way than this. At least that's what the science would prove out, and so we're talking about, yes, cervical cancer, but we're talking about head and neck cancers in men in their 50s and so forth. I had a very close encounter with this, not personally, but the CEO of our medical practice had exactly that happen. It is a cancer that would have been very preventable with this type of a vaccine.

So it's really not about a mandate, I have to tell you again, and that's in part of my layout, and that's the reason Representative Stickland brought his amendment to it. It's really intended for us to develop strategies that help increase the awareness—help us as physicians, you know, recognize whether we think it's something we would recommend to our patients or not. My sense on this—and I've had a conversation on this back in 2007 when there was another conversation about it—is this is a decision that needs to be made between the physicians, the patients, the parents, if it's a child, in terms of the utility of this. And so, you know, there's a lot of good science around this particular vaccine, but I think that we need to sit down and strategically look at how do we raise an understanding and awareness around what, right now, appears to be the most cost-effective way of preventing a cancer, at least related to the head and neck cancers in men and certain other types of cancers.

SPITZER: But you're saying the most cost-effective way is the vaccine? Just a little clarification there.

ZERWAS: That is one of the most cost-effective ways to prevent these HPV-related cancers because, as you know, as a physician, HPV is ubiquitous in terms of people that have been exposed to it and can ultimately, potentially, you know, be treated for what would be some of these variants of HPV that are actually associated with cancer.

STICKLAND: Mr. Zerwas, I appreciate you working with me on those amendments. You are aware that there were a couple of groups that voiced concerns about this bill.

ZERWAS: Yes.

STICKLAND: You're also aware that those concerns have now been addressed.

ZERWAS: There were a couple of groups that you mentioned that had some concerns about it and that with these amendments they actually are supportive of it.

STICKLAND: Texas Eagle Forum is one of them. Again, I appreciate you working with us on this issue.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE HUBERTY: I think we talked about it, and Representative Simmons and I have very similar concerns about special education children for a very particular reason when we started talking about this. Your bill will allow—currently, if you have a 504 kid, they create an IEP right?

REPRESENTATIVE VANDEAVER: That's correct.

HUBERTY: And that IEP can be designated, so this bill—I believe the way that it was written is such that it really does allow to do that particular thing. What his amendment specifically addressed to make it germane was the English language arts portion of your bill, right?

VANDEAVER: That's correct.

HUBERTY: Which, by the way, is not a federal requirement. So the writing that we have in the State of Texas today is not a federal requirement?

VANDEAVER: That's correct.

HUBERTY: Okay. So I think it accomplishes—I think the way that you have it structured, you know—but the intent is that if I'm a parent of a special needs child this will now give some flexibility in my ARD meeting with my student to be able to work with them on a particular assessment instrument that is applicable to their IEP. Would you agree with that?

VANDEAVER: I would agree.
