HB 1535 ON THIRD READING
(by Frullo, Huberty, Phelan, Deshotel, Otto, et al.)

HB 1535, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to rates of and certificates of convenience and necessity for certain non-ERCOT electric utilities; authorizing a surcharge.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Frullo offered the following amendment to HB 1535:

Amend HB 1535 on third reading as follows:

(1) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 36.112, Utilities Code, strike added Subsections 36.112(e) and (f) and substitute the following:

(e) An electric utility that makes an election under Subsection (b) is not precluded from proposing known and measurable adjustments to the utility's historical rate information as permitted by this title and regulatory authority rules.

(f) Without limiting the availability of known and measurable adjustments described by Subsection (e), the regulatory authority shall allow an affected electric utility to make a known and measurable adjustment to include in the utility's rates the prudent capital investment, a reasonable return on such capital investment, depreciation expense, reasonable and necessary operating expenses, and all attendant impacts, including any offsetting revenue, as determined by the regulatory authority, associated with a newly constructed or acquired natural gas-fired generation facility. The regulatory authority is required to allow the adjustment only if the facility is in service before the effective date of new rates. The adjustment may be made regardless of whether the investment is less than 10 percent of the utility's rate base before the date of the adjustment.

(2) Strike the SECTION of the bill adding Section 36.157, Utilities Code.

(3) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 36.211, Utilities Code, strike added Subsections 36.211(b) and (c) and substitute the following:

(b) In a rate proceeding under Subchapter D, or if requested by an electric utility in the utility's statement of intent initiating a rate proceeding under Subchapter C, notwithstanding Section 36.109(a), the final rate set in the proceeding, whether a rate increase or rate decrease, shall be made effective for consumption on and after the 155th day after the date the rate-filing package is filed.

(c) The regulatory authority shall:

(1) require the electric utility to refund to customers money collected in excess of the rate finally ordered on or after the 155th day after the date the rate-filing package is filed; or

(2) authorize the electric utility to surcharge bills to recover the amount by which the money collected on or after the 155th day after the date the rate-filing package is filed is less than the money that would have been collected under the rate finally ordered.

(4) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 36.211, Utilities Code, in added Section 36.211(d), strike "Subsection (b)" and substitute "Subsection (c)".

(4) Add the following appropriately numbered SECTION to the bill and renumber subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION ____. Subchapter E, Chapter 36, Utilities Code, is amended by adding Section 36.212 to read as follows:

Sec. 36.212. RATE CASE REQUIREMENT FOR CERTAIN NON-ERCOT UTILITIES. (a) This section applies only to an electric utility that operates solely outside of ERCOT.

(b) The commission shall require an electric utility to make the filings with regulatory authorities required by Subchapter B, Chapter 33, and to file a rate-filing package under Subchapter D with the commission to initiate a comprehensive base rate proceeding before all of the utility's regulatory authorities:

(1) on or before the fourth anniversary of the date of the final order in the electric utility's most recent comprehensive base rate proceeding; or

(2) if, before the anniversary described by Subdivision (1), the electric utility earns materially more than the utility's authorized rate of return on investment, on a weather-normalized basis, in the utility's two most recent consecutive commission earnings monitoring reports.

(c) The electric utility must make the filings described by Subsection (b) not later than the 120th day after the date the commission notifies the utility of the requirement described by Subsection (b). The 120-day period may be extended in the manner provided by Section 36.153(b).

(d) The commission may extend the time period described by Subsection (b)(1) and set a new deadline if the commission determines that a comprehensive base rate case would not result in materially different rates. The commission shall give interested parties a reasonable opportunity to present materials and argument before making a determination under this subsection.

(e) The commission shall adopt rules implementing this section, including appropriate notice and scheduling requirements.

(f) This section does not limit the authority of a regulatory authority under Subchapter D.

(g) This section expires September 1, 2023.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

HB 2474 ON THIRD READING

(by Sheffield, Zerwas, R. Miller, Blanco, Simmons, et al.)

HB 2474, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to requirements for and the transparency of epidemiological reports and immunization exemption information and reports.

HB 2474 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE SHEFFIELD: This third reading is parents' right to know. It takes—whether you knew it or not, your schools do turn in by aggregate data immunization status on all of its students by statute. This bill changes from district-wide aggregate numbers to campus aggregate numbers.

REPRESENTATIVE ZEDLER: Dr. Sheffield, have you looked into whether this could possibly violate the FERPA laws?

SHEFFIELD: Yes, we have. We have a response to that. I'll quote from Department of State Health Services: "During our agency bill analysis of HB 2474, we did not identify any possible conflicts with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. This information is already relayed to the department at a more aggregate school district level. As long as the information is reported to us in aggregate form, the reporting remains in compliance with FERPA."

ZEDLER: There's another private organization. They say this—if I am only publishing aggregate data tables, do I need to worry about or be concerned about disclosure avoidance? Their answer is yes, and they say some risk of disclosure still remains, however, in circumstances where one or more students possess a unique or uncommon characteristic which would allow them to be identified, for instance, some of the religious groups and things like that.

SHEFFIELD: If you remember that form I showed you, it states religious exemption, and it does not qualify it any further—any religious exemption.

ZEDLER: Right, but nonetheless, I did want to point that out. Another thing, are you familiar with the Milbank Quarterly?

SHEFFIELD: No sir, I'm not. Please explain.

ZEDLER: The Milbank Quarterly is a journal of the population health and health policy of the University of Michigan School of Public Health, and the name of this article that they came out with is "Power and Persuasion in the Vaccine Debates: An Analysis of Political Efforts and Outcomes in the United States." And on page 504, this is what they say, "Immunization supporters thus could do more to highlight the sympathetic figures on their side, such as immune compromised children who rely on herd immunity. . . For example, a bill could require that schools and day care centers publicly post or distribute to parents the percentages of students with vaccine exemptions or the percentage of staff who have received a flu shot or whooping cough booster." Who brought this bill to you?

SHEFFIELD: Texas Medical Association and the Public Health Coalition.

ZEDLER: Family Health Coalition, right?

SHEFFIELD: No, Public Health Coalition is what I said.

ZEDLER: Public Health Coalition. Okay, but the idea of this bill was supposedly to give the parents of children who might have immune suppression to, in essence, have the information. Is that right?

SHEFFIELD: That is correct. To further delineate, they would have the information on a campus-wide, when there are several campuses in a district to which they might send their children. And they would choose voluntarily to want to send their immunocompromised child to a campus that has a higher level of vaccination, grossly, thus providing more herd immunity.

ZEDLER: But it does sound like a page right out of this article, doesn't it?

SHEFFIELD: If I'd had a knowledge of that article before this, we could address that article better.

ZEDLER: Well, I just got it myself.

SHEFFIELD: Let me restate, the statute that we're following here has been in place for some time. We are not starting a new statute.

ZEDLER: But that was only by the district. Now we're getting it down to individual campuses, right?

SHEFFIELD: Let me point out this factor—when we get to a class five or less or a total campus 65 or less, that information is not given out because that number is felt to be too small to retain anonymity.

ZEDLER: But isn't it also true though, that, in essence, the message is—if we have a higher ratio of vaccinated children, your immune-suppressed child is going to be safer. Isn't that right?

SHEFFIELD: That is the standard medical frame of mind at this time, yes, sir.

ZEDLER: Is there any scientific evidence to back it up?

SHEFFIELD: If you'd wanted me to pull studies confirming that, I would've needed more time to do that.

ZEDLER: Well, do you think that MD Anderson might be a pretty good source?

SHEFFIELD: Depending on—you have to narrowly scope what study you're looking for. You can find 100 studies out there; that doesn't mean you have found 100 good studies.

ZEDLER: MD Anderson, in their Child Visitation Room, they say—here's what they restrict it to: "Children who do not pass the screening cannot be taken to the Child Visitation Room. All children in the visitation room must have a negative screen for recent illnesses, exposure to chickenpox, or live vaccines."

SHEFFIELD: Yes, sir, I understand why they say that.

ZEDLER: Why do they say that?

SHEFFIELD: There may be some low-level, very low-level, shedding of the virus from the vaccines from these well children who are coming to visit, but they are coming to visit ill children.

ZEDLER: Now the deal though is that this bill that you have doesn't cover those cases, do they? In other words, in reality—

SHEFFIELD: Wait a minute, hospital cases? You're talking about hospital cases at MD Anderson?

ZEDLER: No, I'm also talking about that child who is recently vaccinated, is shedding those bacteria and, in essence, that really poses the greatest risk to a child who is immune-suppressed, doesn't it?

SHEFFIELD: Two responses to that question. First, you mentioned bacteria shedding; I know you meant virus shedding.

ZEDLER: Right.

SHEFFIELD: Second, when parents have an immunocompromised child, I believe you will find these parents much more likely than not to be aware of when their child needs to avoid other children due to their treatment for their disease, making that child further immunocompromised. And when they allow that child to go to the school, that's when the child is between treatments to where their immune level is as strong as possible, believed to be strong enough to ward off infections found in that school. That's my response, sir.

ZEDLER: Okay, but if you're talking about when we're going to allow the immune-suppressed child to go to school—the deal is, your study doesn't cover these children who have been recently vaccinated with live vaccines, because they may be going in and out at all different times, right? So isn't the truth that this has little to do—I know you're well intentioned. I believe you are well intentioned.

SHEFFIELD: Well, thank you.

ZEDLER: But the fact of the matter is, it appears that this policy was brought by people who have a political interest in moving this issue forward. Isn't that right?

SHEFFIELD: What we were attempting to do with this bill when it was first filed and heard, before it was amended, was keep the information dumbed down to the same level it was before where it would have no political impact. All we were doing is reporting the same aggregate numbers that came on a district, breaking it down to the campuses inside that district. As I can think, it would be understandable, when you have several campuses in a district, you're talking about larger system of schools, larger number of students. That's all this bill is trying to do is report the same aggregate numbers as before.

ZEDLER: But here's the fact—the message is that if you can find a school with a higher ratio of children who have been immunized, if I have an immune-suppressed child, that child would be safer. Is that right?

SHEFFIELD: That is what the parents felt that was correct, and that's why they brought it to us, and that's why this bill is called the Parents' Right to Know.

ZEDLER: Well, I suggest to you, they brought it under one frame where the reality was—and I believe some people knew about it, who brought it to you—it was "Power and Persuasion in the Vaccine Debates: An Analysis of Political Efforts and Outcomes." The fact of the matter is, is that in a number of cases where we've seen outbreaks, many of the times it was the children who had been vaccinated who also still caught the disease, didn't they?

SHEFFIELD: Let me explain on a medical background how that can occur. To go back before vaccines, that's in the days where we had epidemics: everyone in this room getting wiped out with the disease or the majority of them getting ill. Now, since we have so many vaccines, you don't hear of epidemics in our country. You may hear of outbreaks because you will have smaller groups not vaccinated, but as soon as that virus runs into the surrounding population that is vaccinated, it stops. So now we have outbreaks. Now, another factor about the vaccine—vaccines are to build your own body's response to that infection to prevent that infection as much as possible, not 100 percent. Some of them get very, very close, but you still can't be perfect. So what happens when you will have children who have received the vaccine or even adults who have received some vaccine and still get that disease, they will classically have fewer symptoms of that disease, a shorter disease course, lower morbidity and mortality, even though they may have gotten the vaccine. They will still recover quicker and better than people who didn't have the vaccine is my answer, sir. Please, your response.

ZEDLER: Okay, it says: In a recent pertussis outbreak in a vaccinated Utah school. Nineteen kids in Summit, Colorado diagnosed with whooping cough despite being up-to-date on the vaccine. Recent pertussis outbreak in vaccinated California school—school officials said of the 524 students at Montgomery Park, 99.5 percent were vaccinated. And so the fact of the matter is—the fact that they're vaccinated doesn't make them safe for the immune-suppressed child. Isn't that right?

SHEFFIELD: I would say to a certain point, you are correct.

ZEDLER: Okay, so in essence, the fact is that a higher ratio doesn't necessarily mean your child is safer. The other thing is that one of the things that MD Anderson warns about is—what do they say? Do not bring in children who have recently been vaccinated with live virus vaccines.

SHEFFIELD: I agree, and we have discussed why.

ZEDLER: And in essence, that can happen all year round, can't it?

SHEFFIELD: Again, I must point out that what I think is not said in that study. The MD Anderson child on the other side of that door is a severely ill child with a very immunosuppressed state. You don't want any child who may be ill with a cold or flu or any kind of vaccine shedding going into the presence of that severely immunocompromised child.

ZEDLER: But, nonetheless, they don't say in here, MD Anderson doesn't say—don't bring your child if they are not up to record or not up to date on their vaccination, do they?

SHEFFIELD: I have not heard you say that, no.

ZEDLER: Right, they don't say that. And they don't say if your child has never been vaccinated, don't bring them here. They don't say that, do they?

SHEFFIELD: You're the one who read the study. I say no.

ZEDLER: The only thing they say is if they've been recently vaccinated with a live virus vaccine.

SHEFFIELD: That is what you have said, yes.

ZEDLER: So in essence, basically, we're really misleading the people, we're misleading the parents when we try and send out something that suggests that a higher rate of vaccination is going to make their child safer.

SHEFFIELD: Respectfully, medically I disagree with your last statement.

REPRESENTATIVE STICKLAND: Representative Sheffield, you keep using a concept—I don't know where you got it but—you keep saying a parent's right to know. Can you explain to me what that means?

SHEFFIELD: The parent's right to know how many other kids in their child's school are totally or not totally vaccinated. The parent's right to know that information.

STICKLAND: And do you believe in a parent's right to privacy?

SHEFFIELD: Of course. Have you seen the form—

STICKLAND: And Representative Sheffield where will you—I can't see that, what—

SHEFFIELD: This is the form the schools use now, and you will see on there, there are no children's names, ages, addresses, or birthdates. So we believe the privacy is protected.

STICKLAND: And, representative, you are aware that there are parents currently in the State of Texas who do believe that this bill is an invasion of their privacy and their right to make a medical decision without scrutiny or pressure or letting everybody else know about it. And I'm just wondering, on a bigger philosophical level, where are you willing to draw the line? At what point do you believe that personal liberty or privacy is bigger or more important for this body to protect than the parent's right to know, or whatever clever thing that you come up with?

SHEFFIELD: I appreciate you for saying that I can come up with clever things to say; thank you very much. My two responses to this is—if parents that you represent do not like this bill or this reporting, they should empower you and your colleagues to bring forth a bill and remove this statute. They have the freedom to do so, do they not?

STICKLAND: I'm not sure where you're trying to go with that, but—

SHEFFIELD: If you did not like HB 2474 if it's passed—next session or even this session, the people you represent could have empowered you to say, let's do a bill to remove that statute of reporting entirely.

STICKLAND: That's fine, and we'll deal with that next session, but right now we have this bill in front of us. I'm just wondering, again, on a philosophical level, how many personal liberties and how much personal privacy, especially regarding one's own health care decisions, are you willing to sacrifice in the name of public health?

SHEFFIELD: There are two things that you're incorrect about on your last statement I wish to point out, respectively. Number one, the privacy issue. As you have seen the form yourself, has no names, no ages, no addresses, no dates of birth; it's aggregate numbers only. Therefore, there is no privacy invasion. Second, you were talking about the loss of freedom. This does not mandate any child getting vaccinations if the parent does not want them to. So the parent, as we all know from earlier discussions, if they do not want their children to have vaccines they can have a form signed at school—I am a conscientious objector to vaccines, my child has a medical reason not to have vaccines—and their child can go to that school. They have not lost that freedom, in my opinion.

STICKLAND: Representative Sheffield, I just have to completely disagree with you. I think that it's absolutely sad that for a parent to make a medical decision that they feel is best for their child, you're going to require them to fill out any form from the government whatsoever.

SHEFFIELD: That form is not filled out by the parents; it's filled out by the school.

REPRESENTATIVE SPRINGER: Representative Sheffield, you came to my office, and we talked about this bill. One of the things that came up when we did this is that I have 72 school districts that basically are already doing this law today because I have one campus per school district. And in all those 165,000 people I represent, with those 72 school districts, I've never heard any one of them complaining that they know what campus is actually immunized or not immunized. Did we have that conversation?

SHEFFIELD: Yes.

SPRINGER: And so this bill would basically bring all the other ISDs at the same even playing field that all my ISDs have been on since we started recording. Is that correct?

SHEFFIELD: Yes.

REPRESENTATIVE PHILLIPS: Just to make clear, you are not requiring any new information to be collected?

SHEFFIELD: That is correct.

PHILLIPS: The data is already there—there's no additional cost to my guys?

SHEFFIELD: Wait a minute, he is correct. Simpson's amendment changed it on Friday. Thank you, Mr. Zedler, for pointing that out.

PHILLIPS: Explain Simpson's amendment.

SHEFFIELD: Mr. Simpson may need to get up here and explain his amendment; he can do it better.

PHILLIPS: Can we have an amendment to take it off since he's not here?

SHEFFIELD: He's right there. Mr. Simpson, would you explain to this body, please, your amendment on HB 2474 that came on Friday, please.

REPRESENTATIVE SIMPSON: Well, first of all, thank you and your staff for working with me and my staff. I do think it helps give a broader picture of what we're doing here. That it doesn't just give an exemption rate, a flat rate, if you are exempt one time, but you're good on all the other vaccines. It shows a more accurate image of what's really going on with the amendment. So I still support your bill, and I think it actually gives a better idea of what's going on in the school. Right now, if you just have one exemption on one vaccine it might appear that you're exempt on all of them, but it may just be one of them and not all. I think this gives a more accurate picture of what's going on, and so I still support your bill.

REPRESENTATIVE CROWNOVER: Dr. Sheffield, I want to just reiterate, does the State of Texas require anyone to get their child vaccinated if that is against their will?

SHEFFIELD: No, it does not. That is correct.

CROWNOVER: They do not require anyone to get a vaccination if that is against the parent's will?

SHEFFIELD: That is correct, and we are not changing that in either HB 2171 or HB 2474.

CROWNOVER: And the other thing important I think to know is that Texas is one of the states with the highest vaccination rate.

SHEFFIELD: That is correct also.

COMMITTEE GRANTED PERMISSION TO MEET

Representative Coleman requested permission for the Committee on County Affairs to meet while the house is in session, at 3:25 p.m. today, in 1W.14, to consider HB 4210 and pending business.

Permission to meet was granted.

COMMITTEE MEETING ANNOUNCEMENT

The following committee meeting was announced:

County Affairs, 3:25 p.m. today, 1W.14, for a formal meeting, to consider HB 4210 and pending business.

ZEDLER: I'll be very, very brief, but I would like your attention. This publication came out toward the middle of last year, and again the title of the publication is "Power and Persuasion in the Vaccine Debates: An Analysis of Political Efforts and Outcomes in the United States." And it says, "For example, a bill could require that schools and day care centers publicly post or distribute to parents the percentage of students with vaccinated exemptions." My friends, Chairman Crownover is absolutely right. The State of Texas will not force you to get a vaccine, but you know what? Peer pressure will. The fact of the matter is if your child is bullied into this, then guess what? That is a way to get people to get vaccinated beyond their real desires. So the fact of the matter is, this is a political answer that—now don't get me wrong, when these people came before our committee, yes, they came to us with a guise that this was going to give information to parents. We now know the truth, right here.

The other thing is this—I believe a sound authority on this is MD Anderson. MD Anderson doesn't say, we want to make sure that all your children are up to date on their vaccinations. It doesn't say we're going to check to see if they've been vaccinated. They're going to ask, have they been vaccinated with a live vaccine? And the fact of the matter is, is that the numbers that are going to be in this bill nowhere report that. So the fact of the matter is, if you believe first of all, and listening to an authoritative source, you need to light this board up red. The other thing is, if you don't believe in bullying by parents who've been misled by the information that's going to come forth to them, then the fact of the matter is, if you don't believe in bullying, if you don't believe in witch hunts, you need to light this board red.

REPRESENTATIVE COLEMAN: Representative Zedler, is the Milbank that's under University of Michigan—is it some subversive organization?

ZEDLER: Oh, no. Listen, there are a lot of people who are not subversive that absolutely still believe that people need to be required—

COLEMAN: I'm asking you a question.

ZEDLER: Okay.

COLEMAN: These are folks that have done legitimate research on people and their attitudes and how they approach things, is that correct?

ZEDLER: You know I can't answer to all the rest of the stuff they do.

COLEMAN: I am familiar with Milbank. Milbank is the family, and their foundation is a highly regarded health care foundation in this country. They try to do good research to send our public health ideals in the right direction. I understand your challenge, but this is a unique identifier. There are no names, there's nothing like that. This is, I believe, for the safety of children who have leukemia and other illnesses where they are immunocompromised. Is that correct?

ZEDLER: Well, no, the fact of the matter is, when we get all the information out there what we find out is that does not prove safety for them. What it boils down to is, first of all, when we've seen a lot of these outbreaks, many of the children who came down with the disease were fully vaccinated.

COLEMAN: But I believe it's important to not correlate two different studies that are doing two different things—to act as if one of the studies, or guidelines, by MD Anderson is the same as getting vaccinated or not vaccinated. They are dealing with a child that is going to visit someone in the hospital that at that time they actually screen the individual for any illness they may have. Is that correct?

ZEDLER: Well, they ask them these questions.

COLEMAN: No, answer the question.

ZEDLER: No, they ask them these questions.

COLEMAN: But they also ask them the question whether or not they're ill, don't they?

ZEDLER: Well certainly, and I would agree with anybody that if you have an ill child, don't send them to school.

COLEMAN: Mr. Zedler, that's the screen to determine whether a child is sick, whether they've had a vaccination or not, is that correct?

ZEDLER: That is, yes.

COLEMAN: Thank you.

ZEDLER: The deal is, what it doesn't answer is, have you—in this bill, it doesn't ask anywhere have you been vaccinated recently with a live vaccine, which poses, by the way, the greatest risk to the child.

REPRESENTATIVE J. WHITE: Representative Zedler, could you help me out? What potential concerns would this bill bring up to you if you represented say a small district with a very small student population, say of 100 to 200 school kids?

ZEDLER: Well, basically what it would be is they would start going through—if you had a parent with an immune-suppressed child, that parent is not going to go out and say, gee, I'm going to choose another school. What they're going to do is they're going to come in and say, I'm going to start looking for the children who are not fully vaccinated—believing the message of this bill and that is, if we can get the rates up, my child is safer. When the fact of the matter is, we've looked at the evidence behind it, and we know that is false. Let me tell you what's going to happen. All they need to do is have somebody with that kind of mentality, and there's going to be a witch hunt, and there's going to be bullying of children who either have a religious exemption or who have a philosophical exemption.

Mr. Speaker, members, with that I close, but I encourage you to vote against this bill because, while well intentioned, it will not provide safety or answers to the child that is immune-suppressed. It will actually, by giving them false information, give them false security. The other thing is, if you listen to the authority on this, MD Anderson, they don't ask has your child been vaccinated; they don't ask are they up to date. What they ask is, have they been recently vaccinated with a live vaccine? That is because that is what poses the greatest risk to a child. The other thing is that this bill will be used for bullying and witch hunts, and that is it, thank you.

SHEFFIELD: I appreciate that we have had a very thorough discussion, all the points are up, time to make a vote. I move passage.

CSHB 4168 ON SECOND READING

(by D. Bonnen, R. Miller, Zerwas, Reynolds, and E. Thompson)

CSHB 4168, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the composition of the board of directors and the powers of the Gulf Coast Water Authority.

(Speaker in the chair)

CSHB 4168 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE D. BONNEN: This is a local bill. I begin by telling you I apologize that we have to have a Fort Bend County, Brazoria County, Galveston County issue here, but what we're simply trying to do is bring—if you know our water issues, we're in these water battles regionally. We've got to be in these together. So what we're simply wanting to make sure is that each county has a reasoned footing on the board. Presently, the Gulf Coast Water Authority board has seven members from Galveston County, one member from Brazoria, and one member from Fort Bend. What this bill will do is it will ensure parity, meaning you must have at least one member of another county vote with you to have a majority. So there will be four members from Galveston County; they'll still have the most members on this board. There will be three members from Brazoria County, so one less than Galveston, and two members from Fort Bend County, two less than Galveston, one less than Brazoria. But most magically, what it will require is that you have the vote of another county's board member to support any action that would be taken by the board. What it really does is it improves the governance structure of Gulf Coast Water Authority, allowing it to be what it's supposed to be, which is a regional water authority to support the future water needs for Galveston, Brazoria, and Fort Bend Counties.

Amendment No. 1

Representative G. Bonnen offered the following amendment to CSHB 4168:

Amend CSHB 4168 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTION to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Chapter 712, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965, is amended by adding Section 5(b) to read as follows:

Sec. 5(b). A director appointed under Section 5(a) to represent municipal or industrial interests must be a customer of or represent an entity that is a customer of the district.

REPRESENTATIVE G. BONNEN: What this amendment does is it requires that a representative who is on the board of the Gulf Coast Water Authority must be representing a customer of the Water Authority, and I believe this amendment is acceptable to the author.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

Representative G. Bonnen offered the following amendment to CSHB 4168:

Amend CSHB 4168 (house committee printing) as follows:

(1) On page 2, line 1, strike "nine" and substitute "eleven ~~nine~~".

(2) On page 2 of the bill, strike lines 13-16 and substitute the following:

(1) six directors appointed by the Galveston County Commissioners Court, one of whom represents municipal interests, two of whom represent industrial interests, and three of whom represent the county at large;

(3) On page 4, line 13, strike "four" and substitute "five".

(4) On page 4, line 14, strike "five" and substitute "six".

G. BONNEN: This amendment deals with the structure of the board. And to give you a little bit of background, the Gulf Coast Water Authority was started in Galveston County. Currently, about 75 percent of the revenues that come to the Gulf Coast Water Authority are generated in Galveston County, 68 percent of the contracts are with Galveston County consumers, and until four years ago, the board was comprised of members from Galveston County. That board composition was amended four years ago to add one person from Fort Bend County and one person from Brazoria County. What this bill in front of you would do is it would actually take a controlling interest of the board and give it to Brazoria and Fort Bend Counties combined over Galveston County. So this amendment, recognizing that these counties, Brazoria and Fort Bend, would like to have greater representation, expands the board. It expands it from seven members to 11 members, six of whom would be from Galveston County, three would be appointed at large by the Commissioners Court, two would represent industrial interests, one would represent municipal interests. The current provisions in the bill with respect to Brazoria County would expand its representation from one to three, and one would be a municipal representative, one would be an industrial, one would be an agricultural—that remains unchanged. This amendment does not change that. And then similarly in the bill, Fort Bend County would have two representatives on the board, and this amendment does not change that either. So you would then have 11 total members on the board: six from Galveston County, three from Brazoria County, two from Fort Bend County, with agricultural, municipal, and industrial interests represented from Brazoria County.

REPRESENTATIVE ZERWAS: I'm trying to understand what Speaker Bonnen is trying to accomplish is such that there's not the ability for anybody to have a majority of votes on the current board, in light of the fact of the distribution of the Water Authority and so forth. But your bill, as I understand it, correct me if I'm wrong, if you went to 11 there would still be a majority of the directors in Galveston County. Is that correct?

G. BONNEN: That is correct.

ZERWAS: Okay, so how does this reflect the equity that we're trying to achieve in Speaker Bonnen's bill?

G. BONNEN: I think that's a great point because if you wanted to do it based on equity, actually, it would not be six to five. It would probably be more on the order of seven to four if you look at the customer base, if you look at the revenues, if you look at the utilization and the contracts. So if you're interested in equity, with respect to who is invested in the infrastructure, who actually is purchasing the water, and who is generating the revenue for the Gulf Coast Water Authority, this bill actually swings that equity disadvantageously to Brazoria and Fort Bend over Galveston County.

ZERWAS: But you still have a situation in the Water Authority where if it's okay with the Galveston County representatives on this, then it really doesn't matter what the other counties are going to do. Am I correct on that? What are the provisions in there that would allow there to be a voice for Brazoria County and for Fort Bend County?

G. BONNEN: Right, so in the bill as structured, Brazoria County would have three representatives and Fort Bend would have—or excuse me, in the amendment; well, and in the bill both. They would have five representatives on the board—Brazoria County and Fort Bend County.

ZERWAS: But still, the majority would reside in Galveston County.

G. BONNEN: That is correct.

ZERWAS: And Brazoria and Fort Bend County would still be in the minority on this.

G. BONNEN: Correct.

ZERWAS: Okay, so as opposed to Speaker Bonnen's proposal whereby it would be four, three, and two, correct?

G. BONNEN: That is correct.

ZERWAS: I still think with this amendment that it's not an equitable way of reflecting the governance decisions that need to be made in that Water Authority.

G. BONNEN: I think the people in Galveston County would agree with you in the sense that they're actually giving more away. If you want to truly be equitable about it, then actually it would be more than six out of 11.

ZERWAS: Well, I'm sure if I lived in Galveston I would agree with you, but I don't. I live in Fort Bend County, and I would see that I don't really have a voice in terms of the authority and in terms of the governance of the organization.

G. BONNEN: Actually, Fort Bend would have two representatives on the board. They have uninterrupted rights to the water. As I understand it, they have 30-year contracts, and they can contract with anyone else with whom they so choose. They're not obligated to contract with the Gulf Coast Water Authority.

ZERWAS: If you're going to have a governance body that's going to be making decisions on this region, you really need to have a better balance of power in this and—

G. BONNEN: I think this amendment accomplishes that.

ZERWAS: I don't see where your balance of power of going to 11 and still giving us six representatives in Galveston County is a fair and equitable balance of the power.

G. BONNEN: The capital that's been invested in the Gulf Coast Water Authority, the current customer base—whether you measure it by revenues, or contracts, or water—the bulk of that, the majority of that, is in Galveston County. Plain and simple.

ZERWAS: And so by that argument, then you're saying it doesn't matter what these other counties, in terms of the role they might have on the governing board—it's always going to be Galveston County that has the majority and, therefore, can always—

G. BONNEN: Well, we've had conversations about trying to create a board that could reflect the base as it moves forward, but as it stands today, clearly Galveston County has the most invested in this, and they have the most at stake in this, and it's not by a plurality, it's by a majority. And I'm not saying that this would happen, but by way of example, the entirety of Galveston Island is dependent on its water supply through the Gulf Coast Water Authority. So you would have the Commissioners Court of Brazoria County and Fort Bend County in control of the water supply to Galveston Island with the bill as it's introduced.

ZERWAS: Well, I think that the bill as it's introduced reflects the changing nature of the authority and that the voice that you would need from Brazoria County and Fort Bend County ought to be enhanced, even recognizing though that together they would have the majority. But it would require Galveston County to have some ability to have an additional representative from either Brazoria or Fort Bend to carry the day on various decisions. I know we can talk on and on about this, but I do think that the division that's being proposed by Speaker Bonnen better reflects the situation.

G. BONNEN: I think if you're representing Brazoria County or Fort Bend County, I would encourage you to be completely behind the speaker pro tempore, but if you represent Galveston County or if you represent anywhere else in the rest of the state, and you don't want the legislature coming in and appropriating control of a board and taking it away from one group and giving it to another, then I think that this amendment is a better amendment—a better policy I should say.

D. BONNEN: I appreciate what Dr. Bonnen is trying to do. He's doing his job. He and Representative Faircloth are here trying to defend Galveston County, and it's an awkward position they find themselves in because, you know, Galveston used to be the largest county and the biggest county and the baddest county. This used to be the Galveston County Water District, but with growth and regionalism, Fort Bend County is now the largest county by a great distance. Brazoria County, I'm not saying it to boast, we're now bigger than Galveston County. But quite candidly, the real issue here is about just making sure that we do what we talk about all the time—that we have three counties that are together on regional water planning and that we are equalized in doing it, and actually, we're not even equalized. What my county judge and what Dr. Zerwas' and Representative Reynolds' and Representative Stephenson's and Representative Rick Miller's county judges asked for was a three–three–three board, but instead we're doing a four–three–two. Dr. Bonnen's amendment would change that. It would leave us in a position where Galveston County has dominance over the other two counties, and for that reason, I move to table.

(Kuempel in the chair)

Representative D. Bonnen moved to table Amendment No. 2.

REPRESENTATIVE FAIRCLOTH: Members, we really do apologize for this local issue being presented here before this body, but I do want to point out a couple of things, and I may point them out again later. When the Galveston County Water Authority came into being, that's exactly what it was. It was the Galveston County Water Authority—and we're going back from 1946, and we're talking about water rights that date back to 1928. This truly is an issue. The infrastructure is there, the revenue, the receipts are there, and let me just say, the board is there as well. I understand that, but the board is governed by the contracts that are written. These other counties, Fort Bend County and Brazoria County, have never missed one day of water as a result of a breach of contract—that hasn't happened. We've been in a drought; that's been unfortunate. Hopefully, that will change. But to wrest authority away from an entity that's been in existence for 65, 75 years is just not right. You wouldn't want it in your county, and we don't want it in our county. We have a contract, and we're delivering on that contract. No one has been damaged as a result of that. So I ask you to vote no on tabling this amendment.

G. BONNEN: In closing, I just want each of you to consider for a moment—if you're representing your district, you're representing a county, you have a water authority that's in that county that you represent, and a neighboring county that has a minority stake in the water that's delivered through that water authority decides to go to the legislature and wrest control of the board of the water authority away from you. That's what this is doing. So this amendment would restore some true equity into the governance structure of the water authority, and I would appreciate you voting against the motion to table.

POSTPONED BUSINESS

The following bills were laid before the house as postponed business:

CSHB 4168 ON SECOND READING (by D. Bonnen)

CSHB 4168, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the composition of the board of directors and the powers of the Gulf Coast Water Authority.

CSHB 4168 was read second time earlier today, amendments were offered and disposed of, and CSHB 4168 was postponed until this time. Amendment No. 3 was pending at the time of postponement.

CSHB 4168 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative G. Bonnen raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 4168 under Rule 8, Section 10(a) of the House Rules on the grounds that notice of intention to apply for the passage of the bill was not properly published.

The chair overruled the point of order and submitted the following statement:

Representative G. Bonnen raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 4168 under Rule 8, Section 10(a) of the House Rules on the grounds that the published notice of intention to introduce the bill does not state the substance of the contemplated law. The point of order is respectfully overruled.

Under Rule 8, Section 10(a) of the House Rules, "the house may not consider a local bill unless notice of intention to apply for the passage of the bill was published as provided by law. . . ." Rule 8, Section 10(a) of the House Rules. A "bill for which publication of notice is required under Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution (water districts, etc.)" is a local bill. Rule 8, Section 10(c)(1) of the House Rules; see TEX. CONST. art. XVI, § 59(d)(4) (requiring notice for a bill that "alters the qualifications or terms of office of the members of the governing body of the district"). Notice for a law subject to these requirements "shall state the substance of the contemplated law." TEX. CONST. art. III, § 57.

CSHB 4168 would (1) authorize the Gulf Coast Water Authority (GCWA) to enter into agreements to purchase or sell electric power to acquire water, and (2) change the composition of the GCWA's board of directors. Representative G. Bonnen asserts that while the notice published for CSHB 4168 indicated the bill's intent to change the composition of the board, it did not mention the bill's intent to authorize GCWA to enter into certain agreements. Thus, he asserts the notice for CSHB 4168 violated Rule 8, Section 10(a) of the House Rules and the Texas Constitution by failing to state the substance of the contemplated law in its entirety. The notice reads as follows:

This is to give notice of intent to introduce in the 84th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, a bill relating to amending the enabling legislation of the Gulf Coast Water Authority. Specifically, the bill will amend Chapter 712, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965 to change the composition of the board of directors of the Gulf Coast Water Authority.

The notice provided states the substance of the portion of CSHB 4168 that is subject to the notice requirement of Article XVI, Section 59(d)(4) of the Texas Constitution. The remainder of the bill, which relates to GCWA's authority to enter into agreements to purchase or sell electric power to acquire water, is not subject to local notice requirements. See TEX. CONST. art. XVI, § 59. Therefore, the notice was not required to have stated the substance of the remainder of the bill, and the notice does not contravene Rule 8, Section 10(a) of the House Rules.

REPRESENTATIVE G. BONNEN: What this amendment does in light of where we stand right now with the bill and with the amendment that was previously tabled, this amendment would simply remove from the bill the provisions that create changes to the current governance structure of the Water Authority. There are some positive provisions in this bill such as giving the Gulf Coast Water Authority the ability to purchase electricity as it relates to water production, and I think that's very laudable, but what this would do is it would remove the provisions of the bill that change the governance structure of the board.

REPRESENTATIVE FAIRCLOTH: Dr. Bonnen, you're aware that as far back as 1908 that private investors built this system? They started with pieces and began to build forward and this matriculated its way across the counties into Galveston County. Are you aware of that?

G. BONNEN: Yes, Representative Faircloth, that's correct.

FAIRCLOTH: Okay, so this was private money; these were private investors. Even the canalways that we have—150 miles of canals that stretch across three counties. And this governance issue, to me, seems to be, and maybe you can help me with this—is there a problem with the governance now?

G. BONNEN: There's been no problem that I'm aware of. There have been no objections raised by either Brazoria County or Fort Bend County with respect to decisions that have been made by the board.

FAIRCLOTH: So there doesn't seem to be a problem?

G. BONNEN: Not to my knowledge.

FAIRCLOTH: Okay, I'm just kind of wondering why we're here, at this juncture, talking about, basically, a public taking.

G. BONNEN: I would agree with you that this is a public taking. As to why we're here, I think you'd have to ask the author of the bill that question.

REPRESENTATIVE D. BONNEN: What this amendment simply does is it strikes the changes that would be made to the governance structure, and I think the discussion that you just heard is the epitome of the issue. My county judge, Brazoria County Judge Matt Sebesta, and Fort Bend County Judge Hebert went and met in Galveston County on March 18 at 9 a.m. with the Galveston County judge, followed up with phone calls and e-mails to the Galveston County judge, and never heard a response again from him. We wouldn't have to be here today if that were the case. And I think Representative Faircloth says it well—do you think there's a problem? No, there's seven of us and only one of each of their little counties. There isn't a problem at all with the governance structure. We keep rolling them seven to one to one; there's no issue here. But the reality of it is the votes don't go down seven to two. The votes are far more structured based on municipal or the industrial or the agricultural. So the reality of it is, this would gut the bill, and so I move to table because this simply guts what we're trying to do in this bill.

FAIRCLOTH: Representative Bonnen, has there ever been in recorded history a time when the vote went Galveston versus Brazoria and Fort Bend?

D. BONNEN: You know, Mr. Faircloth, I'm not sure whether there has or not, and I don't think there probably has been, but your argument doesn't bode well because why then are you concerned about having a better representation of the counties that are involved?

FAIRCLOTH: Well, I understand there's an issue, and that's why we're here. You're saying that there's an issue with the board.

D. BONNEN: There is an issue, Mr. Faircloth, because you have members representing Fort Bend County and representing Brazoria County standing here that think that we ought to have the ability to work together. We ought to have the opportunity that counties need to be working cooperatively. When two county judges from the two larger counties come and visit with your county judge about how we can improve the governance structure and they don't get a single returned phone call or a returned e-mail—there is a problem.

FAIRCLOTH: Well, I'm not privy to your phone, so I don't know when those were made or how they were made. I can't validate anything you're saying.

D. BONNEN: It's not my phone, Mr. Faircloth. It's Judge Sebesta and Judge Hebert's phone and it's their computer, and maybe the computers don't work in Galveston County, but they work in Fort Bend and Brazoria. And when they took the time to go visit with the judge in his office in your community, he did not even have the respect to respond to the issues of resolving this matter collectively in a cooperative way. The problem is Galveston County says let's just push this down the road. Let's keep voting with seven votes appointed from Galveston County and only two from the other neighboring counties and we have a good system. And that's the only argument you guys have.

FAIRCLOTH: Well, let's keep fixing things that aren't broken.

D. BONNEN: And if I were from Galveston County I wouldn't think it was broken either.

FAIRCLOTH: Let's just keep doing that; that makes really good sense.

Representative D. Bonnen moved to table Amendment No. 3.

G. BONNEN: I just want to kind of summarize what you just heard from my view, which is that in reality there's never been a division on the board between Galveston County and Brazoria County or Fort Bend County. There's never been a vote that came down along party lines. That's never happened. But what you did just hear was, there's a lot of personal animosity between some of the elected officials in the counties, which is not a reason to change their governance structure when there's never been a substantive dispute. So I ask you to please vote against the motion to table.

Amendment No. 4

Representative G. Bonnen offered the following amendment to CSHB 4168:

Amend CSHB 4168 (house committee report) as follows:

- (1) On page 4, line 7, strike "2015" and substitute "3015".
- (2) On page 4, line 8, strike "2015" and substitute "3015".
- (3) On page 5, strike lines 7-11 and substitute the following:
SECTION 5. This Act takes effect September 1, 3015.

G. BONNEN: What this amendment would do is it would simply delay the changes to the governance structure for two years. It would move the effective date from September 1, 2015, to September 1, 2017, to allow us time to work through some of the dialogue and the challenges that you've heard discussed here this evening.

FAIRCLOTH: Dr. Bonnen, do I understand your amendment to say that you believe it would be better for this scenario to play itself out, for us to get together and work collaboratively and to develop a plan for the region?

G. BONNEN: That's correct.

FAIRCLOTH: I think that's a great idea. I think that's what we should be doing. We shouldn't be forcing this. We should be working together to build this, and I applaud your efforts. Thank you.

G. BONNEN: What this amendment does is it doesn't change anything that's in the bill. It simply says the changes to the governance structure will be implemented in September 2017 should this bill pass and become law. I move passage.

D. BONNEN: This is simply delaying the changes again. If you think everything is fine in Galveston County with the seven to two, you would want to delay it. If we do delay it, I fear that we'll be back here doing this all over again. I don't want to put the house through that again. So with that I move to table. Please stick with your friends from Brazoria and Fort Bend County.

Representative D. Bonnen moved to table Amendment No. 4.

G. BONNEN: I would ask that you vote again against the motion to table. I think it's very reasonable to say, look, we're just going to give this two years for the counties to try to come to some resolution on this. It's already passed. It will become implemented September 1, 2017, if nothing else is worked out. Please vote against the motion to table.

The motion to table prevailed by (Record 578): 67 Yeas, 15 Nays, 54 Present, not voting.

FAIRCLOTH: Members, I know you've enjoyed this as much as we have. And I just appreciate your patience, and I appreciate your diligence in representing the State of Texas and representing your district. I think all of us that are small business people understand the importance of making certain that we provide a quality product and outstanding service for our customers. But no one in here who is a small business owner or otherwise would want your customers coming in, taking over your board, and telling you how to run your business. None of you would do that. None of you would vote for that. I hope you wouldn't because that would be wrong. That's not right.

I'm telling you we have water rights back to 1926. We've honored those contracts. We have 75 percent—listen to me—three quarters of the money that flows from Gulf Coast Water Authority comes from Galveston County. The other counties take raw water and treat it and resell it. We've never not honored those contracts. Our duties, our responsibilities, are established by contract. However, for any one person or any group to come in and say—what we're going to do is, we're going to invalidate your system, and we're going to change it. We're going to take it over. We're going to make it ours. We're going to have the ability to do that. That's just not right. You wouldn't want it. I don't want it. I don't want someone coming in, changing my board, and telling me how to run my business, and I don't think you do either. We're talking about a contractual obligation that is being met. We're talking about an issue, a problem, that is not being registered here. There is no problem. The problem is that we want representation; we want more representation. There's representation there.

The infrastructure, every bit of it, is owned by the Gulf Coast Water Authority, which was founded in 1946 as Galveston County Water Authority and was changed by statute in 1991 to be the Gulf Coast Water Authority. We're meeting our obligations. We're doing what we're supposed to be doing. I have a letter from the county judge. I have letters from citizens that are involved in this. We have the most to lose. There's never been a county versus county vote. So we're addressing something that's a problem that is a phantom problem. It's a ghost. With that, I ask you to vote against CSHB 4168 and represent your county, your district.

G. BONNEN: I concur with everything you just heard from Representative Faircloth. This is an effort to fix a problem that doesn't exist. There's never been a conflict on the board of the Gulf Coast Water Authority. Any personal conflicts that might exist among elected officials in the respective counties really shouldn't factor into the governance of the Gulf Coast Water Authority. I do apologize that you've been dragged into something that is clearly a regional conflict of two counties trying to wrest control of a water authority from a third county, and for that I would also suggest to you that if you just want to white light this vote, that would be great. White light it or vote against it, and thanks for your time.

D. BONNEN: I apologize to put you through this today. I appreciate the support on this. It's about bringing fairness. No offense to Representative Faircloth, we're not taking away Galveston's representation. They will still have four board members, Brazoria will have three, and Fort Bend will have two. You will have to have the support of one county representative or another to do anything. And Representative Faircloth is right—it really doesn't come down on county lines. This isn't about county lines. This is about regional water working together. This is about industrial, municipal, and agricultural, and we actually designate certain seats for each one of those industries within each county's representation. This is about allowing us to have a properly governed water authority for the next hundred years. I appreciate your time. I apologize to bring a local issue to you, and I move passage.

HB 966 ON SECOND READING

(by Crownover, Flynn, D. Miller, Zerwas, Burkett, et al.)

HB 966, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the creation of an optional consumer-directed health plan for certain individuals eligible to participate in the group benefits program provided under the Texas Employees Group Benefits Act and their qualified dependents.

HB 966 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE S. TURNER: Will setting up these deductible health care plans—and I know you said that the two are kept together—but doesn't the bill, as it is presently configured, won't it cause the insurance premiums for those who do not accept these deductible plans to go up in time?

REPRESENTATIVE CROWNOVER: No, it will not. It says specifically in the bill that this is a—that they are to design this as revenue neutral as possible. And it says that the ERS system of Texas may not divide the self-funded risk pool. So the two plans are joined together.

S. TURNER: Well, they're joined together in terms of the same overall design, but you have some employees that may accept it to take up these plans, right?

CROWNOVER: Right.

S. TURNER: And then you have other employees that are going to stay within the existing system, right?

CROWNOVER: Right.

S. TURNER: And ERS, they will decide what amount is actuarially needed in order to offset the cost of those that stay in the existing plan, correct?

CROWNOVER: Sort of. You've got to remember, this is just an option for people that want to be more engaged in their health care, and that is exactly what we need right now. We can't assume that everyone just has all the health care and doesn't regard the cost. Are the choices involved? So this is just a plan. It's called consumer-directed health care to get the consumer involved in what their health care costs and what their health care choices are.

S. TURNER: I understand that, Representative Crownover. What I'm trying to ascertain is whether or not as certain people opt out and the other people remain in—based upon actuarial principles, as some people opt out and others remain in, the cost of the insurance for those who remain in will exponentially increase over time, right?

CROWNOVER: No, I challenge that thought because it has been proven that all sorts of people can benefit from this. We need to get the general population concerned about what their health care costs. So as we move toward people caring what their health care costs, it might be a very positive thing that would spread to other people. This allows people to make a choice whether they want the comprehensive plan or they want a high deductible plan.

S. TURNER: I understand the options. I just want to deal with the numbers. Based on actuarial principles, when you have certain—and the reason why the premiums are where they are today is because you are averaging out the cost over a much larger pool. Under HB 966 you are allowing some of that pool, some of those people, to opt out. When you allow some of them to opt out, the cost is spread over a fewer number of individuals, and when the cost is spread over a fewer number of individuals, the cost of the premium is going to go up.

CROWNOVER: I don't agree. This is a body of 540,000 people that have health insurance with ERS. We are not expecting a large uptick on this, but we feel like—

S. TURNER: Would you accept an amendment, Representative Crownover, that the cost cannot increase for the current system based on individuals choosing to opt out? Would you accept that? If what you're saying is true—

CROWNOVER: It's already in there. It's in there. It says very plainly—

S. TURNER: Where is that?

CROWNOVER: I'll read it to you. "The Employees Retirement System of Texas shall develop and implement a health savings account program under Chapter 1551, Insurance Code, as amended by this Act, in a manner that is as revenue neutral as possible."

S. TURNER: Well, when you say revenue neutral, to me that implies that you're giving them the permission to adjust their system in order to offset any additional costs. Who's going to pay that? The employees are the ones that are going to pay it. I hear what you're saying; I agree with what you're saying. I agree exactly with what you're saying. You are giving them permission to—

CROWNOVER: But it's already in there. I think it would be redundant. ERS has ability to design the plan so that it is revenue neutral. I think that is crystal clear.

S. TURNER: Which means that you are giving them permission, if I'm reading it correctly, you're giving them permission to offset any costs.

CROWNOVER: No, it's not offset any costs. They are to design it so that it is revenue neutral. This will be a—

S. TURNER: Revenue neutral to whom?

CROWNOVER: To the whole plan. ERS is a self-funded plan.

S. TURNER: I understand that, and who pays for it?

CROWNOVER: We do. It's part of state employees' pay package, and so it is a very important part of that. And I think we need another option. We're not expecting a huge uptick on this, but I think it is something that the State of Texas—24 other states are doing this successfully, so there's a lot to be learned from the other 24 states that are doing it.

S. TURNER: Of the 24 you're including Indiana, correct?

CROWNOVER: Yes, and that was how not to do it. So we are smart enough not to do it the bad way.

S. TURNER: But when you included the 24 other states, and Indiana's went up to like 16,000—are you giving the ERS the permission to change the actual design?

CROWNOVER: They will design the high deductible health plan under the guidelines of IRS rules and regulations.

S. TURNER: Does that mean that some of the benefits can be reduced?

CROWNOVER: No, they design the plan.

S. TURNER: I understand they design the plan, Representative Crownover, but a part of designing the plan is that you're giving them the permission to take some things out if they drive up the cost. Or, to keep it cost neutral, you're giving them permission to redesign their health care plan. Are you not?

CROWNOVER: They will be designing the high deductible health plan and the health savings accounts. So a comprehensive health care plan would cost this much; a high deductible might cost less; and so the delta there could possibly fund part of the health savings account. Then the individual could also put money into the health savings account. And I will have to tell you, I have worked with people in low income areas, that make low incomes, and it's really been quite interesting. One gentleman said, now that I have the health savings account—you know last month when I cut my finger and went to the emergency room, he said, now if I cut my finger I think I'd put a band-aid on it because it got along just great. But not to fear, because I think preventative care—

S. TURNER: I don't think that's the typical example, Representative Crownover. How old was that person?

CROWNOVER: He was 50. There's another plan of a gentleman that was 56 or 57 years old, and I think this is the most interesting. He said, you know, I've lived all this time, and I have never had a savings account. He said, this makes me feel different.

S. TURNER: Representative Crownover, I'm not disagreeing with any of that. I'm focusing on the actual numbers and the cost drivers on the numbers. What I'm indicating to you is that when you eliminate young individuals, when you eliminate those who are just starting out, and the only people you are leaving in your system are older and those who are more chronically ill—

CROWNOVER: I challenge that. That is not correct.

S. TURNER: You may challenge it, but the facts are what the facts are.

CROWNOVER: No, those are not the facts.

S. TURNER: The people that are more inclined to utilize HB 966, that option, are people who are younger and just getting started.

CROWNOVER: I challenge that.

S. TURNER: I understand you challenge it because it goes at the heart of your bill. But when the people that are left in your system—

CROWNOVER: I challenge that because it is not correct.

S. TURNER: I know you challenge it because it goes at the heart of your bill—but the people who are left in your system are older and those who are more chronic and those who cost more.

CROWNOVER: I challenge that.

S. TURNER: I understand that because it goes at the heart of your bill, but even if you keep the two in the system—

CROWNOVER: The heart of my bill is getting people concerned about how much their health care costs. That is what we have got to do—

S. TURNER: People are concerned.

CROWNOVER: You can't just assume that you walk in and see a doctor time after time and it doesn't have a cost because you don't walk out with a bill—

S. TURNER: People understand that, Representative Crownover. People are concerned—
