Father, I stand in this place today to bring before you these men and women that you have placed in authority over us. I pray that these men and women who represent the people of this great state would make wise decisions—decisions based on absolute truth, bedrock foundational moral truths that do not change with the shifting shadows. Lead them to seek out wisdom from you. We know that according to your word, they have been placed in authority over us by you. I pray for them today, that they would be able to lead with that responsibility in mind. I pray that they will lead from a realization of a sacred trust not only given by the people of this state but by the sovereign King of Heaven.

We ask for your sovereign hand to be over our nation and our state. I pray for a fresh wind of your spirit to blow in this country in such a way that men and women would bow to your authority, that we would prosper not financially or even socially, but spiritually. I pray your word over this room today as you heard King Solomon's prayer and responded, "If my people, who are called by my name will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." And so, as Solomon prayed, I ask that your eyes will be open and your ears attentive to the prayer offered in this place. In Jesus' name. Amen.

CSHB 3573 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE SIMMONS: Mr. Alonzo, will you explain to the body what you are doing in this bill, please?

REPRESENTATIVE ALONZO: Yes, sir. What this bill is about is the composition of the ERS board. It allows for the board to have a retiree on the board of directors of the ERS.

SIMMONS: A retiree of the ERS system?

ALONZO: Yes, sir.

SIMMONS: Are there going to be any particular qualifications other than being a retiree to be on this board?

ALONZO: No, that they're a retiree and that they are a member of the class.

SIMMONS: Do you realize that this board deals with billions and billions of dollars and helps oversee that?

ALONZO: Yes, sir.

SIMMONS: And do you realize that there have been multiple boards throughout this state where this very thing has happened? In fact, in this situation, won't it be controlled by retirees, but has been controlled by members—and they have mismanaged the funds for the people that they're absolutely supposed to protect? In fact, this has happened in our area, would you agree?

ALONZO: Well, sir, there is a process when there are problems, and let me tell you what I believe. What I believe is if there's a problem, for example, someone causes a crime, the law is already there to make sure that they're taken care of.

SIMMONS: The challenge that I have with this—and there are certainly some retirees that would qualify for a board like this, but this is very serious business. If they would have an advisory panel of retirees to make sure that they're discussing the issues of the body, I'm okay with that. But I have major concerns about doing this without selecting a retiree that meets qualifications similar to what the other board members might have—having expertise in investments and retirements, things like this. So this a concern. Now, is this a requirement or is this permissive?

ALONZO: It allows for one of the members—it says may be a retiree. It's Section (b)(1). It doesn't have to be, but it says only one of the elected members of the board may be a retiree.
