The speaker recognized Representative Keough who offered the invocation as follows:

Father, you teach us in your scripture that you are the God who made the world and everything in it. You are Lord of heaven and earth. I believe that you have brought us together in this unique time in the history of our state for a purpose. I thank you, Father, for those who have led us, for our speaker, for Jesse, for Chris, for Robert, for Charlie—all of these people and so many more—for our committee chairs, our staffers. For sure, Lord, there is some disappointment for some people who are here today. Others, great elation—very exciting. I just thank you so much that you have put us here, and we are part of a group that only we can really understand. Whereas I think of all of our members, all of our friends, brothers, and sisters—I thank you for them. I thank you for their sacrifices, who virtually have paid to come here. They've left their families, they've left their homes, their businesses, and made tremendous sacrifices and worked so hard in their campaign to come here and to do this—to leave, to start all over again. And no one more can really understand but each of us who are here today and you as you watch faithfully over us. This makes us a family and we thank you.

Lord, I know that it is easy for all of those on the outside watching—many people—to criticize, to talk ill of the accomplishments here in the house. Father, I pray that you would give those who would be critical a spirit of discernment, that you would stop words that are wrong, that you would turn their minds and their hearts to what really happened here and all the good things that we have accomplished. And as we go back into the districts, each of us, that you would give us a spirit of favor, expectation—that you would in your grace remember us, each of us, for what we've done here. You give us wisdom and understanding to deal with our constituents—always being kind and loving even to those who speak against us. Father, I pray that you help us to avoid words that we have come to just accept—words like compromise, words like consensus—and focus upon the word agreement. Now, as we come to a close and we remember these days here and prepare for this next session, help us to look for agreement. Focus upon those things which bring unity and a healthy community and a healthy state. Give us wisdom and understanding of the needs of those around us. And with this closing scripture I pray, Father, that you will put this in our hearts. Let love and faithfulness never leave us. Bind them around your neck. Write them on the tablet of your heart. Then you will win favor and a good name in the sight of God and man. We need your favor, Father. Give each of us a good name. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.
