GENERAL STATE CALENDAR
HOUSE BILLS
THIRD READING

The following bills were laid before the house and read third time:

HB 3451 ON THIRD READING
(by Stucky, González, Ashby, Springer, Cyrier, et al.)

HB 3451, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the study and approval of lethal pesticides for feral hog control.

HB 3451 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE SPRINGER: We visited earlier on this, and I'd like to have our conversation for the body, as well as for legislative intent going forward. Several of the folks in my district are concerned that we're setting a precedent where we're going to overrule everything that's already come out, and that's not your intent, is it?

REPRESENTATIVE STUCKY: No, sir.

SPRINGER: You look at this as a very rare circumstance where we have something that is beyond just affecting one group like hunters or whatever—that it could be detrimental to the cattle industry. Is that correct?

STUCKY: Yes, sir, it could be. If this product is put on there, they can't have cattle on there for 90 days. If the cattle eat it, they can't be sold for slaughter for six months.

SPRINGER: You would probably agree that one of the issues that came up, that caused this bill to have to come up, is we really didn't have all of the stakeholders at the table before this moved forward. And that's the way most of these things always come, especially in the agriculture industry. We bring all those agriculture stakeholders, we bring everybody together, and we talk about how it would affect every single aspect of the agriculture and rural caucus when we're dealing with these type of issues. Is that correct?

STUCKY: Yes, sir. I believe we do have a hog problem in this state, and we need to help as legislators find a solution or at least another tool in the toolbox, but this one was not completely vetted, and the mechanism of action is a concern of mine.

SPRINGER: That's correct. And I think that you and I would both agree it's not our intent that everything as we see going forward that will be a new herbicide, a new this, that this legislative body has to weigh in—that we can trust that the stakeholders, the agriculture commissioner, and everybody else will vet those things through properly, and only in the extremely rare circumstances will this body have to be involved in these type of things.

STUCKY: Yes, sir, only in extreme, rare cases. We are here for the agriculture of the State of Texas, and they are extremely important to this state, and we're going to continue to support the agriculture.

SPRINGER: I appreciate your knowledge in this industry—being a veterinarian, knowing other types of solutions that are out there, knowing that this has to be vetted, that the cattle market's a huge part of this state, and the risk that this could pose if we went on. I appreciate you bringing this bill forward.

EMERGENCY CALENDAR HOUSE BILLS SECOND READING

The following bills were laid before the house and read second time:

CSHB 1377 ON SECOND READING (by S. Davis)

CSHB 1377, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the contents of and recordkeeping requirements relating to personal financial statements filed with the Texas Ethics Commission.

CSHB 1377 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE STICKLAND: Representative Davis, is this, to your knowledge, the extent to which the house is going to handle emergency ethics legislation, these five bills?

REPRESENTATIVE S. DAVIS: I am not advised. As the chair of General Investigating and Ethics, we have certainly been voting out bills all session.

STICKLAND: Are these the bills that Governor Abbott directly referred to during the State of the State address?

S. DAVIS: They are not.

STICKLAND: They are not. Do any of these bills require greater disclosure of contracts held by elected officials?

S. DAVIS: None of these do. The bills dealing with contract disclosures are on their way.

STICKLAND: Do any of these bills limit the amount we can receive in gifts from lobbyists?

S. DAVIS: No, none of these bills do that.

STICKLAND: Do any of these bills remove pension benefits from elected officials who are convicted of abusing their office?

S. DAVIS: No, none of these bills do that.

STICKLAND: Do any of these bills end the revolving door between the legislature and the lobby?

S. DAVIS: None of these bills do that. Again, these are bills that come from the Texas Ethics Commission's recommendations for statutory changes. These are nut-and-bolt type bills to bring the agency into the modern day.

STICKLAND: What is the status of SB 14, the senate's major ethics legislation?

S. DAVIS: I'm not advised.

STICKLAND: Was that referred to your committee?

S. DAVIS: I really don't know. I'm not in charge of doing the referrals.

STICKLAND: But to your knowledge you don't have it yet?

S. DAVIS: I am not advised if it has been referred.

STICKLAND: What has your committee done to advance SB 14? It was passed by the senate in early February.

S. DAVIS: The General Investigating and Ethics Committee has not heard SB 14, but the General Investigating and Ethics Committee has heard several bills filed by Representative Geren that are essentially—they cover every part of what is in, I believe SB 14 but just—

STICKLAND: It just broke it up differently?

S. DAVIS: It's just broken it up, yes.

STICKLAND: Are you aware that in court cases, the Texas Ethics Commission has declared itself to be a part of the legislative branch?

S. DAVIS: I am not advised.

STICKLAND: These bills are a part of the Texas Ethics Commission's legislative agenda, correct?

S. DAVIS: Correct.

STICKLAND: Are you aware of any other legislative agency, such as Lege Council or the LBB, that puts forward a legislative agenda?

S. DAVIS: I'm not advised.

STICKLAND: You're not aware of any others?

S. DAVIS: I'm not advised one way or another.

STICKLAND: Which of these bills are in response to the court cases that declared existing state law enforced by the TEC unconstitutional?

S. DAVIS: Two.

STICKLAND: Which two?

S. DAVIS: HB 1378 and HB 1384—both of those bills are in response to a court declaring that current code dealing with ethics are unconstitutional, violating of First Amendment rights.

STICKLAND: Do you know how much we have had to pay in damages and attorneys' fees in those cases?

S. DAVIS: I am not aware.

STICKLAND: Did the TEC litigate to have these laws upheld?

S. DAVIS: I would imagine that—and I'm just venturing about it—I would imagine that the attorney general's office defended the agency for these statutes which were enacted by the Texas Legislature at some point and then later challenged.

STICKLAND: Are there any other statutes enforced by the TEC that are currently being challenged in court as unconstitutional?

S. DAVIS: I am not advised.

STICKLAND: Are there any other TEC statutes that have been struck down that aren't addressed by these bills?

S. DAVIS: I am not advised. I can only talk to you about these five bills that I have that are on the calendar.

HB 1378 ON SECOND READING

(by S. Davis)

HB 1378, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to restrictions on political contributions and political expenditures by general-purpose political committees.

HB 1378 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE CAIN: Ms. Davis, do you know the case name that's dealing with this repealing?

REPRESENTATIVE S. DAVIS: The case name of—?

CAIN: The court case—it was a Fifth Circuit Court case. Is that correct?

S. DAVIS: Yes, as I mentioned in the layout, the name of the case is Catholic Leadership Coalition of Texas v. Reisman, who is the former commissioner of TEC.

CAIN: And are we striking all of the Election Code or a portion of the Election Code?

S. DAVIS: We are striking the portion that requires the 60-day and 10-person waiting period for GPACs to be able to spend money, because that is a silencing of that political action committee that the courts have held unconstitutional. But the requirement of an appointment of a campaign treasurer is not affected by this; that is still a requirement in law.

CAIN: Are you referring to Subsection (b) about that requirement of the campaign treasurer?

S. DAVIS: I don't have that code in front of me.

CAIN: So do you know what Subsection (b) does?

S. DAVIS: Subsection (b) of what?

CAIN: Of the code you are amending—I believe that is Section 253.037 of the Election Code.

S. DAVIS: Yes, I only have the relevant part of the code that the bill is changing in front of me.

CAIN: My understanding is that if a general-purpose PAC was to make a contribution to another general-purpose PAC, before they make that contribution, they would have to file an amended treasurer appointment form.

S. DAVIS: I'm not advised.

CAIN: Which is a prior restraint. You were discussing silencing. It means they have to do something before they are allowed to speak, and under case law, it would go under strict scrutiny as political speech. Are you aware of that?

S. DAVIS: I'm not advised.

CAIN: So is there any reason that we're not repealing all of the statute?

S. DAVIS: If you have an amendment, I am happy to take a look at it.

CAIN: I'll bring one down.

REPRESENTATIVE LEACH: Chair Davis, just to be clear, a point of information here. Are you familiar with Texas Ethics Commission Rule 28.9 regarding the segregation of campaign accounts?

REPRESENTATIVE S. DAVIS: I'm not advised of that at this time.

LEACH: Just to answer—to clarify a point that was made by Representative Stickland—according to that Rule 28.9, "all contributed campaign funds shall be maintained in accounts separate and apart from any other accounts." And so is it your understanding that a speaker's campaign account cannot then be transferred or contributed to an officeholder campaign account?

S. DAVIS: Based on what you just said, yes, that does sound correct.
