God of creation, God of all. We call you by many names in many languages. Now, we call upon your gifts to rest upon these dedicated and thoughtful men and women of service who sit together today in dialogue, in conversation, and in battle, all for the good of the people of this State of Texas, with its long history of cultures, peoples, languages, and laws. Watch over them as they craft new policies and new legislation that protects the innocent, keeps families safe and together, holds human life in deep reverence, provides an equal sharing of the goods of the earth, protects our precious lands, recognizes the difficulties and labors of so many who are on the margins of society and who seek safe harbor—the young and the aged. Help them in their work, in the work of governing, to find the tenuous balance between justice and mercy. Give them ears to listen to each other and, at the end of this day, may the common good prevail. In your holy name, we pray. Amen.
