Our Father, creator of all, we join together this day in this place to participate in a freedom which you have established. We are thankful that we are a people who enjoy the many freedoms provided by your hand and that are continually secured by the people of this state. Today, we especially thank you for the freedom to govern ourselves, but we also understand that freedom without responsibility is chaos. Help us to look to you for divine guidance in all the matters which our leaders will face today. Help us first to realize that you are always with us, and the difficulty lies in our struggle to recognize you. So this day, may our attitudes, our perceptions, and our actions align in obedience to your will as we choose to look to you. May each member of this assembly, as they make decisions which affect the lives and livelihoods of the people of this state, rely upon you. Provide to them the strength and commitment to stand firm in the decisions of the day. Provide to them the peace and clarity which comes from understanding that you are the source of all that is needed to lead this great state. Provide to them the compassion and patience which comes through a true understanding of our humanity. May they respond to your guidance as they evaluate each matter presented to this house. May they be assured of your desire to provide for their every need in this time. Bless each of our leaders in body, spirit, and mind. And Father, in this moment, let our thoughts and wishes for Abigail join together as we lift her and her family to your throne during these darker times. May your strong love sustain them as you work in the details of the moment. In the name of the one who created us and loves us, we pray. Amen.

HR 377 - ADOPTED
(by D. Bonnen)

Speaker Bonnen moved to suspend all necessary rules to take up and consider at this time HR 377.

The motion prevailed.

The following resolution was laid before the house:

HR 377, Commending Abigail Rose Arias of Angleton for her outstanding perseverance during her fight with cancer and congratulating her on being named an honorary Texas Ranger.

HR 377 was read.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

The chair recognized Speaker Bonnen who introduced Abigail Rose Arias and members of her family, representatives of the Freeport Police Department, and representatives of the Texas Rangers, speaking as follows:

Everyone in my district, I think, knows Abigail, but the reality of it is, I think everyone in Texas and everyone in America knows Abigail. I was asked earlier why so many people were wearing pink and blue, and I said, "Are you serious?" They said, "No, really." I said, "You don't know the answer? Abigail's here, and pink and blue are her favorite colors, and every member's been asked to wear pink and blue today." Well, a casual observer in the Capitol noticed.

Abigail has done a tremendous job in her short years of six years old in inspiring millions through showing tremendous grace and courage throughout her two-year battle with cancer. You look at Abigail and you can't help but fall in love with that smile—and of course, the way she bangs a gavel; I didn't know she had that talent until today—it just sparkles like the glitter that she loves. She wanted to make sure last night when she got here that we could see the glitter on her shirt and that it sparkled.

While she may have had some suffering times, she chose to help others out through volunteering for the Freeport Police Department's Blue Santa program where she handed out gifts to less-privileged children during the holidays and raised funds. She dreams of being a police officer, but she didn't have to dream any longer because she caught the attention of the Freeport police chief, who's here with us today—thank you, Ray. So Ray decided that if she dreamed of being a police officer, she should be a police officer. So on February 7, declared by the City of Freeport as Abigail Arias Day, she was sworn in as Rookie Officer No. 758 of the Freeport Police Department, surrounded by over 200 friends and family. I want to recognize her mother and father, Ilene and Ruben, who are here today. And I also wanted to separately recognize her 10-year-old brother, Ethan. Ethan's the most supportive and amazing older brother anyone could have. Ethan, we're so proud of you, and we thank you for all the support you give your sister.

The day Abigail took the oath, she vowed to "continue to fight the bad guys," referring to her cancer. So we're with her in that fight. And of course, Abigail's doing such an awesome job, the Texas Rangers called my office.

Abigail, I don't know if you know that, but it was the Texas Rangers who called us. The Texas Rangers look for the most elite of the elite in law enforcement, Abigail, and they noticed you in your job as Freeport police officer. And they said, "We need to make her a Texas Ranger." So today we're also honoring the day of Abigail joining the elite fighting force of crime in Texas, a Texas Ranger. And I want to make some quick recognitions before I pass this resolution. I want to thank Representative Drew Springer. Representative Springer had a whole week and two days, I think, and he reached out to the Fenoglio family—Mr. and Mrs. Fenoglio, who are here with us today—and some beautiful pink boots recognizing Abigail as being a Texas Ranger were made in a week. Thank you, Representative Springer, and thank you to the Fenoglio family.

Some members have asked me how we get through this today. And the truth is, it's easy, because Abigail has a smile all the time. And Abigail, you're little, and you're six, but I'm getting through this on your shoulders and your strength and your courage, and that's how we all get through. But I want you and your family to know, Abigail, that there's going to be a day when you may feel not your fullest and not your strongest, but look at all these people out here today. You're going to get through on our strength and our love and our courage supporting you, because we all love you, we all support you, and we're all here for you.

It is our privilege to be here today as she is made an honorary Texas Ranger so she can continue to fight off the bad guys for the whole entire State of Texas. As the chief of the Texas Rangers, it is my great honor to give this presentation:

"In the name and by the authority of the State of Texas, know ye that I, Chance L. Collins, chief of the Texas Rangers, placing special trust and confidence in the patriotism, honesty, and personal character of Abigail Rose Arias, do hereby appoint her an honorary Texas Ranger."

Abigail, your courage, integrity, and perseverance should inspire all Texans. Now I invite two of your fellow Texas Rangers to present you with your Ranger hat and your Ranger badge.
