The invocation was offered by Reverend Victor Perez, pastor, Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Angleton, as follows:

I begin this invocation with a prayer written by St. Thomas Aquinas in the 13th century, which he would say before work or study. I invite you to say it in your hearts with me: "Ineffable creator, who, from the treasures of your wisdom, have established three hierarchies of angels, have arrayed them in marvelous order above the fiery heavens, and have marshaled the regions of the universe with such artful skill, you are proclaimed the true font of light and wisdom and the primal origin raised high beyond all things. Pour forth a ray of your brightness into the darkened places of my mind; disperse from my soul the twofold darkness into which I was born: sin and ignorance. You make eloquent the tongues of infants. Refine my speech and pour forth upon my lips the goodness of your blessing. Grant to me keenness of mind, capacity to remember, skill in learning, subtlety to interpret, and eloquence in speech. May you guide the beginning of my work, direct its progress, and bring it to completion. You who live and reign, world without end."

Bless all our state representatives, O God. Let them serve you in the tangle of their minds and work together to find solutions to help your people. Give them courage and strength and wisdom. Bless their families and take care of any problems in their lives that distract them even now. Give them guidance and give them a love for your people who they are here to serve in this great State of Texas, which we place again under your protection. Amen.

The chair recognized Representative Meza who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

CAPITOL PHYSICIAN

The chair recognized Representative E. Thompson who presented Dr. James King of Galveston as the "Doctor for the Day."
