SB 24 ON THIRD READING

(Frank, Noble, Hull, et al. - House Sponsors)

SB 24, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the powers and duties of the Health and Human Services Commission and the transfer to the commission of certain powers and duties from the Department of Family and Protective Services.

SB 24 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE HOWARD: Thank you, Chairman Frank. I appreciate this opportunity to talk with you for some legislative intent since I didn't get up here in time the other day. Your bill makes significant changes to the way the state currently oversees prevention and early intervention services. As written, the bill would strike provisions that ensures state-funded programs designed to support at-risk families integrate expertise and evidence-based practices. But you do agree that taxpayers expect us to do our due diligence to ensure the effectiveness of the programs we fund prior to funding them, right?

REPRESENTATIVE FRANK: Yeah, absolutely. And I think there will be tremendous due diligence, and I also think objectives are more important than—yes, I think there is a lot of that. Yes.

HOWARD: So your intent is that the state will continue to prioritize funding for evidence-based programs while also providing additional funds for other programs as well?

FRANK: Yes, I think they should prioritize based on the efficacy to the actual users of the programs.

HOWARD: Okay, thank you. And is it not correct that the Alternatives to Abortion program, which I think you just mentioned, has never been in statute before—it's been in the budget, in a rider—and that this legislation is intended to codify the program?

FRANK: That is correct.

HOWARD: And in doing so, does that not mean that they now will need to follow agency standards, contracting law, and are held to the higher standard that may not have been true for this program in the past because now it will be part of the agency? Is that not correct?

FRANK: I will take your word for that.

HOWARD: It will be codified as opposed to just being something that's in the budget?

FRANK: Yes.

HOWARD: So it would be true, I would imagine then, that the transparency and reporting requirements that are laid out in the bill also are more than what has been expected of these providers in the past and that we're actually going to be putting up some guardrails on a program that we've earmarked $140 million in the budget for. Is that correct?

FRANK: Yes, that is correct.

HOWARD: Just one more thing here. On page 40 of your bill, Subsection (e) states that the commissioner network contractors may not provide family planning services through the network. But the term "family planning services" is not defined in the bill. So I want to get some legislative intent on the record so that HHSC knows what you mean by family planning services for the program. So can you help me understand from your viewpoint what family planning services means in this bill?

FRANK: The bill does prohibit direct family planning services, including the provision of contraceptives because that's the way the program currently operates. HHSC does allow providers to refer for those services—for the family planning services—but does not require it.

HOWARD: So if someone were to provide condoms to families upon request or talk to families about the effectiveness of certain contraceptives, does that count as family planning services?

FRANK: Yes, that would count as family—

HOWARD: So that would not be allowed?

FRANK: That would not be allowed. So that would count as family planning services.

HOWARD: So there are programs that do provide information. You're saying they can't do that?

FRANK: I'm sorry. Could you repeat that?

HOWARD: So there are programs that provide services in this venue that do give information and that also distribute condoms. You're saying they could not do that?

FRANK: They could not do that portion of those services. They couldn't provide those because those would be family planning services.

HOWARD: If someone were to ask a family if they were thinking about whether they might have more kids in the future, would that be family planning services?

FRANK: No, that is not my belief and understanding of what the family planning services would be.

HOWARD: Okay. Thank you very much for answering my questions.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Howard moved to print remarks between Representative Frank and Representative Howard on SB 24.

The motion prevailed.

SB 24 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE FLORES: I proffered an amendment to your bill on Friday and you said you would consider it, but you have assured me—and these had to do with Chapter 54 of the Health and Safety Code, which dealt with confidentiality and states that "reports and records and information obtained under the chapter would be held confidential and not subject to disclosure, and may otherwise not be released to the public." As well as, "These reports and records and information obtained in this chapter would be also for confidential use of the commission and the persons or public and private entities that the commission determines are necessary to carry out the intent of this chapter." As well as, "All program services provided under this chapter must be provided confidentially and subject to Subchapter B. The commission or service provider participating in the program may not disclose to any person that an individual sought or received program service, unless the individual consents to that disclosure." So you assured me that this language was already within the Health and Human Services Commission contract language and is already process and procedure that they would follow. So you're telling me that these confidentiality paragraphs are already included and they will be followed?

REPRESENTATIVE FRANK: It is my understanding—and information from the agency—that confidentiality of people who are getting services is already in all the contracts. There was a portion of yours that had to do with—I can't remember. Was it—

FLORES: Subpoenas.

FRANK: —Subpoenas that I think was confusing, and I was afraid of putting that in there. But my understanding is that this information is already confidential. So, yes.

FLORES: Well, I just want to ensure that I get it under contracts, and that would mean contracts between the commission and the service providers, I would assume. It would have language in there that would maintain the confidentiality of those clients that these providers are servicing. Correct?

FRANK: Correct.

SB 17 ON THIRD READING
(Kuempel, Shaheen, and Bonnen - House Sponsors)

SB 17, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the purpose of public institutions of higher education and the powers and duties of the governing boards of those institutions.

SB 17 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: SB 17, that we are all very familiar with from Friday, and I think Mr. Tinderholt has a couple of amendments.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Tinderholt offered the following amendment to SB 17:

Amend SB 17 on third reading as follows:

(1) In the SECTION of the bill adding Section 51.3525, Education Code, strike the subsection added by Item (1) of Floor Amendment No. 23 by Kuempel on second reading and reletter subsequent subsections accordingly.

(2) Strike the SECTION of the bill added by Item (2) of Floor Amendment No. 23 by Kuempel on second reading and renumber subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly.

(3) In the SECTION of the bill providing transition language, as amended by Item (3) of Floor Amendment No. 23 by Kuempel on second reading, in Subsection (a) of that section, strike "spring semester of the".

(4) In the SECTION of the bill providing an effective date, as amended by Item (4) of Floor Amendment No. 23 by Kuempel on second reading, strike "January 1, 2024" and substitute "September 1, 2023".

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE TINDERHOLT: I have a script that I'm going to follow very closely because while I was back in my condo watching while I had the stomach flu, I was pretty disgusted by the things that I watched my democratic peers say about you, my republican peers, on Friday.

I want to tell you why I'm bringing this amendment on third reading today. SB 17 is one of the most important bills this cycle. Conservatives began this session by recognizing this simple truth: Texas has allowed leftists to infiltrate our universities for far too long. It is an undeniable fact that on our watch Texas has allowed racist programs to not only be established, but also to then hire dozens of full-time leftist activists who do nothing but spread these destructive DEI Marxist policies and worldviews.

Sadly, I was very sick Friday. I had to leave Thursday afternoon with a stomach flu. However, between getting sick, I watched the despicable commentary of some of my peers. I watched after the bill was strengthened. What I witnessed was nothing short of despicable. I watched my democratic colleagues spend hours calling one of my republican colleagues a racist. Let me be clear—Texans are watching. We can't afford to give concessions to the radical left. There are three aspects of this amendment which my amendment seeks to remove.

First, the DEI study which was put in the bill. Why on earth would we fund a pro-DEI study of our universities when we're trying to get rid of DEI? We want to judge people by the content of their character, not the color of their skin. Let me say that again. We judge people by the content of their character, not the color of their skin. The study in this bill that was approved by this body does the opposite of that. Second, the adopted amendment stated that colleges should make an effort to keep all of these leftist Marxist employees at their school, paid for by taxpayers. They take massive salaries to push divisive and exclusionary policies on students at the expense of Texas taxpayers. If you're voting to keep these people on the Texas tax payroll at these universities, you are complicit in their subversion. Finally, the amendment moved the effective date to January of 2024 instead of September of 2023. This essentially states that DEI should still be in our state for one more semester. We have an opportunity to ensure that the recent high school graduates who walk into Texas colleges this fall are never infected with the radical ideology that DEI is. My amendment ensures all incoming freshman will not have to endure a crash course in DEI corruption.

SB 17 was strong coming out of the senate, watered down severely in the house committee, and then strengthened back on the floor. I'm grateful to the members who forced the many compromises to be removed on Friday night. You know who you are. My amendment today further strikes all of the weakening provisions and returns the bill to the strong version we had prior to the late night deal made with democrats. Members, this is an easy vote. If you believe that we should immediately end DEI regimes, you should vote for my amendment today. If you support DEI and you want it to continue longer, then vote against it. For the republican freshman in the room, I'm sorry that on paper it looks like you voted to extend DEI programs and make sure all leftist employees continue to keep their cushy government jobs. I am here to give you an opportunity today to make your voice and the voice of your republican voters clear in this chamber. Let's vote to remove this liberal amendment.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: I respectfully oppose the amendment after the consensus we came to Friday evening. Again, respectfully oppose Mr. Tinderholt's amendment.

TINDERHOLT: I respect my peer and colleague, but I respectfully move adoption.

A record vote was requested.

Amendment No. 1 failed of adoption by (Record 1919): 31 Yeas, 109 Nays, 1 Present, not voting.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Tinderholt offered the following amendment to SB 17:

Amend SB 17 on third reading by striking the SECTION of the bill added by Item (2) of Floor Amendment No. 23 by Kuempel on second reading and substituting the following appropriately numbered SECTION:

SECTION _____. A public institution of higher education shall make reasonable efforts to assist each employee of the institution whose position is eliminated as a result of the implementation of Section 51.3525, Education Code, as added by this Act, in finding employment in a position of similar pay at an institution of higher education in another state.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE TINDERHOLT: I get it. Some of you are concerned that we are putting folks in DEI offices out of work. I don't share that concern with you. If that's your sticking point, this amendment should be acceptable to you. This amendment simply states universities should make a reasonable effort to help these people feed their families through their work at an institution of higher education, but not in the State of Texas.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: Again, I will respectfully oppose this amendment due to some of the agreements we came to Friday night.

A record vote was requested.

SB 17 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE M. GONZÁLEZ: When I was 17 years old, I told my father that I wanted to go out and change the world. So my father, the county extension agent, said, "Well, Mary Edna, I think you should get involved in politics." I listened to him. I graduated, went to UT Austin, got involved in politics, and I started getting involved on campus. Guess what happened? There were very serious events that happened on campus. The MLK statue got egged. There was an affirmative action bake sale. I faced discrimination in the dorm room. And all these things made me question should I be at UT Austin? But getting involved in our multicultural center and working with other students, faculty, and staff, we, all together, created the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement. And this division helped me become a leader, helped me find my place on campus, and ultimately helped create the trajectory of me being a doctor.

I think these spaces are full of love, compassion, learning, and engagement. When we think about the future of Texas—when we think about how diverse our state is now, and will be—don't we want to provide students with the tools to engage with each other? To learn how to think beyond differences? What I love about these spaces is that they are learning laboratories for our future society. And instead of creating nuance around these spaces, we are banning them. These spaces are critical not only to each individual student but for our collective society.

I also want to share the disappointment in higher education leaders who have stood down regarding this piece of legislation in order to advance other agendas. I want to say thank you to the students, faculty, and staff who have had the courage to tell the truth regarding these negative impacts. I specifically want to thank people like Dr. De Lissovoy, Dr. Betty Jeanne Wolfe Taylor, Dr. Angela Valenzuela, Dr. Zamora, Dr. Kevin Foster, Dr. Ted Gordon, the students who are fighting for DEI, and so many others.

We will lose money to our state. We will lose so many students. For example, right now, 16 percent of our students are now going out of state. Do we think pieces of legislation like this will encourage our students to stay in our state schools? Or will it perpetuate the exodus we are seeing? These bills have large impacts. It has a large impact not only for the students who are in our schools but for our future. I hope that we will consider the nuance necessary when we have pieces of legislation like this. I urge you to oppose this bill.

REPRESENTATIVE COLLIER: Representative González, I'm sure, like myself and many members on this floor today, you received a flood of e-mails pleading for us to reconsider the vote on this bill. Did you not receive any e-mails or contacts about this?

M. GONZÁLEZ: I have received numerous. I'm on the Higher Education Committee, and we heard hours and hours of testimony. For me, what was really powerful and why I am standing up here today is because students sat in our committee room for hours to say how harmful this piece of legislation was. Even though sometimes it's hard to oppose bills that our colleagues—who we respect and appreciate—we have to sometimes stand up for things that we know are going to hurt the generation after us.

COLLIER: I'm glad you said that because not only did you hear from students, but you also heard from those who write and apply for those grants. Did you not?

M. GONZÁLEZ: We heard from multiple faculty who have current research grants and/or are in the process of applying. What I think is really critical is that when we added the other amendments, we also became open to losing millions of dollars of research funding. I know there's questions about, "Will we lose research funding?" But when we cannot comply to grant regulations, we lose that funding. What is really scary is if we are in a multi-year grant, we could lose funding and have to pay back money. So there's lots of questions. Do we want our schools to lose money? I think the bigger question is what happens after you ban these offices and students don't have a place of belonging, students don't have a place to engage with each other in healthy and effective ways?

COLLIER: Right, and there's no safe space. I certainly agree with you on that, but I have some actual context to provide you in regard to the amount of dollars that are going to be lost. Now, we heard about the National Cancer Institute P30 Grant. It provides a minimum of $20 million to those grantees, including UT MD Anderson Cancer Center. UT Austin has one. The Victoria County Junior College has been eligible and received funding under this grant. One of the requirements is that they have a DEI office. When we eliminate that DEI office, we are hurting our schools. In fact, I talked about hundreds of thousands of dollars in loss, but when I heard back from those that this actually impacts, it is over $1 billion that we are going to lose by implementing this bill. The concern is that there may be some small schools who may have to shut down, and they may not even be able to provide services because they don't have adequate funding. They rely on these research dollars to help support their programs. So the concern is that we are tying the hands of our universities. We are not allowing them to be creative and utilize that diversity that they have built.

M. GONZÁLEZ: The house has been really committed to creating world-class universities. How do you create world-class universities if you don't have diverse populations, if you don't have a place where all students are able to learn and engage, and if you don't have a place where research dollars are coming down and you are able to attract the best and brightest professors? If I'm a professor who is considering going to a university, why would I consider coming to Texas when I could not get the research funding I need in order to do the work that I want to do? I'd rather go to a different state. And so we are going to lose talent from students, staff, and faculty with the passage of this bill. I understand that there is lots of consternation about what to do next, but I think it is important for us to bring forward the actual impact of this piece of legislation.

COLLIER: The people that contacted me—the grant writers—actually said that a statement is insufficient. You have to show an action plan, and you have to show compliance by actual documents and data, not just a statement. Is that what you heard as well?

M. GONZÁLEZ: Completely. When Representative Anchía—during the questioning on second reading—he stated how all these Fortune 500, Fortune 100, Fortune 300 companies have DEI offices. When we think about people who do grants, they also have DEI components to the work that they are doing. They want to see that their actions are also being done to their grantees. You can't just say, "Oh, we believe in this, so we are not really doing it." They have a follow-through process. I just think it's really important that if we care about the future of Texas, whether it's the financial component or whether it's the societal component, we are going to hit both with this piece of legislation.

COLLIER: When you talked about the societal impact that it has—what are we saying today about people who may not look like us or who may not be the same ethnicity as us? What are we saying about those that look like me and look like you? What is this bill telling us?

M. GONZÁLEZ: When I experienced the harassment I did in my dorm rooms, I didn't know where to go, but when I saw the names like "multicultural" or "diversity", I knew I could go there for support. I know someone in those offices—whether they were the offices I should go to—would help guide me. When you don't have places for students from diverse backgrounds to know like, "This is where I go," they just get lost, and they can fall through the cracks. Again, if I'm a student in high school watching this, I might be like, "Well, I'm not going to be welcome, so I'm going to go out of state." Or if I'm a student on a campus right now and these offices disappear, "Well, where do I go now?" I think that there are larger complications with the passage of this piece of legislation.

COLLIER: One of the things that I'm also concerned about, which you mentioned going forward, is that maybe someone that looks like me is not welcome here. What I recognize is that when people don't understand, they try to build walls to try to reduce the impact that those individuals have in our society. Instead of trying to understand and trying to work with someone, it's better to do that instead of just shutting them down and closing offices because you don't understand.

M. GONZÁLEZ: I think that there's a really great quote that says, "There is more pulling us together than pulling us apart." But unless we learn how to be together—I think this is not innate. There are forces that exist that try to pull us apart.

REPRESENTATIVE REYNOLDS: It truly breaks my heart that in the 88th Legislative Session in 2023 that we are going backwards. You know, when I think about the people whose shoulders I stand on—the people who made good trouble, the people who fought and literally died to end Jim Crow laws that historically kept people with a dark hue, that were African American or non-white, from attending colleges and universities. Jim Crow was the way of life in our country. We have come a long way. Dr. King said it best: "The moral arc of the universe is long, but it bends towards justice." I can imagine my forefathers who fought to break down those racial barriers, who made good trouble, who opened up opportunities—I can imagine them turning over in their grave that in 2023, when we should be in a post-racial America, instead we have SB 17. SB 17 that ends a lot of the progress that was made because of those sacrifices to end those disparities that opened up opportunities.

Now, I'll give you a little history. Heman Sweatt v. Painter, in 1950, was four years before Brown v. Board of Education was decided. This was Sweatt v. Painter: Heman Marion Sweatt, a 33-year-old Black postal worker who applied to and was denied entry into law school. He was the Sweatt in Sweatt v. Painter. Does anyone know who the Painter was? Theophilus Painter was the 13th president of The University of Texas, here in Austin. The courthouse, just two blocks away from here, is named the Heman Marion Sweatt Courthouse after that case.

Sweatt v. Painter was a case about a Black student from Houston being denied entry into the law school for the sole reason that he was Black. In fact, at the time, Article VII, Section 7, of the Texas Constitution stated that separate schools shall be provided for the white and colored children. Ultimately, the court in Sweatt v. Painter held that the equal protection clause required Sweatt to be admitted into the UT Law School. The case was handled by a young lawyer. Some of you may have heard of him, Thurgood Marshall. This set precedent for sweeping civil rights legislation that helped to desegregate our colleges and universities.

Diversity, equity, and inclusion programs were designed so that they could address those inequities that existed for centuries—for hundreds of years. It is just recently that we've started to make some marginal progress because of these very initiatives. And now, here we are today on third reading literally about to turn back the hands of time to those dark days where we reverse the great progress that has been made.

Now, I want to give you some important numbers to put into perspective what we are doing if we pass this bill. The State of Texas, as we know, is the second largest state in the country with a population of nearly 30 million. It is also, arguably, the most diverse state in the country with a population of 40.2 percent Hispanic, 13.2 percent African American, 5.5 percent Asian, and 1.1 percent Native American or Alaskan Native. Our diversity is our strength. There are more African Americans in Texas than in any other state in the country. What kind of message are we sending to African Americans, Hispanics, Asians, the disabled, and to veterans that will be adversely impacted by this piece of legislation?

I'd like to quote from an op-ed. This Saturday, former UT president, Gregory Fennes, on the national conversation fueled by the same anti-DEI rhetoric said, "In the classroom, faculty provide knowledge and direction and students add vibrancy, depth, and their own perspectives to the learning process. Outside the classroom, students are exposed to the views and insights of their fellow classmates and they are forever changed by building understanding while preparing for careers and lives in the diverse and interconnected world." Now, imagine what it would be like for an individual student if every one of their classmates was of the same hue or the same gender. Think about that. Think of all the opportunities for growth, collaboration, and shared understanding that would be lost without such a diverse makeup. DEI initiatives in colleges and universities help make students from all backgrounds feel more welcome attending a university and knowing that there is a welcoming community makes the transition to higher education easy for millions of students thanks to DEI initiatives. SB 17 would uproot all of this, and it would cause actual harm in the way that our colleges and universities operate as they will be losing the very programs that have made our institutions of higher learning the most competitive in the country right here in Texas. It is worth noting that these statistics represent real people—the communities who would be most affected by these systemic barriers and disparities as a result of the elimination of these DEI programs.

Members, are we sending a message—and I want you to hear me loud and clear—that it's okay that we can have our athletes play on our football fields, dunk on our basketball courts, and run our track and field teams? Are we saying it's okay that there's an exception for those athletes because we want them to come and entertain us? We want them to build revenue. We want them to highlight our school for bowls and championships and bragging rights, but we don't want them in the classroom. We don't want faculty and staff to be diverse. That is the message that this bill sends. It is a solution in search of a problem, because guess what? The Department of Justice says that DEI programs are legal. There's been no Supreme Court case law. What are we here for? This is simply partisan rhetoric. I saw how the votes are. At some point we have to be statesmen. Don't you want to be on the right side of history? None of us were there, as legislators, when the Sweatt case was argued. None of us were there when legislation kept Black and brown people from these universities in Texas. It wasn't until 1950 that we even ended whites-only primaries in Fort Bend County because of the Supreme Court. This is a bill that is discriminatory. This is a bill that says, "White supremacy is okay." We know that we're better than this. We know our diversity is our strength.

Finally, I know that there are many people of good conscience and many people who want to do the right thing, but are afraid of scorecards. I get it. I'm not denigrating anybody. We all have scorecards. We all have politics. All of us are here because of politics, but some things are bigger than politics. Some things are about being on the right side of history. Think about what those people did after Bloody Sunday when they realized the atrocities that happened when they tried to cross the bridge in Selma to Montgomery—they were beaten. Think about John Lewis. After that, it wasn't just Black people marching. It was white people. It was everyone saying enough is enough, we want change in this country. And we've had tremendous change. I know the hearts of many of you. I know that you're good people—good moral and upright people. I'm not trying to denigrate anybody personally, but I'm trying to appeal to your heart, to your social consciousness. If nothing more, I know many of you are my Christian brothers and sisters. Think about Proverbs 31:89 that says, "Speak out for the one who cannot speak, for the rights of those who are destitute. Speak out, judge fairly, and defend the rights of oppressed and needy people." I hope that you would join me in being on the right side of history. History has a way of judging us long after we're here. How do you want to be remembered? I guarantee you that this bill is one of those litmus tests that people will look back later in life—maybe not today, maybe this helps you with your next election—I guarantee you that 10 years from now, you don't want to be on the wrong side of those times.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Collier moved to print all remarks on SB 17.

The motion prevailed.

REPRESENTATIVE C. MORALES: I'm just speaking from the heart. I can't tell you how much I oppose this piece of legislation. I can't say that I have personally benefited from DEI programs, which are not mandated, by the way, but my daughter has. My daughter was the first one to leave her hometown to attend The University of Texas at Austin. We know from history that colleges like that one were not built with her in mind—young girl from Second Ward, Houston, leaving home to attend a big university with thousands and thousands of people. It was a hard transition for her. She was not ready. But I can tell you because of diversity, equity, and inclusion, she was able to feel welcome and join organizations that made her feel a part of The University of Texas at Austin.

She transferred into the business school, and she said, "Mom, there weren't a lot of professors that looked like me." Literally, she would come home with her nails bitten and her hair pulled out because it was really hard. But guess what? She succeeded. I'm sad that she moved further away from home and went to New York City. She currently now works—because of programs that purposefully try to make sure there's a diverse group of people who are working on different things that affect all of us in our community—she now works at the White House, one of the few Latinas. She's the director of social media platforms. I can assure you that it's because of DEI that she has made it this far in her short career-life.

Listen, less than a generation ago, people like her would have been prohibited from going to a university like this. This legislation literally takes the wind from our sails and leaves young people to navigate rough waters on their own. When I'm out in my district, when I speak to young voters, this is the one thing they talk about—diversity, equity, and inclusion. They are not happy about this. I can tell you, when you vote in favor of this legislation, the young people in your district are watching you. Please do the right thing and vote against this bill that would hurt many, many young people in our community.

REPRESENTATIVE ALLEN: I don't often come in front of you to speak or to make a plea, but today I am very serious. I was born in Houston, Texas. I attended Trinity Garden Elementary School for first grade. Senfronia and I went to school together. At the time, my mother was a cook in the cafeteria. She got her degree and sought a teaching position in Houston only to be denied a teaching position because she was Black. Blacks could not teach in white schools. They had to teach in Black schools. Whites taught in white schools. In order for her to have employment—the majority of the educated Blacks had to move to small towns. So I ended up in Livingston, Texas. I graduated from Dunbar High School in Livingston, Texas, after finishing primary school in Blanchard, Texas. When I got ready to go to high school—from Blanchard to Livingston—there was no transportation. I know you've heard that word recently, but there was no transportation. A well-to-do Black man in the community, Mr. White—and I want to call his name in case his family is listening—had a truck, painted it black, and wrote "school bus" on the outside. His children drove the "school bus" from Blanchard to Livingston, Texas, which was 10 miles away. That's how we got to high school. When I graduated in 1956, I had two choices. You either go to Prairie View A&M or you go to Texas Southern University. I had no other choice. I didn't have a car, and I couldn't afford to get to Prairie View, that was just too far. It was 50 miles down the road, so I went to Texas Southern University, and I'm grateful for that experience. Many of us here in this room went to Texas Southern University. Many of us will not have that opportunity again because we don't fund Texas Southern University and Prairie View the way we fund other schools.

And so today we face a bill—SB 17. Let me just say what the bill says at the beginning, because it's a lofty purpose. "A public institution of higher education must be committed to creating an environment of: intellectual inquiry and academic freedom so that all students are equipped for participation in the workforce and the betterment of society; and intellectual diversity so that all students are respected and educated regardless of race, sex, ethnicity, political persuasion, or religious background or belief." What a beautiful statement. The very next statement of the bill says now this is the responsibility of the governing board regarding diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives. This section on diversity, equity, and inclusion appoints an office and that office has the duty to oversee what goes on in the university. It says you cannot engage "in hiring or employment practices at the institution that give preferential treatments on the basis of race, sex, color, or ethnicity, other than through the use of nondiscriminatory hiring processes in accordance with any applicable state or federal antidiscrimination laws." It further says, "providing differential treatments to individuals on the basis of race, sex, color, or ethnicity" is prohibited along with "preferential treatment on the basis of race, sex, color, or ethnicity, other than policies or procedures approved in writing by the institution's general counsel for the purpose of ensuring compliance with any applicable court order or state or federal law in accordance with institutional policy." You may not conduct "trainings, programs, or activities that advocate for or give preferential treatment on the basis of race, sex, color, ethnicity, gender identity, or sexual orientation, other than trainings, programs, or activities developed by an attorney and approved in writing by the institution's general counsel for the purpose of ensuring compliance with any applicable court order or state or federal law in accordance with institutional policy." In other words, all of these things are done to prohibit people of color and differing sexual orientations—all of them—from attending the university.

Don't teach about Black history. You will be fired if you teach about Black history. I'm remembering this is 2023. We are still fighting for the rights that we fought for in 1954. We are still fighting. We are the new Martin Luther Kings. We are those persons who fought bloody wars to get where we are today. And it was not even thought that we could learn our ABCs. We learned our ABCs and got our PhDs. We're lawyers and doctors, and we make a difference in this world. We just want you to be aware of that.

Today, we're not only fighting for ourselves—we've done, we have accomplished, we are in the game. We have accomplished those things that we set out to do. Today, we fight for our grandchildren. I fight for my great-grandchildren. I want them to have better privileges than I had. I made it, but under rough, rough conditions. And so all of us need to think today. Your children are going to grow up in a different world. Your children are going to grow up with my children. They might even marry my children. Be thinking about that. This body today is moving backwards. It is our responsibility to make sure that all Texans are given the same opportunity and that we don't forget the history of these institutions.

Members, I urge you to vote no on SB 17 and to stand with the thousands of students and faculty of color that deserve resources to help them succeed. We must remember that the DEI movement was an anti-discriminatory effort that was instituted during the civil rights era. We're still fighting for our civil rights. Our community is full of people from diverse backgrounds. Our higher education institutions should be reflective of our community. Vote no for my children, my grandchildren, my great-grandchildren, your children, your grandchildren, and your great-grandchildren. Make this a better world.

REPRESENTATIVE RAMOS: I wanted to share with you all a little bit about what it means to have a diverse professor in the classroom teaching to students. I was a college professor for a while, and I taught government—Texas and federal government—in my community. One of the things that I always felt was important—me as a Latina, as a Mexican American growing up in Texas—I never felt the Constitution, the State of Texas, or anything that had to do with being in the official capacity belonged to me as a Latina, as a Mexican. I made sure, as an instructor, I would bring that home to my students.

In one of my classes, I would give a lecture on the First Amendment. Many of you may or may not know, but the First Amendment has five rights—five freedoms—one of those is freedom of speech. Freedom of expression is what I would talk to my students about—freedom of speech and music. Now, to give you an idea of the make up of my students, we had many immigrants. We had students from Vietnam, Indonesia; we had Mexican students; we had American students, African American students, and white students. We had a beautiful mixture of inner-city Dallas of all of these students from different backgrounds—some older, some younger, some veterans. It was a beautiful mixture. When I would give my First Amendment lecture, I would play a song. We would talk about protest songs protesting the government. The first song I introduced them to was "Born in the U.S.A." Do you all remember that song, Bruce Springsteen's "Born in the U.S.A."? That's a protest song. It's protesting the Vietnam War. Then I would play the song by 2 Live Crew called "Banned in the U.S.A." Now, if you all remember that's an old, old song from back in my day—back in Jarvis' day—"Banned in the U.S.A." It talks about the First Amendment. When I was a kid, I would sing that song, and the first lyric of that song is: the First Amendment is freedom of speech. So what are you saying? It doesn't include me? My students would trip out when we played "Born in the U.S.A." and "Banned in the U.S.A." and I would challenge them. "Bring me your protest song. Show me what kind of music and freedom of speech you're expressing in a protest song to a government. It could be any government."

The beauty of this assignment is they would come back with songs from Indonesia, from Vietnam, from Mexico. They were in different languages, and they would express to us the spirit of what the song and the video meant in those countries. How their countries, their citizenry, was oppressed and could not speak up. But they were able to relate to the First Amendment in our U.S. Constitution through their music. It was so beautiful. They learned from each other. They learned that Texas was a part of Mexico from the Los Tigres Del Norte. There was so many different times and different experiences that these students would have when they shared their music and what it meant to them. It brought back the Constitution to them. They no longer felt like they were outsiders to the U.S. Constitution; they were part of this country. They were able to learn from each other, which was the most beautiful thing. When a peer learns from a peer, they would lift each other up. It was beautiful to see. "Wow," they'd say, "I didn't know that was going on in Indonesia." Or, "What happened in Vietnam then?" And, "What's going on in China now?" Their universe was opened up far greater than just an instructor speaking to them, but I was a diverse instructor who had the experiences and the passion to open it up for them so they could have that dialogue. I want to stress to you that DEI is that. It is challenging, it's encouraging critical thinking for these students so that they can relate to something bigger than themselves—something larger than themselves, the grand collective of who we all are, and what we are here to do.

Now, one of the parts of my lecture that was amazing to the students, and I want to share with you all. You may already know this, but 1619, right? We know what that is. It's the beginning of institutionalized slavery in America. Then I would tell my students, "Okay, that was 1619, what happened in 1863?" The Emancipation Proclamation 250 years later. My students would be like, "Wow, 250 years later, we got the Emancipation Proclamation?" Yes. Then, about 100 years after that, we got the Civil Rights Act. Three hundred and fifty years of all of this oppression. My students were amazed to bring it home, to look at those numbers. It was mind-boggling to them. Slavery was an intentional thing. We're talking centuries and centuries of oppression and now systemic oppression. It brought everything home for those students to make connecting dots. If we look back at the Declaration of Independence, when we signed it in 1776—if we're talking the collective oppression of the beginning of the institutionalized slavery in America to the Civil Rights Act, it's roughly 350 years. Let's just add 350 years to 1776—which will give us about 2126—maybe that's when we should pass a bill like this. In 2126. Giving ourselves the 350 years it took us to get the Civil Rights Act passed.

What I'm saying to you is this is not what we need right now. What we need is to continue to engage and to encourage the majority of the student body and the population here in the State of Texas, which are communities of color. Because the reality is the train has left the station. Our communities of color are here. We must continue to empower and encourage them. I ask that you vote against this bill, and I leave you with this last statement. When you are accustomed to privilege, equality feels like oppression. I ask that you vote no on this bill.

REPRESENTATIVE J. JONES: An amendment, specifically Amendment No. 11, that would have prohibited public universities from giving preferential treatment to kids and grandkids of state legislators, failed with 76 members voting to keep that preference. Yet amendments that would have protected veterans, people with disabilities, and other constitutionally protected, historically disadvantaged persons failed over and over again. In case you lost count, that was 19 failures. That vote told me all I needed to know about SB 17. Helen Keller, Stevie Wonder, and Ray Charles could see what's really going on here. When people, or bodies, show you who they are—believe them. Colleagues, I respectfully request that you vote nay on SB 17.

SB 1518 ON THIRD READING (Guillen and Cook - House Sponsors)

SB 1518, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the establishment of a terrorist offender registry and to the supervision of those terrorist offenders; creating criminal offenses related to terrorism.

SB 1518 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE NEAVE CRIADO: Thank you, Chairman Guillen. Is it true that in our Mexican American and Latino culture, multi-generational households are the norm? For example, is it commonplace to have one household where you have the grandparents, the tíos and the tías—aunts and uncles—and cousins living within one household, is that—

REPRESENTATIVE GUILLEN: Absolutely, yes.

NEAVE CRIADO: And also will SB 1518 impact or affect family members who may live with somebody who has a criminal history?

GUILLEN: I don't believe so.

NEAVE CRIADO: And you know, of course, that one in four Texas families are mixed status?

GUILLEN: Okay.

NEAVE CRIADO: And also, it may be that you have one young family member who may have been labeled as having cartel affiliations or may have, for example, a small amount of marijuana in a multi-generational home. Under your bill, would the whole family be at risk of getting a misdemeanor because of that?

GUILLEN: Absolutely not. No. This creates a registry for people who have already been sentenced for terrorism or terroristic acts.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Neave Criado moved to print remarks between Representative Guillen and Representative Neave Criado on SB 1518.

POSTPONED BUSINESS

The following bills were laid before the house as postponed business:

SB 1418 ON SECOND READING

(J. Lopez, Raney, Guillen, Button, et al. - House Sponsors)

SB 1418, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the route designation for the issuance of a permit for the movement of oversize and overweight vehicles in certain counties.

SB 1418 was read second time on May 18 and was postponed until 10 a.m. today.

Amendment No. 1

Representative J. Lopez offered the following amendment to SB 1418:

Amend SB 1418 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering the SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Section 623.212, Transportation Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 623.212. PERMITS BY PORT AUTHORITY. Subject to Section 623.213, the [The] commission may authorize a port authority to issue permits for the movement of oversize or overweight vehicles carrying cargo on state highways located in counties:

(1) contiguous to the Gulf of Mexico or a bay or inlet opening into the gulf and:

(A) adjacent to at least two counties with a population of 550,000 or more; or

(B) bordering the United Mexican States; or

(2) contiguous to the Gulf of Mexico or a bay or inlet opening into the gulf with a population of not more than 200,000 and adjacent to a county described by Subdivision (1)(A).

SECTION _____. Subchapter K, Chapter 623, Transportation Code, is amended by adding Section 623.213 to read as follows:

Sec. 623.213. REQUIREMENTS OF PORT AUTHORITIES. (a) In this section, "permitting and routing optimization system" means the department's Internet-based system that allows a person to apply for a permit for an oversize or overweight vehicle online and provides customized route maps for permitted vehicles.

(b) A port authority may only issue permits for the movement of oversize or overweight vehicles in accordance with this subchapter if the port authority complies with the requirements of this section.

(c) A port authority that issues a permit under this subchapter shall ensure that appropriate safety personnel are on site at each terminal of the authority at all times the terminal is in operation to ensure the movement of oversize or overweight vehicles to or from the terminal complies with applicable state and federal laws.

(d) Each time an oversize or overweight vehicle enters or exits a terminal of a port authority that issues a permit under this subchapter, the port authority shall:

(1) weigh the vehicle using a scale that complies with the standards of the National Type Evaluation Program; and

(2) certify on the permitting and routing optimization system:

(A) the vehicle's weight at the time the vehicle enters and exits a terminal of the authority; and

(B) that the vehicle has the appropriate permit issued under this subchapter.

(e) A port authority may delegate the performance of the duties prescribed by Subsections (c) and (d) to a terminal operator that operates within the jurisdiction of the port authority.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

SB 29 - RULES SUSPENDED HOUSE SPONSOR AUTHORIZED

Representative Hunter moved to suspend Rule 8, Section 5(d), of the House Rules to designate Representative Gerdes as a house sponsor to SB 29.

The motion prevailed.

MAJOR STATE CALENDAR
SENATE BILLS
SECOND READING

The following bills were laid before the house and read second time:

CSSB 29 ON SECOND READING
(Lozano - House Sponsor)

CSSB 29, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to prohibited governmental entity implementation or enforcement of a vaccine mandate, mask requirement, or private business or school closure to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Zwiener offered the following amendment to CSSB 29:

Amend CSSB 29 (house committee printing) on page 2 of the bill, between lines 13 and 14, by inserting the following appropriately lettered subsection:

() Any assisted living facility regulated under Health and Safety Code, Chapter 247, and Texas Administrative Code (TAC), Title 26, Part I, Chapter 553.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Martinez Fischer offered the following amendment to CSSB 29:

Amend CSSB 29 (house committee printing) on page 2 of the bill, between lines 13 and 14, by inserting the following appropriately lettered subsection:

() A public hospital as defined by Section 241.003 of the Health and Safety Code.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

Amendment No. 3

Representative Harrison offered the following amendment to CSSB 29:

Amend CSSB 29 (house committee report) as follows:

(1) On page 2, line 18, following "(b)", strike "The", and substitute "Subject to Subsection (c), the".

(2) On page 2, between lines 21 and 22, insert the following:

(c) An individual employed by or providing services or receiving training in a health care facility that requires the individual to obtain a COVID-19 vaccination in accordance with the rule described by Subsection (b) is exempt from the vaccination requirement if the individual requests orally or in writing an exemption in accordance with federal law based on:

(1) a sincerely held religious belief, observance, or practice that is incompatible with the administration of the vaccine; or

(2) a recognized medical condition for which vaccines are contraindicated.

Amendment No. 3 - Point of Order

Representative Zwiener raised a point of order against further consideration of Amendment No. 3 under Rule 11, Section 2, of the House Rules. The speaker sustained the point of order, announcing his decision to the house as follows:

Ms. Zwiener raises a point of order against further consideration of the Harrison Amendment (Amendment No. 3) under Rule 11, Section 2, on the grounds that the amendment is not germane.

Ms. Zwiener notes that the bill provides that its mandate prohibition applies only to the extent that the prohibition does not conflict with the final federal regulation on this matter. That regulation provides that employers may grant an exemption for certain sincerely held beliefs. The amendment would require employers to grant such an exemption. During argument, it was conceded that the federal rule provided discretion to employers and the amendment would remove that discretion.

While it is permissible to place limits on discretionary authority, an amendment may not completely negate the discretion to be granted. See 88 H. Jour. 3775-3776 (2023) The Harrison Amendment would do exactly that, and, therefore, is not germane.

Accordingly, the point of order is respectfully sustained.

The ruling precluded further consideration of Amendment No. 3.

Amendment No. 4

Representative Harrison offered the following amendment to CSSB 29:

Amend CSSB 29 (house committee report) as follows:

(1) On page 2, line 18, following "(b)", strike "The", and substitute "Subject to Subsection (c), the".

(2) On page 2, between lines 21 and 22, insert the following:

(c) To the extent consistent with 86 Fed. Reg. 61555 (November 5, 2021), an individual employed by or providing services or receiving training in a health care facility that requires the individual to obtain a COVID-19 vaccination in accordance with the rule described by Subsection (b) is exempt from the vaccination requirement if the individual requests orally or in writing an exemption in accordance with federal law based on:

(1) a sincerely held religious belief, observance, or practice that is incompatible with the administration of the vaccine; or

(2) a recognized medical condition for which vaccines are contraindicated.

Amendment No. 4 - Point of Order

Representative Zwiener raised a point of order against further consideration of Amendment No. 4 under Rule 11, Section 2, of the House Rules. The speaker sustained the point of order, announcing his decision to the house as follows:

Ms. Zwiener raises a point of order against further consideration of the Harrison Amendment (Amendment No. 4) under Rule 11, Section 2, on the grounds that the amendment is not germane.

The amendment suffers from the same defect as the prior amendment offered by Mr. Harrison. 88 H. Jour. 4880 (2023) (sustaining point of order against Harrison Amendment). It also is not germane. See 88 H. Jour. 3775-3776 (2023).

Accordingly, the point of order is well-taken and sustained.

The ruling precluded further consideration of Amendment No. 4.

A record vote was requested.

CSSB 29, as amended, was passed to third reading by (Record 1941): 86 Yeas, 53 Nays, 1 Present, not voting.

CSSB 7 ON SECOND READING (Hunter - House Sponsor)

CSSB 7, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the reliability of the ERCOT power grid.

CSSB 7 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE HUNTER: I want to present CSSB 7. The "Lobby Annuity Plan," everybody. As Dustin Burrows told me, "The owner's box seems to be up there when it should be down here." Let's talk about CSSB 7. You've got more trees cut down just walking in this room, but I want to talk to you about the bill. What is this bill about? Think of the song: Pink Floyd's "Money." Let me tell you the history of CSSB 7. See? They're already calling; you can hear the phone.

I've been working on State Affairs and working with our great speaker for many years on the utility industry. We'd begun this process in 2019. Here's the bottom line: I can tell you about PCMs, I can tell you about load, I can tell you about firming—that sounds like another variant of COVID. They got more lingo in their group than you can count, but I'm going to spell out what this bill is about. After snow-cane Uri hit, the grid got called into question. Now, you're going to hear it's a one-time event. No, it isn't. I live on the coast. I hear about 100-year hurricanes all the time. They seem to be coming in less than 100 years. So we started a process of trying to strengthen the grid. At the end of last year, the concept of the PCM, Performance Credit Mechanism, was created.

Here's what this bill is, everybody. This bill has the generators on this side of the penalty box. The PUC, ERCOT, and the utility industry want, what I call, a map for the future. That's good. The concept is good, but you know not all concepts work. It's not all about unicorns, cotton candy, and hope for the best. Anybody that talks to you about me knows one thing I have done for six years. Donna Howard, you know it because you told me you were tired of my quote "What's the cost to the taxpayer?" That's the bottom line to this bill. PCM—a program to help generation and utilities, but they don't want anything but an open checkbook. They want to tell you, "Oh, we know what's best for you." What's this bill about? It's because I put a billion dollar limit in it, Chairman Frank. Just before I got up here, I had my office check on what is the cost, Chairman Turner, of the PCM. They still can't tell me. Chairman Wilson, I don't know what the PCM costs. This bill is only about one thing: billion dollar cap. My opposition doesn't want it.

Members, the evidence shows that if you go forward without CSSB 7, it will cost your taxpayers, ratepayers, and consumers $9 billion to $15 billion a year. Now, I want you to know that if you go home. Chairman Price, how do you go to Amarillo and say, "Hey, I voted down CSSB 7, but they're going to take care of you." Nine to $15 billion? They should have called this the "Sugar Daddy bill". This bill is being fought by money, and I want you to think about everything. Chairman Collier, you're right. Nine to $15 billion a year is not right, and I don't want consumers going home getting this. Now, members, I want you to know this: When you go home and you talk to your taxpayers—when they get an electric bill, I want you to look at that bill. They got an electric charge. Ed, Dennis? Electric charge. Then they got a new one, you all. J.M., Mary Ann—they got right under it called "delivery charge." Chairman Allen, what is that? Is that a Domino's Pizza addition to the bill? What is "delivery"? So now we're going to have the "PCM Sugar Daddy Charge" on there from $9 to $15 billion. What this bill does is it allows the PCM to go forward, it puts guardrails. You can get into the minutiae and say, "Let's change this word, and let's get to the firming." I mean, by the time I finished with this, I think Dr. Oliverson did a medical exam on this bill. The whole point is we've got a bunch of amendments.

Now this is the other thing I want to tell you. And I mean this very seriously, members. I am tired of the disrespect for the Texas House of Representatives. I want to know how many of you have gone before committees—chairmen, vice-chairmen, and members. You show up, and there's amendments and opposition. I want you to know almost all these amendments that were created by the box leaders up here, I haven't ever seen. Do you know how many times they came in and talked to me? Do you have the cricket sign going? I am tired of special-interest groups ignoring this body. I am offended as a chairman appointed by our great speaker, that they would end-run me constantly during this session. You know these fliers? One of them had to retract because it was wrong. But I want you all to be in my spot. We go to committees, and they oppose us; they change it, then we come to the floor. That's not respect for this body. I want respect, and I'm going to tell you two things: I want the cap because I need the consumers protected. Who's supporting me? I can't believe I've got Cyrus Reed from Sierra Club and Todd Staples from TXOGA together. I had to go reread the bill to make sure I was still for it. We have the Environmental Defense Fund. I have the Chemical Council on here. That is quite an array. And why? I want to thank Cyrus. Cyrus has been with us every step of the way on protecting the taxpayer and the consumer, and he believes there needs to be a limit. We'll go through these amendments, and I'm going to call out who didn't talk to me because I want you to know who's behind these points of order and amendments. I bet you we can all figure out by the end of this vote. Finally, ERCOT and PUC—their constituency is not you or the taxpayer, it's the generators. AECT and the electric utilities. I represent you as the body. I represent my district and the Texas state consumer. My constituency will always be you. We have three constituencies. Our district—204,000, the State of Texas, and you, as members.

So my closing is this: This is all about money. Remember Pink Floyd. There's nothing wrong with putting a cap. And by the way, in two years, we have the provision that it comes back to us, and you can change it, add to it, subtract it, modify, or get rid of it. You've got every safety check there is. But I want to tell you that I'm in this to protect the consumer, the ratepayer, the taxpayer, and you.

CSSB 7 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Turner raised a point of order against further consideration of CSSB 7 under Rule 4, Section 18(a), of the House Rules on the grounds that the committee minutes were inaccurate. The point of order was withdrawn.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the senate was received at this time (see the addendum to the daily journal, Messages from the Senate, Message No. 5).

Representative Lozano moved to print remarks by Representative Hunter on CSSB 7.

The motion prevailed.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Zwiener offered the following amendment to CSSB 7:

Amend CSSB 7 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Subtitle A, Title 2, Utilities Code, is amended by adding Chapter 18 to read as follows:

CHAPTER 18. TEXAS ENERGY EFFICIENCY COUNCILSec. 18.001. DEFINITIONS. In this chapter:

- (1) "Council" means the Texas Energy Efficiency Council.
- (2) "Energy efficiency program" means a program designed to:
 - (A) increase efficient energy use;
 - (B) reduce energy consumption during periods of peak energy demand;
 - (C) optimize energy consumption;
 - (D) identify and realize the benefits of energy efficient building design standards; or
 - (E) fund the implementation of energy cost reduction measures.
- (3) "Measure" means a direct measurement or modeling of energy efficiency performance over a 12-month period.
- (4) "Program administrator" includes any of the following entities that administer an energy efficiency program:
 - (A) a state agency, including the commission, the Texas Water Development Board, the State Energy Conservation Office, the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, and the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs;
 - (B) a political subdivision; or
 - (C) a private or public provider of electricity, gas, or water utility service, including an electric cooperative or municipally owned utility.

Sec. 18.002. PURPOSE. The Texas Energy Efficiency Council is a council established in the commission to:

- (1) provide a statewide collaborative approach to promoting energy efficiency;
- (2) measure, evaluate, and report on energy efficiency performance in this state;
- (3) monitor energy efficiency programs in this state;
- (4) make recommendations for improving energy efficiency programs in this state;
- (5) monitor and facilitate opportunities for coordination and leveraging of federal funding from the United States Department of Energy, United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, and other federal agencies that can be used by state agencies and political subdivisions for the purposes of enhancing energy efficiency;
- (6) provide a central repository for information on statewide energy efficiency performance and opportunities to participate in energy efficiency programs in this state; and
- (7) promote continuous improvement in energy efficiency performance in this state.

Sec. 18.003. ENERGY EFFICIENCY PROGRAM POLICIES. A program administrator shall establish measurable performance criteria and share the results with the council when creating or implementing an energy efficiency program.

Sec. 18.004. COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP. (a) The council is composed of the following 16 members:

(1) nine ex officio members as follows:

(A) the presiding officer of the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality;

(B) the chief executive officer of the Electric Reliability Council of Texas;

(C) the presiding officer of the commission;

(D) the comptroller;

(E) the director of the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs;

(F) the executive director of the Texas Economic Development and Tourism Office;

(G) the chairman of the Texas Water Development Board;

(H) the director of the Energy Systems Laboratory at the Texas A&M Engineering Experiment Station of The Texas A&M University System; and

(I) the chief executive of the Office of Public Utility Counsel; and

(2) seven public members appointed by the presiding officer of the commission as follows:

(A) one member must have experience in the field of engineering;

(B) one member must have experience in the field of public or private finance;

(C) one member must have experience in the field of law or business;

(D) one member must have experience in the field of environmental stewardship;

(E) one member must have experience in the field of electric utility operation;

(F) one member must have experience in the field of industrial operation; and

(G) one member must have business experience in the implementation of energy efficiency programs.

(b) An ex officio member may designate a person from the member's agency to serve in the member's place.

(c) The presiding officer of the council may designate a person to represent an appointed member in any meeting if the person meets the qualifications required by Subsection (a)(2).

(d) The ex officio members and the appointed members serve as voting members of the council.

(e) The presiding officer of the commission or the employee designated by the presiding officer shall serve as presiding officer of the council.

(f) The council shall meet at least two times per year at the call of the presiding officer.

(g) Council members may not receive compensation for services but, subject to the availability of funding, may receive reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred while performing council business.

(h) Appointments to council positions shall be made without regard to the race, color, disability, sex, religion, age, or national origin of the appointees.

Sec. 18.005. TERMS; VACANCY. (a) Appointed council members serve staggered four-year terms, with the terms of one or two members, as applicable, expiring on February 1.

(b) A vacancy on the council in the position of an appointed council member shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment. The person appointed serves for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Sec. 18.006. GROUNDS FOR REMOVAL. (a) It is a ground for removal from the council that a member:

(1) described by Section 18.004(a)(1) does not maintain during service on the council the qualifications required by that subdivision;

(2) cannot, because of illness or disability, discharge the member's duties for a substantial part of the member's term; or

(3) is absent from more than half of the regularly scheduled council meetings that the member is eligible to attend during a calendar year without an excuse approved by a majority vote of the council.

(b) The validity of an action of the council is not affected by the fact that it is taken when a ground for removal of a council member exists.

(c) If the presiding officer has knowledge that a potential ground for removal exists, the presiding officer shall notify the appointing authority and the attorney general that a potential ground for removal exists.

Sec. 18.007. ADMINISTRATIVE SUPPORT. The commission shall provide the council with administrative support, including meeting space and staff necessary to assist the council in carrying out the council's duties under this chapter.

Sec. 18.008. ENERGY EFFICIENCY PROGRAM MONITORING AND RECOMMENDATIONS. (a) The council shall measure, evaluate, and report on energy efficiency performance in this state.

(b) The council shall monitor energy efficiency programs in this state.

(c) The council may submit to a program administrator recommendations on means to encourage greater energy efficiency on a regular basis. The council may submit to a program administrator that administers a program described by Section 39.905 recommendations to assure better coordination between local, state, federal, and private energy efficiency programs for the purposes of Section 39.905.

Sec. 18.009. OFFICIAL INTERNET WEBSITE. The council shall develop and maintain an official Internet website for the publication of information as required by this chapter.

Sec. 18.010. LIST OF ENERGY EFFICIENCY PROGRAMS. (a) The council shall:

(1) develop a list of currently operating energy efficiency programs in this state and publish the list on the official Internet website maintained under Section 18.009; and

(2) work with the State Energy Conservation Office and the commission to develop and publish on the official Internet website maintained under Section 18.009 a user-friendly page that allows a consumer to search by the consumer's address energy efficiency programs available in the consumer's service area.

(b) The State Energy Conservation Office and the commission each shall provide a link on their Internet websites to the page described by Subsection (a)(2).

Sec. 18.011. CONFIDENTIALITY OF CERTAIN INFORMATION. (a) Except as provided by this section, the council is not subject to Chapter 551 or 552, Government Code.

(b) Information written, produced, collected, assembled, or maintained under law or in connection with the transaction of official business by the council or an officer or employee of the council is subject to Section 552.008, Government Code, in the same manner as public information.

Sec. 18.012. BIENNIAL PERFORMANCE REPORT. (a) The council biennially shall prepare a report on energy efficiency performance in this state. The council shall submit the report to the legislature not later than January 15 of each odd-numbered year.

(b) The report must include:

(1) a comprehensive review of the energy efficiency programs on the list required by Section 18.010, including initial capital investment, ongoing operating expenses, and energy savings benefits of the programs;

(2) statewide energy efficiency performance by sector and county; and

(3) recommendations for improving energy efficiency programs in this state.

(c) The report may include:

(1) criteria developed by the council for evaluating and measuring energy efficiency programs in this state;

(2) opportunities for continuous improvement in energy efficiency performance in this state; and

(3) recommendations for creating new energy efficiency programs in this state.

(d) The council shall publish the report on the official Internet website maintained under Section 18.009.

Sec. 18.013. APPLICABILITY OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE LAW. Chapter 2110, Government Code, does not apply to the council.

SECTION ____. As soon as practicable after the effective date of this Act, the presiding officer of the Public Utility Commission of Texas shall appoint members to the Texas Energy Efficiency Council in accordance with Section 18.004, Utilities Code, as added by this Act.

Amendment No. 2 was withdrawn.

CSSB 7 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE S. THOMPSON: Does the current electricity market have price caps?

REPRESENTATIVE TURNER: Yes, it does.

S. THOMPSON: And would replacing the cost cap with a price cap allow the PCMs to function properly and deliver additional reliability for consumers?

TURNER: Ms. Thompson, I believe it would. I believe staying true to the price caps that we have in the current energy-only market is an appropriate way for the PCM to move forward while also providing general cost constraints for our constituents and protections of the consumers.

S. THOMPSON: If a cost cap stays in the bill, is it fair to say we are asking our constituents—ratepayers—to pay higher electricity bills, but without higher reliability?

TURNER: Yes, ma'am. I think that is exactly right. If you look at CSSB 7—we've talked a lot about the cap this afternoon, but the other provisions—the DRRS provision, the firming requirements—all of those add costs without increasing reliability for our constituents. So yes, I believe that is a grave concern with this legislation.

S. THOMPSON: And will a cost cap for the Performance Credit Mechanism result in less reliability on the grid?

TURNER: Yes, I believe it will result in less reliability, and I think the data we've seen from ERCOT proves that.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the senate was received at this time (see the addendum to the daily journal, Messages from the Senate, Message No. 4).

Amendment No. 1

Representatives Metcalf, Leo-Wilson, K. King, VanDeaver, Orr, Bailes, Toth, Ortega, Smithee, Ashby, Price, Hefner, Moody, Schaefer, Manuel, Dean, and Clardy offered the following amendment to CSSB 2627:

Amend CSSB 2627 (house committee printing) as follows:

(1) On page 2, between lines 12 and 13, insert the following:

Sec. 34.0103. GRANTS FOR FACILITIES OUTSIDE ERCOT POWER REGION. (a) The commission may use money in the fund without further appropriation to provide grants to be used for transmission and distribution infrastructure and electric generating facilities in this state outside the ERCOT power region for:

- (1) facility modernization;
- (2) facility weatherization;
- (3) reliability and resiliency facility enhancements; or
- (4) vegetation management.

(b) In evaluating an application for a grant under this section, the commission:

(1) shall evaluate whether the project for which the grant is requested is reasonable; and

(2) may consider any other appropriate factors.

(c) Information submitted to the commission in an application for a grant under this section is confidential and not subject to disclosure under Chapter 552, Government Code.

(2) On page 2, line 13, strike "34.0103" and substitute "34.0104".

(2) On page 6, line 23, strike "; and" and substitute an underlined period.

(3) Strike page 6, line 24, through page 7, line 1.

(4) Strike page 7, lines 20-24, and substitute the following:

(f) Unless the commission determines that extenuating circumstances justify extending the deadlines provided by this subsection, the commission may not provide a grant under this section of more than:

(1) $120,000 per megawatt of capacity provided by a facility that is interconnected in the ERCOT power region before June 1, 2026; or

(2) $80,000 per megawatt of capacity provided by a facility that is interconnected in the ERCOT power region on or after June 1, 2026, and before June 1, 2028.

(g) Unless the commission determines that extenuating circumstances justify extending the deadline provided by this subsection, the commission may not provide a grant under this section for a facility that is interconnected in the ERCOT power region on or after June 1, 2028.

Amendment No. 5 was adopted.

Amendment No. 6

Representative Howard offered the following amendment to CSSB 2627:

Amend CSSB 2627 (house committee printing) on page 7, between lines 24 and 25, by inserting the following:

Sec. 34.01041. ENERGY EFFICIENCY LOAN GUARANTEES. (a) The commission may use money in the fund without further appropriation to issue or guarantee loans for energy audits, upgrades, or retrofits to increase the energy efficiency of commercial buildings and residential properties that are not newly constructed.

(b) The commission by rule shall establish eligibility requirements to receive a loan or loan guarantee under this section to ensure that the energy savings exceed the amount of the loan.

(c) Section 35.005(d) does not apply to a loan issued under this section.

Sec 34.01042. RESIDENTIAL ENERGY EFFICIENCY AND DEMAND RESPONSE GRANTS AND REBATES. (a) The commission may use money in the fund without further appropriation to provide grants and rebates for residential weatherization and other demand reduction programs. A grant or rebate provided under this section may:

(1) supplement an existing program implemented by an electric utility under Section 39.905, including by reducing energy efficiency cost recovery fees to meet commission goals; and

(2) be allocated directly to an electric utility to be used for residential weatherization and other demand reduction programs.

(b) The commission may establish guidelines for grants and rebates provided under this section to ensure that low-income residential customers benefit from the funds provided as necessary to comply with Section 39.905.

(c) Section 35.005(d) does not apply to a grant issued under this section.

Amendment No. 6 was withdrawn.

Amendment No. 7

Representative Geren offered the following amendment to CSSB 2627:

Amend CSSB 2627 (house committee printing) on page 8, lines 3-5, by striking "for a facility under this chapter if the facility will be used primarily to serve an industrial load or private use network." and substituting the following:
under this chapter:

(1) for a facility that will be used primarily to serve an industrial load or private use network; or

(2) for the construction or operation of a natural gas transmission pipeline.

Amendment No. 7 was adopted.

Amendment No. 8

Representative Hernandez offered the following amendment to CSSB 2627:

Amend CSSB 2627 (house committee printing) as follows:

(1) On page 1, between lines 9 and 10, insert the following:

SUBCHAPTER A. TEXAS ENERGY FUND; GRANTS AND LOANS

(2) On page 1, line 10, strike "chapter" and substitute "subchapter".

(3) On page 13, between lines 11 and 12, insert the following:

SUBCHAPTER B. TEXAS POWER PROMISE: BACKUP POWERPACKAGES

Sec. 34.0201. DEFINITION. In this subchapter, "Texas backup power package" means a stand-alone, behind-the-meter, multiday backup power source that can be used for islanding.

Sec. 34.0202. PURPOSE. The purpose of this subchapter is to facilitate and provide funding for the design, procurement, installation, and use of Texas backup power packages to ensure the reliability or adequacy of an electric power grid in this state for facilities on which communities rely for health, safety, and well-being.

Sec. 34.0203. COMMISSION DUTIES. (a) The commission shall convene an advisory committee in the manner provided by Chapter 2110, Government Code.

(b) The advisory committee shall recommend criteria for the commission to employ in making a grant or loan under this subchapter.

(c) The commission shall contract with a research entity that has experience in microgrid design to analyze critical facility characteristics and requirements in this state and develop for Texas backup power packages:

(1) sets of specifications for standard backup power packages of various sizes that can serve most critical facilities in this state; and

(2) specifications for standard interconnection, communications, and controls for Texas backup power packages.

Sec. 34.0204. TEXAS BACKUP POWER PACKAGES. The commission may use money in the Texas energy fund without further appropriation to provide a grant or loan for the operation of a Texas backup power package that:

(1) is engineered to minimize operation costs;

(2) uses interconnection technology and controls that enable immediate islanding from the power grid and stand-alone operation for the host facility;

(3) is capable of operating for at least 48 continuous hours without refueling or connecting to a separate power ;

(4) is designed so that one or more Texas backup power packages can be aggregated on-site to serve not more than 2.5 megawatts of load at the host facility;

(5) provides power sourced from:

(A) a combination of natural gas or propane with photovoltaic panels and battery storage; or

(B) battery storage on an electric school bus; and

(6) is not used by the owner or host facility for the sale of energy or ancillary services.

Sec. 34.0205. GRANTS AND LOANS. (a) The commission by rule may establish procedures for the application for and award of a grant or loan under this subchapter.

(b) The amount of a grant provided under this subchapter may not exceed $500 per kilowatt of capacity.

(c) The commission may provide a loan under this subchapter for procurement and operating costs.

(d) The commission shall maintain and publish a list of approved vendors eligible to assist with the sale, installation, operation, and ongoing maintenance of Texas backup power packages.

(e) The commission may not provide a grant or loan under this subchapter for:

(1) a commercial energy system, a private school, or a for-profit entity that does not directly serve public safety and human health; or

(2) a source of backup power that does not follow the design and use standards of a Texas backup power package.

(4) On page 13, line 14, between "(d)" and "The" insert "This subsection applies only to a facility in the ERCOT power region for which a loan or grant is provided under Subchapter A, Chapter 34."

(5) Strike "under Chapter 34" in each of the following places:

(A) page 13, line 17;

(B) page 13, line 22;

(C) page 13, line 25;

(D) page 13, line 27; and

(E) page 14, line 8.

(6) On page 14, lines 11-12, strike "for which a loan or grant is provided under Chapter 34" and substitute "to which Subsection (d) applies".

(7) On page 14, line 23, between "authorized by" and Chapter 34", insert "Subchapter A,".

(8) Add the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumber subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Subchapter C, Chapter 382, Health and Safety Code, is amended by adding Section 382.069 to read as follows:

Sec. 382.069. TEXAS BACKUP POWER PACKAGE. (a) In this section, "Texas backup power package" has the meaning assigned by Section 34.0201, Utilities Code.

(b) The commission by rule shall adopt a process to expedite the permitting of a Texas backup power package for which a permit is required under this chapter and for which a loan or grant is awarded under Chapter 34, Utilities Code.

SECTION _____. Subchapter Z, Chapter 39, Utilities Code, is amended by adding Section 39.919 to read as follows:

Sec. 39.919. TEXAS BACKUP POWER PACKAGES. (a) In this section, "Texas backup power package" has the meaning assigned by Section 34.0201.

(b) The commission by rule shall adopt procedures to expedite electric cooperative, municipally owned utility, and electric utility interconnection requests for a Texas backup power package for which a loan or grant is awarded under Chapter 34.

Amendment No. 8 was adopted.

Amendment No. 9

Representative Patterson offered the following amendment to CSSB 2627:

Amend CSSB 2627 (house committee printing) as follows:

(1) On page 7, after line 24, insert the following new appropriately lettered subsection:

() The commission may not provide a grant under this section to an entity that has received a loan under Section 34.0104.

(h)

(3) On page 7, between lines 24 and 25, insert the following:

(i) The commission shall provide for the proceeds of each grant awarded under this section to be disbursed to the grant recipient by equal annual payments over a 10-year period that begins on the first anniversary of the commercial operations date of the facility for which the grant is provided. The annual payments are subject to being withheld or discounted in accordance with Subsection (j). The total of the annual disbursements may not exceed the maximum amount as limited by Subsection (f).

(j) The commission by rule shall establish performance standards for grant recipients based on reliability metrics, appropriate for the types of facilities for which grants may be provided, for performance during the 100 hours with the least quantity of operating reserves for each year. The commission may not disburse a grant recipient's annual payment under Subsection (i) if the performance of the facility for which the grant was provided is equal to or below the median performance standard established under this subsection during a test period designated by the commission for that year. The commission may disburse a discounted amount of a grant recipient's annual payment under Subsection (i) if the performance of the facility for which the grant was provided is above the median performance standard established under this subsection during a test period designated by the commission for that year but less than an optimal performance standard established by the commission. The commission shall by rule adopt a system for determining the amount by which the commission will discount an annual payment based on facility performance under this subsection.

(4) On page 8, strike lines 6-10 and insert the following:

(c) The commission shall require each recipient of a loan under this chapter to enter into a debt covenant that requires the recipient to meet facility performance standards adopted by the commission. The commission by rule shall adopt performance standards for the purposes of this subsection based on reliability metrics appropriate for the types of facilities for which loans may be provided.

(d) Before December 1, 2026, the commission may provide:

(1) for grants under Section 34.0103, not more than 15 percent of the money available in the fund on December 1, 2023;

(2) for loans and grants under Sections 34.0104 and 34.0105, not more than 60 percent of the money available in the fund on December 1, 2023; and

(3) for grants or loans under Subchapter B, not more than 25 percent of the money available in the fund on December 1, 2023.

(5) On page 8, line 11, strike "(d) Subsection (c)" and substitute "(e) Subsection (d)".

Amendment No. 9 was adopted.

CSSB 18 ON SECOND READING (Kuempel - House Sponsor)

CSSB 18, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the tenure and employment of faculty members at certain public institutions of higher education.

CSSB 18 was read second time earlier today and was postponed until this time.

CSSB 18 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: The last time the Texas Legislature addressed tenure was in the 75th Legislature. CSSB 18 will put in place a framework for how tenure is granted to faculty members, how tenured faculty are reviewed, and when and how tenured faculty can be dismissed. Although the senate bill version that came over was to ban all tenure to be awarded after January 1, 2024, this substitute will allow for tenure to still be granted and puts in place a strong foundation for our universities to follow that will provide accountability while maintaining an environment that is conducive to recruiting and retaining the best faculty and researchers in the state and nation. The bill requires that the universities have policies that are clear, hold tenured faculty accountable for their teaching, research, and service, and ensures that faculty who are not meeting the established standards for their performance can be removed from their positions while receiving due process. This bill will help ensure that faculty who earn tenure uphold the responsibilities to the students, their universities, and to our great state.

REPRESENTATIVE REYNOLDS: Are you aware that CSSB 18 was filed to empower Texas state officials to punish and terminate professors who teach courses about subject matters concerning race, gender, and sexual orientation that those officials disagree with?

KUEMPEL: I am not aware of that, Mr. Reynolds.

REYNOLDS: Are you aware that on February 18, 2022, Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick held a press conference where he said he will push to end professor tenure for all new hires at Texas public universities and colleges in an effort to combat faculty members who he says indoctrinate students with teachings about critical race theory?

KUEMPEL: No, sir, Mr. Reynolds, I was not aware of that.

REYNOLDS: Are you aware that on January 17, 2023, during his inaugural address, Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick stated, "A subject has come up of tenure. Now, let me just say this. I don't start any fights, but I will do my best to finish a few on your behalf. Out of nowhere, a professor said 'We are going to teach critical race theory at our college and university,' and I tweeted out, 'Wait, a minute, we banned critical race theory in K-12. Next session, if you are hellbent on teaching it in our colleges, we will ban it in college.' They came back and said, 'Well, we don't listen to the legislature. We don't listen to the board of regents. They're not accountable to anyone.' Well, let me tell you what. Our public professors are accountable to the taxpayers because you pay their salary, they are accountable to the board of regents, and they are accountable to the legislature. Tenure is fine for our research professors and our doctors, but for those professors in the classroom every day, I don't want them teaching—just like the parents don't want it in K-12—that if you are white, you're a racist, and if you are of color, you're a victim. I don't want teachers in our colleges saying America is evil, and capitalism is bad, and socialism is better. If that means some of those professors who want to teach that don't come to Texas, I'm okay with that. I want professors who love this country, who love this state, and raise up the next generations to be proud of being in business." Are you aware of that statement?

KUEMPEL: No, Mr. Reynolds. I was not aware of that statement.

REYNOLDS: Are you aware the lieutenant governor announced CSSB 18 as one of his priorities on February 13, 2023?

KUEMPEL: I may have been aware of that one, Mr. Reynolds.

REYNOLDS: Are you aware that in the last legislative session, Senator Creighton, the author of this bill, filed bills related to ending or weakening tenure that never even got out of committee?

KUEMPEL: I was not aware of that, Mr. Reynolds.

REYNOLDS: Can you just explain to me then what your thought process is behind the drafting of this bill? What issues do you think this bill addresses?

KUEMPEL: Mr. Reynolds, number one, we are attempting to put tenure back in this substitute. Number two, providing our institutions of higher education a baseline framework of what we expect from those institutions and those in that faculty.

REYNOLDS: I appreciate that remark. Are you aware or do you disagree that this bill will impact all professors in Texas, potentially eviscerating an imperfect but important process for higher education faculty?

KUEMPEL: I think there is actually a positive impact for the faculty with a transparent baseline and framework of expectations.

REYNOLDS: Well, I respectfully disagree. Are you aware that Black professors are already severely underrepresented in academia, especially Black women? Only four percent of tenured faculty in Texas are Black. Are you aware of that?

KUEMPEL: No, sir, Mr. Reynolds.

REYNOLDS: And it is my opinion, as well as experts I have spoken to, that if this bill becomes law, the state weakens this protection that was already a rarity. What protections would the state leave in place to ensure that Black professors or professors of topics related to race and gender are not discriminated against in their contracts and annual reviews?

KUEMPEL: Mr. Reynolds, I just revert back to saying that this legislation is just a baseline of what we expect from our higher institutions.

REYNOLDS: Colleges and universities are central to the safeguarding of ideas, critical thinking, and academic freedom. These ideals and the pursuit of truth through research are paramount to our democracy. Put differently, higher education institutions are anchors of our democracy. America's system of higher education is recognized globally for this critical role. Could you discuss what consideration was given for how this legislation will impact our democracy and what guardrails you will institute to ensure that you do not erode this essential role of institutions of higher education?

KUEMPEL: Again, the framework that allows us to express our expectations for those institutions along the way and giving them the opportunity to policy-make from the bottom up, really, with the faculty involved.

REYNOLDS: Critical race theory is a more than 40-year-old academic concept that began in law schools. It recognizes that racism is more than the result of individual bias and prejudice, but is imbedded in laws, policies, and institutions that uphold and reproduce racial inequalities. It has been made clear that CSSB 18 was proposed as a way to target the teachings of this theory and other topics related to race, gender, and sexuality. Do you believe that systemic racism exists?

KUEMPEL: Mr. Reynolds, again, this bill is a simple baseline and framework that we are giving to our institutions to let them know what we expect regarding tenure.

REYNOLDS: Do you believe that systemic sexism exists?

KUEMPEL: Again, baseline framework.

REYNOLDS: How can you ensure that courses and professors of these topics will not be targeted in the implementation of this proposed law? What protections remain?

KUEMPEL: We have due process. You know, whether they come to dismissal are protections for that faculty. And again, the faculty will be a part of the policymaking and they will be involved.

REYNOLDS: Do you acknowledge that racial disparities remain in Texas in education, health outcomes, voting, housing, and other areas?

KUEMPEL: Again, Mr. Reynolds, I would suggest that this legislation is focused toward tenure and the framework that we expect.

REYNOLDS: Wouldn't you agree that this legislation threatens research and teaching about the root causes of these current day inequalities?

KUEMPEL: I don't think it threatens research. The fact that we are keeping tenure in would suggest that we are recruiting—

Amendment No. 1

Representative Tinderholt offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) on page 1, line 16, between "position" and "unless", by inserting "under an annual contract".

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE TINDERHOLT: This bill regulates tenure. The amendment inserts a requirement that tenure would be an annual basis. There's nowhere else really in the private sector where I believe that people just get kind of a free ticket. I own my own business, and I think it would be really important to check people on an annual basis. Oftentimes, in the military, we got biannual reviews and annual reviews. I move adoption on this amendment that I think is a smart thing to do—to do annual tenure.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: This essentially just strikes tenure and gives them an annual contract. The purpose of our legislation here today is to restore tenure going forward, so I respectfully oppose this amendment.

TINDERHOLT: I just respectfully disagree. I think this provides more accountability by requiring the university and the professor to revisit and evaluate their tenure relationship every year.

Amendment No. 1 - Point of Order

Representative Zwiener raised a point of order against further consideration of Amendment No. 1 under Rule 11, Section 3, of the House Rules on the grounds that the amendment changes the bill's original purpose. The point of order was withdrawn.

Amendment No. 1 was withdrawn.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Cole offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) as follows:

Strike page 2, line 2, through page 2, line 4, and substitute the following:

(c) The granting of tenure may not be construed to create a property interest in any attribute of a faculty position beyond a faculty members continuing employment, including his or her regular annual salary and any privileges incident to his or her status as a tenured professor.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE COLE: This simple amendment would just broaden the definition of "property interest" beyond a simple yearly salary to preserve a current professor's position within the faculty. If we want to be able to continue to recruit and retain top faculty across the country, to encourage them to come to Texas public institutions of higher education, we need to ensure that the value of tenure in Texas is comparable to the value of tenure outside of our state. I believe that the amendment is acceptable to the author.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: It is going to be acceptable. I just wanted to say this is some work that we've done clearing up some ambiguity around the property interest.

Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

Amendment No. 3

Representative Tinderholt offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) as follows:

(1) On page 2, lines 20 and 21, strike "that adversely affects the institution or the faculty member's performance of duties or meeting of responsibilities".

(2) On page 2, lines 23 and 24, strike "substantially related to the performance of the faculty member's duties".

(3) On page 2, lines 25 through 27, strike "affecting the fitness of the faculty member to engage in teaching, research, service, outreach, or administration".

(4) On page 3, lines 2 and 3, strike "that adversely affects the institution or the faculty member's performance of duties or meeting of responsibilities".

AMENDMENT NO. 3 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE TINDERHOLT: This bill regulates professor tenure. These tenure positions often reward professors who actively work against the interest of our students. This amendment expands the violations for which they can be removed under tenure.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: All four of these remove a connection between conduct and the effect of that conduct on an institution or job duties. It really just removes needed detail that we need, so I'm going to respectfully oppose.

TINDERHOLT: Let me give you an example. I removed a sentence from each of the reasons someone can be fired. Before, it was "engaged in conduct involving moral turpitude that adversely affects the institution or facility," and it goes on. I changed it to be "engaged in conduct involving moral turpitude." It's similar to that on every single one. If they have moral issues or legal issues, then they stand to potentially be terminated.

CSSB 18 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Reynolds raised a point of order against further consideration of CSSB 18 under Rule 11, Section 2, and Rule 11, Section 3, of the House Rules on the grounds that the committee substitute is not germane and changes the original purpose of the bill. The point of order was withdrawn.

Amendment No. 4

Representative Garcia offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) as follows:

- (1) On page 1, line 21, strike "and (c-4)" and substitute "(c-4), and (c-5)".
- (2) On page 2, line 22, strike "laws or".
- (3) On page 2, line 25, between "been" and "convicted", insert "finally".
- (4) On page 3, between lines 13 and 14, insert the following:

(c-2) For purposes of Subsection (c-1)(2)(A)(vi), a person is not considered to have been finally convicted of a crime for which the criminal proceedings are deferred without an adjudication of guilt.

- (5) On page 3, line 14, strike "(c-2)" and substitute "(c-3)".
- (6) On page 3, line 26, strike "(c-3)" and substitute "(c-4)".
- (7) On page 5, line 7, strike "(c-4)" and substitute "(c-5)".

AMENDMENT NO. 4 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE GARCIA: Our country and criminal justice system guarantees that no person shall be deprived life, liberty, or property without due process of law. Our legal system allows defendants to undergo community supervision if the courts deem it to be in the best interest of justice. This ensures that punishment fits the crime and Texans learn from their mistakes while decreasing the likelihood of re-offending. Before their lives and livelihoods are disrupted, tenured professors in Texas deserve the same treatment and access to due process as we afford to other citizens. This amendment simply adds language that would make this bill consistent with the Texas felony disenfranchisement statutes by stating that the final conviction, instead of any convictions deemed relevant, can be the basis for the termination of a tenured professor.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: This amendment just precludes violation of the law that is substantially related to the performance of a faculty member's duty to be a basis for loss of tenure. You remember that we do have due process built into this legislation, so I will respectfully oppose.

GARCIA: Please vote yes on this amendment.

A record vote was requested.

CSSB 18 - (consideration continued)Amendment No. 5

Representative J. Jones offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) on page 2, line 4, between "salary" and the underlined period, insert "during each year of continuous employment".

AMENDMENT NO. 5 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE J. JONES: Members, this amendment holds significant importance in ensuring the stability and fairness of tenure within our educational institutions. This amendment seeks to clarify and reinforce the duration of employment benefits associated with tenured positions. By explicitly stating that the guaranteed salary extends throughout each year of continuous employment, we provide a stronger guarantee of job security and stability for tenured faculty members. Without this amendment, the wording in the bill leaves room for ambiguity and potential misinterpretation regarding the duration of employment benefits. By adding this essential clarification, we ensure that tenured faculty members can confidently rely on the guaranteed salary during every year of their continuous service. This amendment is crucial in maintaining the attractiveness and competitiveness of our institutions when compared to the many schools that offer traditional tenure. By providing a clear and unequivocal commitment to the ongoing support of our tenured faculty, we signal our dedication to academic excellence and the well-being of our educators.

Furthermore, this amendment upholds the principles of fairness and equity. It recognizes the value and contributions of our tenured faculty members by acknowledging their expertise and the importance of their continued employment. By supporting this amendment, we demonstrate our commitment to preserving the stability and integrity of tenure and promoting a nurturing environment for our educators. This is different than Representative Cole's amendment because it says for each year that you have tenure, they pay you through the entirety of the year. It doesn't guarantee more years. I also believe it makes us more competitive when you have professors who are coming in, because if we don't let them know that they're at least guaranteed for a year, they're going to go other places, and we're going to have a brain drain. I urge you all to vote yes on this amendment ensuring that the benefits of tenure are upheld and reaffirmed for the betterment of our educational system.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: I appreciate what Ms. Jones is trying to do, but I'm not sure that it—well, let me put it this way—I think it may affect what Representative Cole and I did. We cleared up some of the ambiguity on the personal interest. With that, I will respectfully oppose, and I think it's been addressed already. Thank you.

J. JONES: Yes, and I'd just like to say I respectfully disagree with Representative Kuempel that it clears up all of the ambiguity. So I would respectfully ask that you vote aye for this amendment. Thank you very much.

Amendment No. 6

Representative Perez offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) on page 2, line 4, between "salary" and the underlined period, by inserting "and employee benefits".

AMENDMENT NO. 6 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE PEREZ: This amendment adds language that adds benefits to what a tenured professor would be entitled to. Offering competitive benefits as part of tenure is crucial for retaining the experienced faculty members. Tenured professors are valuable assets to institutions and providing attractive benefits demonstrates a commitment to their long-term well-being and professional growth. When professors feel supported and valued through comprehensive benefits, they are more likely to stay and contribute to the institutions. Basically, all this does is that it amends on page 2, line 4, between the salary and the underlined period by inserting "and employee benefits."

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: I'm going to oppose this amendment, respectfully, on the grounds that due process approach already exists in the bill. And personal benefits—I don't think you can really define that, so we defined salary. With that, I oppose.

Amendment No. 6 failed of adoption.

Amendment No. 7

Representative Neave Criado offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) as follows:

(1) On page 5, line 20, strike "and".

(2) On page 5, between lines 20 and 21, insert the following:

(B) an opportunity for the faculty member to personally review all evidence supporting dismissal; and

(3) On page 5, line 21, strike "(B)" and substitute "(C)".

(4) On page 5, line 22, between "allegations" and "in", insert "and cross-examine witnesses".

(5) On page 5, line 25, strike "Subdivision (1)(B)" and substitute "Subdivision (1)(C)".

AMENDMENT NO. 7 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE NEAVE CRIADO: On page 5 of CSSB 18, there's a section that discusses the policies and procedures in instances where there's going to be a summary dismissal of a tenured faculty member. There has to be a finding that the faculty member committed serious misconduct. And then right beneath that, it gets into language regarding what appropriate due process means in those specific circumstances where there's a summary dismissal. The first thing is that the tenured faculty member—where the policies and procedures have to include "before summarily dismissing the faculty member, they have to provide the faculty member with (A) written notice of the allegations against the faculty member together with an explanation of the evidence supporting dismissal." And then second, they get "an opportunity for the faculty member to respond to the allegations in a hearing with a designated administrator." What this amendment does is it adds in to the line where it says, "an opportunity for the faculty member to respond to the allegations," it would also give the faculty member—the tenured faculty member—an opportunity to cross-examine.

As many of us are lawyers, we know the necessity of cross-examination as one of those fundamental tenets of due process. For this specific section of due process, we want those professors—if they're having charges brought against them where they're just going to be summarily dismissed—to have an opportunity to ask questions of the individual who is bringing those charges. The benefits of cross-examination include, as many of y'all know, the opportunity to show either the weakness in the arguments of the person bringing those charges against the tenured professor or establish, for example, a lack of credibility. Has there been a history of the accuser, you know, whatever evidence there may be? But we want to give these tenured professors, if there is language in here about their due process, one of the core fundamental tenets of due process, and that is the right to cross-examine. The amendment would allow for accountability to call on the persons accusing them and will also provide for a more fair and transparent process.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: I'm going to oppose this amendment on the grounds that the due process apparatus already exists. The purpose of having summary dismissal is to have a shortened process for egregious behavior.

NEAVE CRIADO: The due process exists in here in the language, but it doesn't give them the right to cross-examine, and that's what we're trying to add in.

Amendment No. 8

Representative V. Jones offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) as follows:

- (1) On page 1, line 21, strike "and (c-4)" and substitute "(c-4), and (h)".
- (2) On page 6, between lines 21 and 22, insert the following:

(h) This section may not be implemented in a manner that is inconsistent with or violates the United States Constitution, the Texas Constitution, or federal or state anti-discrimination laws.

AMENDMENT NO. 8 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE V. JONES: This is a simple clarifying amendment that states that this bill will be implemented in a manner that is consistent with the United States Constitution, the Texas Constitution, and federal and state antidiscrimination laws. It's very important to ensure that this bill remains within the boundaries of constitutional legality and alignment with the existing legal frameworks, providing a safeguard against any potential constitutional challenges. It is imperative that we prioritize the recruitment and retention of diverse faculty given the alarmingly disproportionate representation of Black and Latino faculty members in comparison with their white counterparts in Texas institutions. Despite the African American population accounting for 13 percent and the Latino population consisting of 40 percent of the state population, UT Austin, for instance, only has a 4.5 percent full-time faculty rate of those who are African American and a 9.4 percent of those who are Latino. I just would say once again, please vote for this amendment, vote for the Constitution.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: Members, I can assure you that you will be voting for the Constitution and laws without this amendment. I think it's unnecessary because we already have to do all this anyway. I will oppose it.

V. JONES: I said it once, and I'll say it again. Vote with the Constitution, and vote yes for this amendment.

Amendment No. 9

Representative J. Jones offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) as follows:

(1) On page 1, lines 16 and 17, strike "for good cause".
 (2) Strike page 2, line 9, through page 3, line 10, and substitute the following:

(2) allow for the dismissal of a tenured faculty member only for:

(A) good cause, as determined on a case-by-case basis in accordance with Subsection (c-4); or

(B) actual financial exigency or the phasing out of the institution's programs requiring elimination of the faculty member's position; and

(3) Strike page 5, line 7, through page 6, line 17, and substitute the following:

(c-4) The policies and procedures adopted by the governing board regarding good cause for dismissal of a tenured faculty member under Subsection (c-1)(2)(A) must require the institution to provide the faculty member with:

(1) written notice of the allegations against the faculty member;

(2) an opportunity to respond to the allegations in a hearing before the faculty member is dismissed;

(3) appropriate due process during the hearing under Subdivision (2), including at a minimum:

(A) if the faculty member is suspended pending completion of the hearing, the faculty member is suspended with pay;

(B) the right for the faculty member to:

(i) appear at the hearing in person with counsel of the faculty member's choice;

(ii) confront and cross-examine any witnesses who appear at the hearing;

(iii) testify at the hearing, at the faculty member's choice; and

(iv) introduce relevant and material evidence in the faculty member's defense;

(C) requiring the institution to make a stenographic or electronic record of the hearing and make the record available to the faculty member; and

(D) requiring the institution to prove good cause for dismissal by a preponderance of the evidence; and

(4) an appeal of a finding by the institution that good cause exists for the dismissal before the faculty member may be dismissed.

AMENDMENT NO. 9 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE J. JONES: It's my understanding that the bill as currently written, as a part of CSSB 18, is based on Texas A&M's tenure revocation procedure. While it may work at A&M, it may not work for the entire State of Texas. This amendment would replace the system of no good cause termination and replace it with a system in which there is a general good cause provision. This means that good cause shall determine in each case according to the procedures outlined in Subsection (c-4). This amendment incorporates good practices and potential dismissal cases that are centered on the thing that it still lacks—specific provisions on due process.

With this amendment, a faculty member will be ensured to receive a written notice on the allegation with the opportunity to respond. It sets defined minimum procedures for a hearing to include the right to appear in person with counsel, the right to testify, and a record be made available to the accused. Specifically, they will get written notice of the allegations against them, the opportunity to respond to the allegations in a hearing before the faculty member is dismissed, and the appropriate due process during the hearing. If the faculty member is suspended pending completion of the hearing, the faculty member is to be suspended with pay. It also provides for the right for the faculty member to appear at the hearing in person or with counsel at the faculty member's choice. They get to confront and cross-examine any witnesses who appear in the hearing, testify at the hearing—at the faculty member's choice, introduce relevant and material evidence in the faculty member's defense, requires the institution to make a stenographic or electronic record of the hearing and make the record available to the faculty member. It requires the institution to prove good cause for dismissal by a preponderance of the evidence and an appeal of a finding by the institution that good cause exists for the dismissal before the faculty member may be dismissed.

This is a very simple amendment that lays out, with specificity, what good cause is, and it makes sure on a case-by-case basis for reviewing the termination of tenure with a process that has already been proven to work. Members, I hope you will join me in supporting this amendment.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: Ms. Jones, I respectfully oppose. This just changes everything we have entered about cause that we worked so diligently on to establish the process of this bill. It's essentially negating everything we're trying to do. So I will respectfully oppose my friend.

J. JONES: I respectfully believe that it does not negate everything, and I would respectfully ask for you to vote aye on this amendment. Thank you.

Amendment No. 10

Representative Reynolds offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Subchapter Z, Chapter 51, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 51.9421 to read as follows:

Sec. 51.9421. FACULTY EMPLOYMENT REPORT. Each institution of higher education to which Section 51.942 applies annually shall submit to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and publish in a prominent location on the institution's Internet website a report regarding the institution's faculty employment policies. The report must include:

(1) the following information on decisions regarding the granting of tenure made by the institution's governing board for the academic year preceding the date of the report, disaggregated by race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, gender identity, disability status, sexual orientation, and religious affiliation:

(A) the number of faculty members eligible for tenure;

(B) the number of tenured positions offered and accepted;
(C) the number of tenure-track positions offered and accepted; and
(D) the number of contract positions offered and accepted, disaggregated by the type and length of the contract; and

(2) information regarding the criteria for performance evaluations for nontenured faculty members.

SECTION _____. Subchapter C, Chapter 61, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 61.0572 to read as follows:

Sec. 61.0572. FACULTY COMPLAINT FORM. The board shall develop and post in a prominent location on the board's Internet website a form by which a faculty member of an institution of higher education to which Section 51.942 applies may submit to the board a complaint regarding a decision by the institution to terminate the faculty member's employment or take any other adverse employment action against the faculty member based on the institution's tenure policies under that section.

AMENDMENT NO. 10 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE REYNOLDS: This proposed amendment seeks only to provide reporting and oversight measures over the implementation of this bill and how this piece of legislation would have an effect on those professors that would have been eligible for tenure offered by Texas universities. This bill would ban tenure as we currently know it and will have a real effect on current faculty that may have been eligible for tenure. So understanding what kind of impact that has, especially on the different demographics of race, ethnicity, et cetera, is important data to have. Breaking down the demographics of university faculty currently contracted by race, ethnicity, et cetera, will help us understand the current makeup of contracted faculty and understand the impact of CSSB 18 on that makeup. This data is necessary to document the effect of these changes to best inform lawmakers and the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board of the effect of the impacts these practices are having on faculty. With our current understanding of the small percentage of minorities currently employed as faculty in a number of our universities, keeping tabs on this data will further highlight how small a percentage of minorities really does make up in our colleges and universities. In addition, this amendment will indicate a process for claims submissions through the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board in connection with any termination or other adverse employment decision. This procedural addition would simply allow for faculty to have their claims documented. Members, I urge you to vote yes on this amendment.

REPRESENTATIVE GARCIA: Thank you so much for laying that out, Representative Reynolds. Let me clarify this—if I understand correctly, your concern regarding tenure is that it hampers universities' capacity to exert effective oversight and evaluation of their faculty. However, you oppose the inclusion of any provisions that enable faculty and the public to exercise their right to scrutinize and evaluate universities. Do you know what percentage of Texas' population is African American?

REYNOLDS: Yes, 13 percent. Texas has the largest number of African Americans in the nation, but currently 13 percent of the Texas population is African American.

GARCIA: Do you know what percentage of our population is Latino?

REYNOLDS: Absolutely. A whopping 40 percent.

GARCIA: Do you know what percentage of UT Austin's full-time faculty is Black?

REYNOLDS: Unfortunately, it's only 4.5 percent.

GARCIA: Do you know what percentage of UT Austin's full-time faculty is Latino?

REYNOLDS: Less than 10 percent. The number, as I understand it, is 9.4 percent.

GARCIA: Do you know what the average pay gap is between minority professors and white professors at UT Austin?

REYNOLDS: Yes. I did the research. The difference is approximately $25,343 between minority and white professors at UT Austin.

GARCIA: Do you think this bill would lead to improvements in these disparities?

REYNOLDS: I think this bill will make it worse.

GARCIA: Are you at all concerned at the lack of transparency required by the current text of this bill and how it could possibly exacerbate these disparities?

REYNOLDS: That's one of my biggest concerns about this bill. Absolutely.

GARCIA: If tenure is eliminated, how can we assure that faculty will be able to freely express their ideas without fear of retaliation from administrators or political pressure?

REYNOLDS: There are currently no measures in place to address that concern. Basically, this bill is going to stifle that process.

GARCIA: If there are currently no measures in place to address this concern, wouldn't a formal complaint system be fairly innocuous to address this issue?

REYNOLDS: Absolutely.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: This amendment is simply duplicative and burdensome. The coordinating board has no role in faculty complaints. So with that, I will respectfully oppose.

REYNOLDS: Members, protect academic freedom, protect our Texas state professors, and vote for this amendment.

Amendment No. 11

Representative Raymond offered the following amendment to CSSB 18:

Amend CSSB 18 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering the other SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Subchapter Z, Chapter 51, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 51.9422 to read as follows:

Sec. 51.9422. STUDY ON TENURE POLICY IMPLEMENTATION. (a) In this section:

(1) "Coordinating board" means the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

(2) "Institution of higher education" has the meaning assigned by Section 61.003.

(b) The coordinating board shall conduct a study regarding the impact of the implementation of Section 51.942. The study must examine:

(1) the effect the implementation may have on accreditation of institutions of higher education to which Section 51.942 applies by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges;

(2) the effect the implementation may have on federal grants, research funds, and private funding available to institutions of higher education to which Section 51.942 applies; and

(3) the fiscal and other impacts the implementation may have related to faculty member recruitment and relocation, including examining for the period during which the study is conducted:

(A) the number of faculty member departures or transfers to out-of-state institutions of higher education; and

(B) any decline in applications for faculty member positions.

(c) Not later than September 1, 2024, the coordinating board shall publish on the coordinating board's Internet website and submit to the legislature a report on the results of the study and any recommendations for legislative or other action to address the findings of the study.

(d) This section expires September 1, 2025.

SECTION _____. (a) As soon as practicable after the effective date of this Act, the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board shall conduct the study under Section 51.9422, Education Code, as added by this Act.

(b) Section 51.942, Education Code, as amended by this Act, applies beginning with the 2024-2025 academic year.

AMENDMENT NO. 11 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE RAYMOND: Thank you—many of you—for working with me on this commonsense amendment. It's very even. Democrats and republicans, thank you both. What this would do, members—I'm going to read it to you so you'll hear it. I've talked to many of you already, but a year after this has gone into effect—if the bill passes, which I have a sense it probably will—a year later the coordinating board would review the effect the implementation may have had on accreditation of institutions of higher education, which I think will be good to confirm what a lot of you members think, whatever you think. The second thing is it will review the effect implementation may have had on federal grants, research funds, and the fiscal and other impacts implementation may have had related to faculty member recruitment and relocation, as well as the number of faculty member departures or transfers to out of state institutions. Many of you have told me you feel like this will confirm what you think, which is that this bill will have a positive effect. Some of you have told me that you think this will show that the bill wasn't a good idea. So this is about as in the middle as you can get in getting us what we need to know a year after the bill goes into effect.

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: This is a great idea of Mr. Raymond's. That's why UT and A&M already have an exhaustive study on what tenure does. The data is out there and it's all available to us when we need it, so there's no—it's just extra work that we don't need to put them through. With that, I will oppose this amendment.

RAYMOND: Well Mr. Chairman, I know that's not what we talked about a little while ago. With all due respect, you get to oppose or support or say, "Will of the house." I say, "Will of the house." I hope you'll support it. It is as reasonable as you get to confirm what you think this bill will do.

CSSB 18 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Reynolds raised a point of order against further consideration of CSSB 18 under Rule 4, Section 32(c)(5), of the House Rules on the grounds that the comparison section of the bill analysis is substantially or materially misleading.

(C.J. Harris in the chair)

The point of order was withdrawn.

CSSB 18 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE NEAVE CRIADO: In this chamber, many of us are beneficiaries of higher education. I was the first in my family to graduate from college and go to law school. I know many of us are first generation here. We have benefitted from some of the best professors and have had access to the highest level of academic thought and discourse. We would be cutting off our noses to spite our faces to deny Texas students the same privilege. This legislation has the potential to cause irreversible damage to the prestige of our public universities. Losing tenured professors amounts to losing expertise from which our students make their marks. Losing tenured professors contributes to the miseducation of our young people. Losing tenured professors will drain millions of dollars from our schools.

Our state is home to 11 public Tier One research universities—more than any other state in this nation. Under CSSB 18, we are risking that success. We are risking that competitive edge, and we are risking our own prestige. CSSB 18 will force our public research universities into sacrificing millions of dollars and research funds every year. The central question involving this legislation is making tenure less accessible—a years long academic process that secures the brightest minds to train the next generation of young Texans. Tenured faculty are highly prestigious professors. They undergo yearly performance reviews and are under strict academic scrutiny. For many professors, tenure is a lifetime achievement. Tenured professors funnel in millions of dollars to our public universities through research grants like the governor's University Research Initiative whose stated goal is to vault the standings of our public colleges and universities into top ranks. This body has, before today, honored the significance of cutting-edge research in technology, agriculture, and other fields of academic study. On the one hand, this legislature is investing billions of dollars to make our public universities more competitive, but on the other hand, this legislature is threatening academic freedom of our schools of thought.

CSSB 18 would have Texas be the only state in the nation to cut off this academic security. Watering down this vital recruitment tool will hurt our state's ability to lead the nation in groundbreaking research. Public universities are the great Texas equalizer—where Texans from all backgrounds can create and acquire knowledge to develop the next generation of technology here in our state.

(Speaker in the chair)

REPRESENTATIVE M. GONZÁLEZ: Don't you think it's our job as a legislature to make sure that our universities are competitive not only on a national scale but internationally?

NEAVE CRIADO: Absolutely. We want to make sure that we're attracting and recruiting the brightest minds. We want the best professors to come to our great state to teach the next generation of leaders graduating from our universities.

M. GONZÁLEZ: Do you think that it could be very practical if an emerging leader in cancer research, for example, had a choice between coming to a Texas university or going to a university that fully supports tenure that they might actually choose another state—or another university outside of Texas—that fully supports tenure?

NEAVE CRIADO: That's a very real and significant concern. As we know, our Texas economy is also closely tied to the education of our students. We want the best professors here. We don't want to lose them to other states.

M. GONZÁLEZ: I heard a story when we were sitting in committee listening to hours and hours of testimony that part of the problem now is that in order for our universities to even compete with states or institutions outside of Texas that we'll have to pay even more to professors because they'll have a competitive edge if we even want to recruit them to Texas. Does that make sense to you?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes. We want to make sure that we get the brightest professors using tools that are long-standing and give the professors the respect that they deserve.

M. GONZÁLEZ: To wrap up our questioning here, if we really wanted to make sure we are having world-class institutions, recruiting the best and brightest professors, we should oppose this piece of legislation?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes. We don't want to erode our schools of thought. When you think about why universities are there—they're there to make us think outside the box, to learn analytical skills. We want the best professors to come here to our state rather than having universities that are going to just have one way of thinking.

M. GONZÁLEZ: Thank you for your speech.

REPRESENTATIVE REYNOLDS: I have a few questions for you. Did you follow the hearing for this bill in the Higher Education Committee?

NEAVE CRIADO: I watched parts of it. I know it went late into the night, and there were, from my understanding, hundreds of people who were here and coming to register to testify against the legislation.

REYNOLDS: Are you aware of how many people testified in favor of this bill?

NEAVE CRIADO: I don't know the numbers.

REYNOLDS: Would it surprise you if I told you that there was no testimony that was offered in favor of this bill?

NEAVE CRIADO: My understanding was it was overwhelmingly against. The fact that there was nobody testifying in favor, I think that says a lot.

REYNOLDS: Are you aware that of the people who testified—that it was students, professors, faculty, and other stakeholders that waited hours and hours to testify and give their personal experience of why this bill would harm Texans?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes. We want to thank those students, and we want to thank those professors for coming here. Your voices are so essential to helping shape Texas law and policy. I think we see that their voices are so crucial, and we want to ask them to continue to raise their voices on issues of importance to our state.

REYNOLDS: Would you agree with me that this bill, as filed, would disproportionately impact African Americans?

NEAVE CRIADO: I believe so. You had cited some data that I think was very compelling.

REYNOLDS: Wouldn't you agree that it would disproportionately impact Asians and Hispanics and the LGBTQ professors as well?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes.

REYNOLDS: Do you agree with me that educators have a responsibility to provide an education that is historically accurate and inclusive of the experiences of Black and brown people, indigenous communities, women, LGBTQ+ people, and other historically marginalized groups?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes.

REYNOLDS: And are you aware that this bill would permit future public officials in this state—whoever they may be—if they disagreed with the thought processes of these professors, their jobs could be in jeopardy?

NEAVE CRIADO: I think one of the concerns is really the lack of due process. While there are some provisions in the bill giving some due process, when we compare that to—it does not have enough protections in there for tenured faculty. That puts Texas at risk when you compare us now to other states.

REYNOLDS: And couldn't this bill, if passed, lead to educators suffering retaliation or punishment for teaching an accurate curriculum that is reflective of nuanced, diverse perspectives? If this bill becomes law, these professors could potentially lose their positions?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes.

REYNOLDS: Would you agree with me that CSSB 18 is an attack on truth and educators' First Amendment rights by making their scholarship vulnerable to the preferences of politicians rather than the subject of the scrutiny of their academic endeavors and research?

NEAVE CRIADO: Yes.

REPRESENTATIVE ROSENTHAL: So do you know—you're probably not aware of this. My family came to Texas because of the tenure program at The University of Texas. You probably didn't know that, right?

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: No, sir.

ROSENTHAL: Yes, my father was actually doing groundbreaking work in an area of mathematics called functional analysis, and he was defining a new area of study called Banach space theory. The reason that this is important is because he was considered top-tier talent. We were in Urbana-Champaign at the University of Illinois, which is also like a top-five technical school in this country. The University of Texas was engaged in a recruiting program. So do you know that tenure has been used by The University of Texas, Texas A&M, and all of our public colleges and universities to attract strong talent here?

KUEMPEL: Yes, sir.

ROSENTHAL: Okay, very good. So in 1979, The University of Texas offered my father a tenure position to come here. It was part of an effort to bring The University of Texas into a top-tier—top ten—status in all of the major areas. Were you aware that before about 1960, a lot of our public colleges and universities in this state did not have a strong reputation? Are you aware of that?

KUEMPEL: No, sir. I wasn't aware of that.

ROSENTHAL: So through a heavy recruiting effort, using tenure as one of the major tools, a bunch of colleges and universities—our public colleges and universities—attained top ten status. Did you know that?

KUEMPEL: No, sir.

ROSENTHAL: Then are you aware that some of our public colleges and universities are very strongly regarded right now? The University of Texas, Texas A&M—we have the University of Houston. We have a number of very good schools that attract talent from all over the world.

KUEMPEL: I'd agree with you, Mr. Rosenthal. Yes, sir.

ROSENTHAL: So would you agree with me that there is a major economic benefit to having strong colleges and universities in the state?

KUEMPEL: I would agree with you.

ROSENTHAL: Okay, good. So given that effort occurred over decades—so my father was part of it, like I was just saying. During the '70s and '80s, these schools were engaged in a very intentional effort to elevate their status. And right now we have a number of top-tier ranked schools in the state, do we not?

KUEMPEL: Yes, we do.

ROSENTHAL: What do you think is going to happen if we weaken that program?

KUEMPEL: I don't believe we are weakening the program with tenure. We're just giving those institutions a basic framework, like I said, that will give them a sense of what we expect from the legislature and give them the ability to make some of the policies with the faculty included. It won't weaken it in my opinion.

ROSENTHAL: Can you, very briefly, describe how this is going to change the process of offering tenure to professors?

KUEMPEL: It's not going to change much of what they're doing right now. The process from the bottom up, through peer reviews, but ultimately the governing boards are the ones that will grant tenure just like they do today, from my understanding.

ROSENTHAL: I thought the process currently is for the individual departments to select professors.

KUEMPEL: Ultimately, that's the governing board's decision, but—

ROSENTHAL: So not the individual academic departments anymore?

KUEMPEL: —the departments and faculty will be involved in that process.

ROSENTHAL: Because you're aware one of the criticisms of this bill is that it will make the process more difficult, and it will be offered to fewer?

KUEMPEL: I don't believe it will, Mr. Rosenthal.

ROSENTHAL: I'm sorry, on that we're probably going to just disagree. But if it were to hamper our recruiting efforts that have taken decades to build up the reputations of our Texas public colleges and universities, if we damage that, would you imagine it could take decades to restore it?

KUEMPEL: Again, I'll just say we're giving them the framework that I don't think will damage it. We'll just give certainty to the faculty of what's expected of them and their performance.

ROSENTHAL: Well, I respectfully disagree, but I'll give you time to close. Thanks for answering my questions.

REPRESENTATIVE ROGERS: Two quick questions. Chairman, are you aware that in a former career I was a tenured associate professor?

KUEMPEL: No, sir. I was not aware of that.

ROGERS: Are you aware that I probably have more experience in the tenure and tenure process than probably most people in this body?

KUEMPEL: With that I would agree with you. I would say yes, sir.

ROGERS: It's a great bill.

SECTION 3. Section 478.0051, Government Code, is amended by adding Subsection (c) to read as follows:

(c) Notwithstanding Subsection (b), an event described by Section 478.0001(3)(GG) may receive funding through the program if a portion of the event is held at one or more sites located in another state or country.

SECTION 4. Section 478.0052, Government Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 478.0052. SINGLE EVENT CLASSIFICATION FOR ELIGIBILITY PURPOSES. For purposes of Section 478.0051:

(1) [7] each presidential general election debate in a series of presidential debates before a general election is considered a separate, single event; and

(2) each series of games for the World Cup soccer tournament held in a market area designated for that series is considered a separate, single event.

SECTION 5. Subchapter B, Chapter 478, Government Code, is amended by adding Section 478.00525 to read as follows:

Sec. 478.00525. SINGLE YEAR CLASSIFICATION FOR ELIGIBILITY PURPOSES FOR CERTAIN SPORTING EVENTS. For purposes of Sections 478.0051(b)(1) and (3), a sporting event listed in Section 478.0001(3) is considered to be held one time in each year if the event is held only one time in any annual season for that sport.

SECTION 6. Section 478.0053, Government Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 478.0053. EXEMPTION FROM CERTAIN ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENT FOR CERTAIN LARGE VENUES. Section 478.0051(b)(1) does not apply to an event described by Section 478.0001(3)(N) [~~478.0001(3)(H)~~]. If an endorsing municipality or endorsing county requests the office to make a determination under Section 478.0102 for an event described by Section 478.0001(3)(N) [~~478.0001(3)(H)~~], the remaining provisions of this chapter apply to that event as if the event satisfied the eligibility requirements under Section 478.0051(b)(1).

SECTION 7. Subchapter B, Chapter 480, Government Code, is amended by adding Section 480.00515 to read as follows:

Sec. 480.00515. SINGLE YEAR CLASSIFICATION FOR ELIGIBILITY PURPOSES FOR CERTAIN SPORTING EVENTS. For purposes of Sections 480.0051(1) and (3), a sporting event is considered to be held one time in each year if the event is held only one time in any annual season for that sport.

SECTION 8. To the extent of any conflict, this Act prevails over another Act of the 88th Legislature, Regular Session, 2023, relating to nonsubstantive additions to and corrections in enacted codes.

SECTION 9. This Act takes effect September 1, 2023.

SB 1699 ON SECOND READING (Hunter - House Sponsor)

SB 1699, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the participation of aggregated distributed energy resources in the ERCOT market.

Amendment No. 1

Representatives Turner, Anchia, Spiller, and Zwiener offered the following amendment to SB 1699:

Amend SB 1699 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Section 39.101(b), Utilities Code, is amended to read as follows:

(b) A customer is entitled:

(1) to be informed about rights and opportunities in the transition to a competitive electric industry;

(2) to choose the customer's retail electric provider consistent with this chapter, to have that choice honored, and to assume that the customer's chosen provider will not be changed without the customer's informed consent;

(3) to have access to providers of energy efficiency services, to on-site distributed generation, and to providers of energy generated by renewable energy resources;

(4) to be served by a provider of last resort that offers a commission-approved standard service package;

(5) to receive sufficient information to make an informed choice of service provider;

(6) to be protected from unfair, misleading, or deceptive practices, including protection from being billed for services that were not authorized or provided; ~~and~~

(7) to have an impartial and prompt resolution of disputes with its chosen retail electric provider and transmission and distribution utility;

(8) to participation in demand response programs through retail electric providers that offer demand response programs; and

(9) to receive notice from the retail electric provider that serves the customer when the independent organization certified under Section 39.151 for the ERCOT power region issues an emergency energy alert.

SECTION _____. Subchapter Z, Chapter 39, Utilities Code, is amended by adding Section 39.919 to read as follows:

Sec. 39.919. AVERAGE TOTAL RESIDENTIAL LOAD REDUCTION GOALS. (a) The commission by rule shall establish goals in the ERCOT power region to reduce the average total residential load.

(b) The rules adopted under Subsection (a) must provide for the adoption of a program that:

(1) provides demand response participation to residential customers where reasonably available;

(2) promotes the use of smart metering technology;

(3) is capable of responding to an emergency energy alert about low operating reserves issued by the independent organization certified under Section 39.151 for the ERCOT power region;

(4) provides opportunities for demand response providers to contract with retail electric providers to provide demand response services;

(5) ensures the program does not impact the critical needs of vulnerable populations;

(6) facilitates the widespread deployment of smart responsive appliances and devices in a manner that enables the customer's appliance or device to be enrolled as part of a demand response product or plan offered by a retail electric provider;

(7) establishes the method by which the components of the ratio described by Subsection (c) are calculated for purposes of determining whether the goals described by Subsection (a) have been achieved;

(8) provides for achievement of demand reductions within both summer and winter seasons; and

(9) allows a retail electric provider that offers a demand response program under this section to obtain funding for the demand response program through an energy efficiency incentive program established under Section 39.905 if the program complies with commission requirements adopted under Section 39.905.

(c) The goals described by Subsection (a) must be calculated as a ratio by dividing the amount of load reduced at peak demand by the total amount of demand, at the same time, of all residential customers who have responsive appliances or devices at their premises that reduce the electric consumption of the customers.

(d) A transmission and distribution utility required to provide an energy efficiency incentive program under Section 39.905 may use up to 10 percent of the budgeted spending for those programs on demand response programs described by Subsection (b)(9).

SECTION _____. The Public Utility Commission of Texas shall adopt rules as necessary for the adoption of a program to begin facilitating the widespread deployment of appliances and devices capable of being part of a demand response product or plan offered by a retail electric provider, as provided by Section 39.919(b)(6), Utilities Code, as added by this Act, before December 31, 2024.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

SB 1699, as amended, was passed to third reading.

CSSB 25, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to support for nursing-related postsecondary education, including scholarships to nursing students, loan repayment assistance to nurses and nursing faculty, and grants to nursing education programs.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Klick offered the following amendment to CSSB 25:

Amend CSSB 25 (house committee report) as follows:

(1) On page 1, strike lines 9 through 17 and substitute the following:

(1) "Professional nursing student" means a student enrolled in ~~an institution of higher education or a private or independent institution of higher education in~~ a course of study leading to an initial or an advanced degree in professional nursing at:

(A) an institution of higher education;

(B) a private or independent institution of higher education; or

(C) a nonprofit, tax-exempt, regionally accredited college or university operating in accordance with a memorandum of understanding with this state under an executive order issued by the governor.

(2) On page 2, strike lines 13 through 15 and substitute the following:

(A) an institution of higher education;

(B) a private or independent institution of higher education; or

(C) a nonprofit college or university described by Section

61.651(1)(C); and

(3) On page 4, line 1, strike "Section 61.651(1)(B)" and substitute "Section 61.651(1)(C)".

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

CSSB 25 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE HOWARD: CSSB 25 creates a scholarship and student loan repayment assistance program for nurses, correct?

REPRESENTATIVE KLICK: Correct.

HOWARD: And certain health care settings, like nursing homes, are experiencing greater nurse shortages than others. Will the loan repayment assistance program prioritize applicants working in these types of settings?

KLICK: Yes, Representative Howard. That is the intent the Higher Education Coordinating Board should prioritize. Whether a person is practicing in a geographical area, a practice setting, or an area practice with an acute nursing shortage—or is likely to practice in such an area as describes in Section 61.655.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Howard moved to print remarks between Representative Klick and Representative Howard on CSSB 25.

The motion prevailed.

CSSB 25, as amended, was passed to third reading.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Price offered the following amendment to CSSB 26:

Amend CSSB 26 (house committee report) by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Section 8.151, Education Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8.151. DEFINITIONS. In this subchapter:

(1) "Executive commissioner" means the executive commissioner of the Health and Human Services Commission.

(2) "Local[~~,"local~~] mental health authority" and "non-physician mental health professional" have the meanings assigned by Section 571.003, Health and Safety Code.

SECTION _____. Section 8.152, Education Code, is amended by adding Subsections (c) and (d) to read as follows:

(c) If a local mental health authority is unable to employ a professional who qualifies as a non-physician mental health professional, the authority may request a waiver from the executive commissioner for approval to employ, for purposes of performing the functions and duties of a non-physician mental health professional under this subchapter, a person who:

(1) is a licensed master social worker, as defined by Section 505.002, Occupations Code; or

(2) has been issued a licensed professional counselor associate license by the Texas State Board of Examiners of Professional Counselors.

(d) A person approved under a waiver under Subsection (c) shall carry out the functions and duties required of a non-physician mental health professional under this subchapter in the same manner as a non-physician mental health professional employed under Subsection (a) or (b).

SECTION _____. Not later than November 1, 2024, the executive commissioner of the Health and Human Services Commission shall by rule establish the process for requesting a waiver under Section 8.152(c), Education Code, as added by this Act.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.
